

WSGA Will Form Summer Government

Applications are now available in the Dean of Women's office for the Women's Student Government Association summer board.

Three members will be appointed to the board—a judicial chairman, a Women's Recreation Association chairman and an orientation chairman.

The judicial chairman will head judicial, which will try violations of women's rules during the summer. Other members of judicial will not sit on the board.

The WRA chairman will coordinate women's recreational activities. The orientation chairman has charge of informing women not regularly students at the University about WSGA rules.

Jessie Jangigian, WSGA president, said more than one person could be appointed to the WRA or orientation posts.

She said it is preferred that women stay on campus for all 12 weeks of the summer sessions, but that this is not absolutely necessary.

Screening will be held Saturday afternoon, May 16. Applicants will be notified as to the time and place of their interview.

Applications for WSGA elections committee are also now available in the Dean of Women's office. Applicants will also be screened May 16.

WSGA Senate decided to grant unlimited 11 o'clock permissions to those freshman women who had unlimited 10 o'clock permissions because their semester averages are 3.5 or above.

AIM Will Hold Dance in HUB Saturday Night

The Association of Independent Men Board of Governors will sponsor an AIM Orange Blossom Dance to be held from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

Admission to the dance is free but only couples will be permitted, according to Douglas Pollak, AIM social chairman. The dance will be informal with music provided by the Phi Mu Alpha Band.

When original plans for the dance were made Pollak had not received permission from the executive council to spend the $150 necessary for the dance, Frank Pearson, AIM vice president, said.

However, the Board of Governors voted at its meeting last week to hold the dance. AIM President Harald Sandstrom explained that the association had made a profit on their two previous dances this year, the Autumn Ball and the Homecoming Dance, and this money would be used to finance Saturday's dance.

The extra money should be used to benefit independent men and women, Sandstrom said.

LA Council Plans Booth To Aid Frosh

The Liberal Arts Student Council will sponsor an information booth during the Fall Orientation Week.

The booth will be placed in the lobby outside 121 Sparks and will be open from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Aides in the booth will have copies of all orientation material and lists of all freshmen in Liberal Arts and their advisers. They will also aid the new students in finding their way around the campus.

The council also approved the Liberal Arts orientation schedule for next year. As in past years, freshmen will receive counseling in groups divided according to their majors and will attend a general meeting of all freshmen in Liberal Arts.

Tickets will be issued for the Orientation Week dance and faculty department heads will receive special invitations to the affair.

The council also decided to support the Liberal Arts nominee in the Professor Snarf contest. The contest will be conducted in connection with the World University Service drive May 10 to 17.

Recognition keys were presented to the old council members at the end of the meeting.

Inmate Escapes From Rockview

A prisoner from Rockview State Penitentiary escaped about 1:30 p.m. yesterday from Orchard Road near Spring Creek where he was working with some other prisoners.

The prisoner was described by Rockview State Police as John Furdella, white, 5-feet 6 1/4-inches tall, 141 pounds, 38 years old, brown eyes and hair, medium-stout build, medium-dark complexion and wearing brown prison clothes.

Campus Patrol Chief Lucien E. Bolduc issued a warning to students who park in the general areas of the dairy barns. These barns offer escaped prisoners shelter, he said, and provide good hideouts for them.

Julius, Darran, Byers Back Idea Behind SCCA

The basic idea behind the proposed Student Check Cashing Agency was endorsed last night by SGA President Leonard Julius and by the majority and minority party floor leaders, Walter Darran (Campus-Jr.) and Howard Byers, (University-Sr.).

The bill to establish the SCCA is sponsored by the Freshman Advisory Board. It will be presented to the SGA Assembly for approval at 7:30 tonight in 213 Hetzel Union Building by Marcus Katzen, freshman in business administration from Sykesville. He will ask the Assembly to loan his committee $4000 to get the agency started.

Julius said he felt the plan was good but that some modifications should be made.

Darran and Byers also backed the plan, but Darran said he is still "leery" about the wording in some places.

He said that Katzen will explain some of the ideas at a Campus party caucus at 7 tonight.

Byers said University Party does not plan to caucus before the Assembly meets.

Appointments for parliamentarian, administrative advisor to the vice president and Public Relations committee chairman will also be made at the Assembly meeting.

Jay Feldstein, former All-University president, will award 18 Penn State Student Scholarships of $150 each.

Seven students also will be elected to the Rules Committee and one to the office of president pro tempore. Nominations were opened last week and will be open again at tonight's meeting.
