

—Collegian Photo by Charles Jacques
THE TOTEM POLE entrance of the recreational camp site attracted the attention of Robert Edwards (left) and David Swavely. The recreation education area was used to illustrate camp construction.

Senate OK's Dismissal Of Students

The Senate Subcommittee on Discipline yesterday upheld the recommendations of Tribunal concerning four students tried earlier this week.

Two students were dismissed from the University indefinitely effective at the end of the semester, another received suspension until the spring semester, 1960 and the fourth, a senior will have his diploma withheld until at least January, 1960.

The two students were dismissed because they violated the disciplinary probation they were already on. They had appeared before Tribunal last November on the charge of holding a drunken party and causing a disturbance in their downtown room.

At that time they were placed on probation and ordered to move. Twice more they were ordered to move and they finally did on April 29.

The senior was charged with stealing pizza from a Home Delivery truck. The sub-committee upheld the Tribunal recommendation and ruled he will not receive his diploma. He may petition the sub-committee for his diploma at the end of the fall semester.

The discipline committee will then decide whether or not to grant the diploma.

Suspension, with automatic re-admission for the spring semester of 1960, was ordered for the other student charged with stealing pizza.

SGA Awards 17 Scholarships

Jay Feldstein, former All-University President, presented Penn State Student Scholarships of $150 each to 13 students at the Student Government Association Assembly Thursday.

Four other students have been selected for the awards but were not present for the presentations.

In other action Assembly appointed Wells Hunt, junior in arts and letters from Skipjack as SGA Parliamentarian and Carl Smith, junior in psychology from Scranton, as administrative advisor to the SGA vice president.

Jacqueline Leavitt, sophomore in arts and letters from Bellrose, N.Y., was appointed public relations committee chairman.

Student scholarships winners were Carol Blakeslee, sophomore in journalism from Syracuse, Ruth Braund, junior in education from Sayre; Lianne Cordero, senior in arts and letters, from Wayne; Donald Claggett, sophomore in chemistry from State College; Anne Gardner, junior in pre-veterinary from Egypt, Mass.;

Richard Gibboney, junior in education from Belleville; Joan Kemp, sophomore in arts and letters from Glen Ridge, N.J.; David Kiser, sophomore in civil engineering from Verona; Martin Leshner, junior in psychology from Philadelphia;

Catherine McGovern, junior in arts and letters from Philadelphia; George McTurk, junior in labor-management relations from Pittsburgh; Richard Stevko, sophomore in pre-medicine from Palmerton; John R. Williams, junior in chemical engineering from West Chester. The names of four others were unannounced.

SGA President Leonard Julius told the assembly that the Executive Committee had recommended April 28 to May 4 for next year's Spring Week. The date must be approved by the Senate Committee on Student Affairs.

The Assembly also heard an announcement on the World University Service drive from Jacob Dentu, senior in electrical engineering from Larteh, Ghana, North Africa.

$200 Grant Received For Harvest Equipment

A grant of $200 has been presented to the University by the American Cyanamid Company to help support the program for developing harvesting equipment for high yielding forage.

Dr. H. B. Sprague, head of the department of agronomy, is the director of the program which is conducted at the Nitrogen Demonstration Farm near Butler.

Prof Snarf Nominations Announced

Finalists for Professor Snarf, the "most lovable prof" on campus, have been announced by Joyce Basch and Floyd Greer, co-chairmen of the contest.

Nominations were made in each of the ten colleges Tuesday through Friday. Students could nominate only professors on the faculty of the college in which they were enrolled.

Professors receiving the nomination are: Agriculture, Anthony Richer; Education, David Russell; Engineering, Irving Michaelson; Chemistry-Physics, J. Harris Olewne; Business Administration, Ralph Wherry; Home Economics, Mrs. Aurelia Adams; Mineral Industries, Floyd Hummell; Physical Education for Women, Della Durant; Physical Education for Men, Charles Speidel. The final nomination for Liberal Arts has not yet been submitted.

Voting for Professor Snarf will take place Tuesday through Friday. Ballot boxes will be located on the Mall and in the Hetzel Union Building. One vote will cost a penny, 11 votes a dime, and 150 votes a dollar.

Proceeds from the contest will go to the World University Service, which aids students in foreign countries.

Prizes for the contest, donated by town merchants, are first place, dinner for two at The Tavern and tickets for the Cathaum Theatre; second place, tickets for the Cathaum; third place, a gift from Graham's. Photographs have been donated by the Penn State Photo Shop.

Indie Encampment Forms

Applications for the second annual Indie Encampment are now available at the Hetzel Union desk and 102 Waring.

The encampment will be held Saturday, Sept. 19. Any independent student can apply.

250 Leaders Attend RecEd Conference

By JIM MORAN

Approximately 250 recreation leaders from all over the state wound up a 3-day period of conferences, lectures and exhibits yesterday as the 12th annual Pennsylvania Recreation Conference came to a close.

The most important result of the conference, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Recreation Society, was the approval of a plan to certify recreation education graduates planning to work in the field of school recreation.

Brundage Talk Set for Monday

Percival F. Brundage, former director of the Federal Bureau of the Budget, will lecture on campus under the sponsorship of the Department of Political Science.

He will speak at 3:15 p.m. Monday in the Hetzel Union assembly room.

Brundage, who directed the budget bureau from 1956 to 1958, will speak on the subject, "Sound Budgeting." All of his talks are related to the problem of federal spending.

The final talk in the series will be given Tuesday at the Economics Faculty Seminar. It will be co-sponsored by the Department of Economics.

In the first talk last Thursday, Brundage spoke on the budget process and fiscal accounting controls; the second will be an analysis of different programs and problems in such areas as agriculture, defense, veterans, etc.; the third will deal with stress recommendations for improving administrative and congressional procedures.

Included in the conference were exhibits, discussions, workshops and lectures. One of the main discussion topics, Coombs said, was land acquisition for recreational purposes. He said this is one of the major problems facing recreation education today.

Another field which has been the subject of widespread study is that of recreation needs for the aged, he said. The conference featured reports on research findings in this field.

Among the exhibits at the conference was one in Hort Woods, where campcraft, outdoor cooking and knots were displayed. Conference guests also visited the Stone Valley Dam project.

Weekend--

(Continued from page one)
 team and the Army ROTC Pershing Rifles drill team will participate.

The teams will compete for the Milton S. Eisenhower trophy, which will be awarded on the basis of originality, coordination and precision. President Eric A. Walker will present the trophy.

Music will be furnished by the Air Force ROTC band, Drum and Bugle Corps and Glee Club Octet.

A dairy exposition will be held from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. today in the livestock judging pavilion. Orchestras, the modern dance group of WRA, will give a concert at 8 p.m. in White Hall.

Sports events will include track meets with Michigan and Cornell at 1:30 p.m. at Beaver Field and tennis with Syracuse at 2 p.m. at the Beaver Field tennis courts.

Parents may see student art exhibits from 8 a.m. to noon today and tomorrow in the Hetzel Union gallery, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Temporary Building gallery and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Redifer Hall gallery.

2 Seniors Awarded White Medals

John W. White medals have been awarded to two seniors by the Senate Committee on Scholarships and Awards.

The award is given annually to the graduating senior with the highest All-University average.

This year's awards went to Dorothy Beck, education major from Rahway, N.J., and Carole Young, education major from New Castle. They both had 3.96 averages.

John W. White Scholarships of $600 each have been given to four seniors for graduate study. They are John Wall, education major from North Wales; Frank Warner, engineering science major from Marblehead, Mass.; George Mot-say, pre-medicine major from Carbondale, and Frederick Greenleaf, engineering science major from Allentown.

Phi Kappa Phi scholarships of $50 each were awarded to two incoming freshmen, Bonnie Evans and Nancy Bradney.

Carl Dresher and Kenneth Hicock, also incoming freshmen, were given $25 Laverne Wood Thomas and William S. Thomas awards.

A total of 15 seniors and 15 juniors, the top 0.5 per cent of their classes, were named Evan Pugh scholars.

The seniors are James Porter, aeronautical engineering major from Chambersburg; Madge McKee, education major from Erie; David Houghton, meteorology major from Media; Paul Cryder, business administration major from State College; David Towell, geology and mineralogy major from Fillmore, N.Y.

David Goldstein, pre-medical major from Lewistown; William Clark, electrical engineering major from Bellefonte; Edgar Fogle, electrical engineering major from Shirelysburg; MaryAnn Gemmill, education major from New Cumberland; Heather Lohrentz, arts and letters major from Pittsburgh.

Frederick Young, engineering science major from Marians; Miriam Latshaw, education major from Bechtelville; Ross A. Kramer, chemical engineering major from Schuylkill Haven, and David Brewer, engineering science major from Norristown.

The juniors are Lois DiJoseph, education major from Jenkintown; Charles Meck, education major from Cressona; Darla Durross, education major from Forty Fort; Alan Elms, psychology major from La Center, Ky.; William Bickham, engineering science major from Philadelphia.

Elizabeth Ploegel, arts and letters major from Silver Spring, Md.; Joan Freeman, arts and letters major from Pittsburgh; Bernice Bongiorno, music education major from Altoona; Donald McCreary, business administration major from Beaver Falls; Max Sponseller, pre-veterinary major from Abbottstown.

Phyllis Breisch, education major from Ringtown; Barbara Tro-man, chemical engineering major from Hellertown, Carroll Curtis, agricultural education major from Newfoundland; Eriak Mares, arts and letters major from State College, and Ronald Reinhard, pre-medicine major from Coopersburg.

Cummings to Close '59 Artist's Series

One of America's foremost poets, E. E. Cummings, will present the final program of the Artist's Series at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Schwab auditorium.

Student distribution of tickets will begin 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Hetzel Union desk. General sales for non-students will begin 9 a.m. Wednesday, and will continue from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. every day until no tickets remain.

Cummings was born and raised in Cambridge, Mass. He attended four Cambridge schools before enrolling at Harvard University. The first, a private school, left no marked impression on Cummings. He said it was a place "where everybody was extraordinarily kind" but where he "learned nothing."

The rest of his pre-college, career was spent at three public schools where he learned "what the wicked learn."

After graduation from Harvard, Cummings received his first taste of New York which he described as a "miracle and phenomenon." During World War I, he volunteered his services to the French army and glimpsed Paris for the first time.

Cummings spent some time in a concentration camp during the war. This experience he described in "The Enormous Room," which he wrote while serving six months as an infantryman at Camp Devens in the United States.

Between the wars, Cummings returned to Europe and gained recognition not only as a poet but as a painter, too. In the past few years he has had art displays in New York and Chicago.

Cummings is primarily known for his poetic works, many of which are composed in "modern" style—with no capital letters or punctuation. Among his most famous works are "Poems 1923-1954," "Xaipe," and "50 Poems."

Summer Registration

Undergraduates wishing to register for summer sessions may do so only on the first day of the session in which they wish to enroll. It was erroneously reported in yesterday's Collegian that registration may be made anytime before June 8.