

Marine Corps Cutbacks Protested by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted yesterday to tie up Navy funds unless the Marine Corps strength is restored to 200,000.

The unanimous voice vote followed a similar vote Wednesday to compel a reversal of Army manpower cuts.

$5 Million Asked For Kinzua Dam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania witnesses urged a House appropriations subcommittee yesterday to disregard current litigation over a flood control dam at Kinzua, Pa., and approve funds to begin construction immediately.

Supporters of the $113 million Allegheny River dam and reservoir predicted the legal opposition to the project will be overcome this year.

Rep. Leon H. Gavin (R-Pa.) and Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania asked for $5 million appropriation to continue construction of the dam. Mayor Thomas J. Gallagher of Pittsburgh urged "a minimum of $2 million . . . so that we can make up the precious time that has already been lost."

The Seneca Indians of western New York State have appealed to the Supreme Court to halt construction of the dam, whose reservoir would extend over the Pennsylvania-New York line and inundate part of their reservation.

Rep. William S. Moorhead (D-Pa.) predicted that the Senecas' legal fight will be lost before the end of June, and urged the subcommittee to go ahead and approve money for the project.

Lawrence noted that $2 million has been appropriated for construction, but that the bulk of the money cannot be used until the Senecas' suit is settled.

Truman Says U.S. Missed Chances

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said yesterday the United States has missed precious opportunities to combat communism.

He complained it is producing only half-measures to win the economic cold war.

Truman said that the end of the Korean fighting in 1953 gave this country its opportunity to put major emphasis on helping the development of new, uncommitted, and underdeveloped countries.

The speech was prepared for a dinner featuring the presentation to him of a citation celebrating the proposal in his 1949 inaugural address for a "bold new program of technical assistance and capital investment in nations needing development." It was called the Point Four program after a section of the 1949 inaugural speech.

Hebert's 67 Takes Lead In Colonial Invitational

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Stocky Lionel Hebert finished late with the least yesterday to take the first round lead in the $27,300 Colonial National Invitational. His 3-under-par 67 gave him a 1-stroke bulge.

Hebert, 31-year-old former National PGA champion—The last of the match play champions—came into 18 with a chance to go 4-under par. But the Lafayette, La., professional missed a 6-foot putt by inches.

Dillon Gets No. 2 Spot In State Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP)—C. Douglas Dillon, New York investment banker, was nominated by President Eisenhower Thursday to be the No. 2 man in the State Department.

The White House also announced that legislation will be sought: 1. authorizing Dillon to continue to handle the international economic matters which heretofore have been his particular field and, 2. clearing the way for Robert Murphy to be the No. 3 department officer as undersecretary of political affairs.

The changes arise from Christian A. Herter's stepping up from undersecretary of state to secretary as successor to cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles.

Dillon moves into Herter's old spot. He has had the title of undersecretary for economic affairs.

The plan is for Murphy, who is now deputy undersecretary for political affairs, to be given the title of undersecretary for political affairs.

Full Run Made Through St. Lawrence Seaway

CHICAGO (AP)—Booming aerial bombs and blasting whistles yesterday saluted the new deep-draft water link between middle America and the world's sea lanes.

The Prins Johan Willem Friso, a Dutch freighter, was the first vessel to make the full run through the new St. Lawrence Seaway and Great Lakes to Chicago.

"With actual and potential crises being created by the Kremlin in Berlin, the Middle East and the Far East," Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) told the Senate, "this is no time for our nation to weaken its defenses."

Mansfield, an ex-Marine, was author of the amendment designed to halt the planned reduction in Marine strength to 175,000 by June 30.

Sen. Russell R. Long (D-La.) offered the rider to tie up Army operating funds unless the planned reduction in that force from 900,000 to 870,000, also by June 30, is halted and reversed.

Both amendments were added to a $2.85 billion appropriation bill to finance a number of government agencies for the rest of the fiscal year that ends June 30.

The Army-Marine manpower cuts were ordered by civilian defense officials despite congressional action last year in voting additional funds to keep them up to strength.

The issue is headed now for a Senate-House conference.

Democrats Unable to Break Ike's Six Year Veto Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—By four votes, House Democrats failed yesterday in an all-out bid to break President Eisenhower's 6-year record of never having a veto overridden by Congress.

Eisenhower promptly voiced deep gratification for the 280-146 vote by which the House sustained his veto of a bill that would have taken from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson the power to pass on rural electrification and telephone loans. Benson said he was pleased, too.

With an exceptionally heavy total of 426 votes, the Democrats needed 284 votes to pass the bill over Eisenhower's veto. But they fell four votes short of the two-thirds majority required. Two days ago, the Senate voted to override, 64-29.

In all, 274 Democrats and 6 Republicans voted to overturn the veto, while the Republicans mustered 142 of their own votes and 4 Democrats in support of the President. There was no debate.

Since Eisenhower entered the White House in 1953, he has rejected 138 bills, including the rural electrification measure—and all 138 vetoes have stuck.

Democrats, with their heaviest Senate and House majorities in years, decided the rural electrification bill provided a vehicle to break that string.

Panama Halts Attack On Cuban Invaders

PANAMA (AP)—National Guardsmen were ordered to move up to the town of Nombre de Dios yesterday for the first full-scale attack on a band of Cuban-based invaders holed up inside. But they were called back to let a team of neutral observers get in first.

A spokesman for President Ernesto de la Guardia's government announced the move from Panama City. But he did not know whether the order to hold their fire had reached the guards in time.

Nombre de Dios, an isolated town on the Caribbean coast only 20 miles from the Panama Canal, was seized by the rebel mercenaries after they landed from Cuba on Sunday and marched 35 miles up the coast.

The band now numbers 89 men and is reported armed with automatic weapons.

Between 200 and 300 troops from Panama's 3000-man National Guard deployed around the town Tuesday.

But they had held their fire awaiting the outcome of the international mediation and the arrival of military aid from sister American republics.

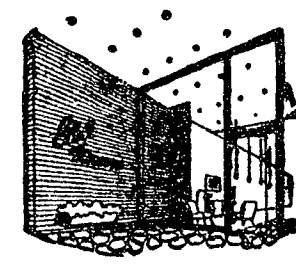

Diplomatic peacemaking efforts are being directed by a team of five ambassadors from the Washington headquarters of the Organization of American States.
