West May Compromise With Reds on Accesses

BONN, Germany (AP)—Diplomatic informants said yesterday the West is prepared to make a deal with the Soviet Union that would permit East Germans to man the checkpoints on overland routes between West Germany and isolated West Berlin.

But the Westerners are ready to push their way into

Sigma Chi Will Lose Privileges

The Senate Committee on Group Discipline yesterday accepted the recommendation of the Interfraternity Council Board of Control to withdraw social privileges for Sigma Chi fraternity until Oct. 1.

The board found Sigma Chi guilty of having a woman in the house after 1 a.m. last Sunday.

The penalty is effective after this weekend. The board felt that since many parents of men in the house had probably made arrangements to come up for Mother's Day, it would be best to start the penalty after the weekend.

After Oct. 1, Sigma Chi will be on social probation. This means that they will be under unusually strict surveillance by Board of Control checkers.

In its meeting last Wednesday night, the board also fined Chi Phi fraternity $50 for having an illegal pledge, but this was not subject to review by the committee. The fine is payable May 23, the last class day of the semester.

In addition to fining Chi Phi, rushing privileges were removed for one year for Andrew Kasarda, freshman in aeronautical engineering from Phoenixville.

Kasarda told the fraternity he had a 2.45 average, but it was later learned that he only had a 1.7.

Indie Banquet Tickets Available Until Monday

The deadline for picking up tickets for the Association of Independent Men-Leonides banquet, to be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Eutaw House, has been extended until 5 p.m. Monday.

The tickets are available at the Hetzel Union desk for $1.50 for members and $3.00 for guests.

300 Ballots Received In Class Gift Voting

Only about 300 graduating seniors have voted for their class gift choice, according to John Bott, Senior Week chairman.

Bott yesterday urged the others of the more than 2000-member class to mail gift choice postcards as soon as possible.

Approximately 50 seniors have mailed in contributions to the gift fund and/or memberships in the Alumni Association.

The twin-objective Senior Week drive for contributions and memberships will be kicked off officially at a class agents' meeting at 7:45 p.m. Monday in the Hotel State College banquet room.

The agents, who will make personal visits for the campaign, will receive instructions at the meeting from officials of the Senior Class, the Alumni Association and the Alumni Fund.

Ross B. Lehman, assistant executive secretary of the Alumni Association, has stressed the importance of all class agents attending the meeting. It will not last more than one hour, he said.

Berlin either on the ground or in the air if the Soviets reject the deal, these informants said.

The question of access routes to Berlin is at the heart of the Soviet challenge which motivated the East-West foreign ministers conference opening in Geneva Monday.

The Western package plan to be presented at Geneva, deals with Berlin, German reunification, and a military security zone in Europe. The Soviets have implied they will not act alone to revise the status of Berlin unless the Geneva talks fail.

Last fall, the Soviet Union threatened to give up its occupation controls in Communist East Germany and turn over to that satellite control of the routes used by the United States, Britain and France to supply their 12,000 troops in West Berlin.

The Western powers have said they will not accept the substitution of the East Germans for the Soviet Union.

This looks like an impasse, but qualified diplomatic sources explained the West will accept East Germany border inspectors, not in their own right but, as agents of the Soviet Union provided either the Soviets designate the East German personnel as their agents, or the Soviets do not quit the wartime occupation agreements.

The Bonn sources expressed hope the Soviets might be willing to compromise by hanging on to token occupation rights in East Berlin.

Under such a compromise, the sources said, the British, French and Americans would accept East Germans at the checkpoints but with the understanding that disputes would be carried to the Soviet Union.

Encampment Applications Available at HUB Desk

Applications for Student Encampment interviews will be available until 5 p.m. Monday at the Hetzel Union desk.

Interviews will be conducted by the Cabinet Personnel Interviewing Committee for the eighth annual Encampment to be held Sept. 9, 10 and 11 at Mont Alto.

Parents May Select Weekend Events

By JANET DURSTINE

Mothers and fathers will crowd the campus this weekend for the annual Mother's Day celebrations.

Besides May Day ceremonies this afternoon, breakfasts, sports events, a drill team competition and a concert have been planned for the weekend. Parents will also have the opportunity to see one of two Penn State Players' productions, "The Boy Friend" at Schwab

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES on the new Hammond Engineering Building as the workers pour the concrete base. Good weather during the last week aided construction.

Old Main Will Be Site of May Pageant

The normally calm front lawn of Old Main will be filled with coeds this afternoon participating in May Day festivities.

The ceremony will begin at 3:30 p.m. In case of rain, it will be held in Recreation Hall.

Eleanor Judy, senior in home economics from Cochranville, will be crowned Queen of the May. Maxine Miller, freshman in education from Sayre, will be her maid of honor.

Miss Judy will be crowned by Ellen Donovan, former president of the Women's Student Government Association, which sponsors May Day.

The queen, maid of honor and her court were elected by coeds at the time of elections for WSGA officers.

The court includes: Barbara Maley and Mary Martin, freshman attendants; Virginia Dunkerton and Elizabeth Sechler, sophomore attendants; Suzanne Keener and Rita Salzer, junior attendants; Miss Donovan; Judith McFarland, former Women's Recreation Association president; and Elizabeth Floegel, University Christian Association representative.

The queen, maid of honor and court will walk through an honor arch composed of 20 senior women and an evergreen chain composed of 34 senior women. These women were chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship and service to the University.

The Neu Bayrischer Schupplattler, a folk dance society, will do the dance around the maypole. Alpha Gamma Delta sorority will sing "Wishes." Acacia fraternity will sing "Aurora Lee" and the Pi Beta Phi and Acacia quartets will give the queen's serenade.

Sandra Green and Carol McCartney will be the jesters. The WRA Modern Dance Club will present a dance.

Auditorium or "Iphigenia at Aulis" at Center Stage.

Coeds who hope to avoid the dinner line in the dining halls this weekend by having their parents take them out to eat may run into a slight obstacle—hundreds of other coeds with the same idea.

If last year's crowds are any indication of what this year's crowds will be like, customers will be waiting far out into the street for tables in downtown restaurants.

Coed's fathers will have an opportunity tomorrow to see their daughters' residence hall rooms. Male guests will be allowed in women's rooms at designated times in each residence hall.

A Leonides breakfast will be held from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in Simmons lounge. All independent women, their parents and guests may attend. Sorority breakfasts will be held from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. in sorority suites.

Teas will be held tomorrow afternoon in Cooper, Cross, Hoyt, Lyons and Stephens Halls and in all freshman women's residence halls. The Newman Club will hold Tonight is expected to be clear and chilly with a low of 48 degrees.

A continuation of the sunny skies is due tomorrow with temperatures climbing to a pleasantly warm 80 degrees during the afternoon.

a tea from 2 to 5 p.m. in the small lounge of the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

The Penn State Glee Club will present its annual Mother's Day concert at 3 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab. Admission to the concert is free.

The program will include selections by the Varsity Quartette, tenor soloists and the HiLos, a novelty group. The entire Glee Club consists of 59 voices.

A tri-service drill meet will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow on Beaver Field. The Air Force ROTC drill team, the Navy ROTC drill team, (Continued on page three)

Approval Delayed On Party Debt Plan

The University Senate Thursday sent back to committee a proposal that would make political party chairmen personally responsible for their party's debts.

If approved, the addition to the Regulations for Undergraduate Students could result in the party chairman's proposed another addition to the regulations. The Senate revised rule Y-8 to read:

"The direct supervision of the operation of WDFM and of each major student publication shall be vested in a board of directors to be composed of responsible student and faculty members. The method of selection of this board shall be specified in the charter which authorizes its formation."

The committee also said in its report that it will propose at the Senate's June meeting that the defunct Board of Student Publications be officially written out of existence.

Other senators objected because it might put the blame on the wrong person and the fact that there were no records available showing exactly which students were in each party. The Student Affairs Committee
