

Balloting Begins Today For Prof Snarf Finalists

Penny voting for 10 finalists in the Professor Snarf contest will start today and continue through Friday at booths on the Mall and downstairs in the Hetzel Union Building.

The finalists were chosen from among nominations for the most 'lovable prof' submitted last week. There is one finalist from each college.

They are Anthony Richer, agriculture; Ralph Wherry, business administration; J. Harris Olewine, chemistry-physics; David Russell, education; Irving Michelson, engineering and architecture; Aurelia Adams, home economics; Harold Dickson, liberal arts; Floyd Hummel, mineral industries; Charles Speidel, physical education for men, and Della Durant, physical education for women.

In order to cast a vote, one penny must be paid. Eleven votes cost a dime and 150 votes will cost $1.

A student may vote only for a faculty member of the college in which the student is enrolled.

The Professor Snarf contest is part of the campaign for the World University Service, an organization designed to bring aid and relief to foreign students and teachers. Most of the proceeds from this year's campaign will go to students and schools in Asia.

A cookie sale will also be held as a part of the campaign.

Several fraternities and sororities have given donations to the World University Service.

There will be a discussion of the World University Service and its functions after Friday night services at the Hilliel Foundation.

The first place winner of the Professor Snarf contest will receive a dinner for two at the Tavern, and two tickets to the Cathaum Theater. The second place winner will receive two tickets to the Cathaum Theater, and the third place winner will receive a gift from Graham's news store.

Military To Open Week With Display

Armed Forces Week will start today with the opening of exhibits in the Hetzel Union Building and downtown stores.

The celebration will end with an Armed Forces Day parade at 7 p.m. Thursday on College Avenue.

Displays in the HUB will include a jet survival suit, models of missiles and aircraft, and an acoustic torpedo. The exhibit will be open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. today and tomorrow and until 9 p.m. on Thursday.

The 112th Aircraft Control and Warning Flight of the Pennsylvania National Guard will exhibit a mobile radar operations center from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the HUB parking lot.

A scale model of a towed catamaran will be one of the exhibits of the Ordnance Research Laboratory. A catamaran is a twin-hulled boat used in studies of microstructures of the ocean. It contains various sensing instruments and can be towed as fast as 35 knots.

The laboratory will also display a model of the Mark 24 mine, better known as FIDO, which was used against German U-boats in World War II. It was the first American acoustic torpedo to steer on a noise target.

Drill Trophy Won By Pershing Rifles

The Pershing Rifles drill team won the Milton S. Eisenhower trophy Sunday in a tri-service drill meet on Beaver Field.

The Navy ROTC drill team placed second in the meet which was divided into two competitions: standard drill proficiency and advanced trick drill.

The Pershing Rifles also won four trophies at the Fifth Regiment Pershing Rifles annual drill meet two weeks ago.

About 4000 persons attended the meet. The trophy was presented by President Eric A. Walker.

In another Mother's Day event, Eleanor Judy, senior in home economics from Cochranville, was crowned May Queen Saturday at the May Day program.

She was crowned by Jessie Janjigian, president of the Women's Student Government Association, which sponsored May Day. Maxine Miller, freshman in education from Sayre, was the maid of honor.

The queen, her maid of honor and court walked through an honor arch composed of 20 senior women and an evergreen chain composed of 34 senior women.

Helen Skade, president of Mortar Board, presented Miss Judy with a scroll in the name of the four women's hat societies. Judith McFarland, former president of the Women's Recreation Association, put the "world"—in the form of an evergreen ball—at the queen's feet.

Miss Judy was presented with

Phi Beta Kappa Holds Initiation

Twenty-five seniors and recent graduates have been elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honor society.

Formal initiation for the 25 took place last night before the annual Phi Beta Kappa banquet. Speaker for the dinner was Dr. Jeanne Hersch, visiting professor of philosophy, who spoke on "College Years—Freedom Years?"

The new initiates include Sandra Lenthall, Heather Lohrentz, John Mahey, Ellen Donovan, Arthur Stein, Suzanne Day, Guido Moeller, Robert Bell, Ruth Thompson, MaryAnn Gemmill, David Houghton, Oliver Ginther, her scepter by Elizabeth Floegel, representing the University Christian Association.

The Neu Bayrischer Schuhplattlers did the traditional maypole dance.

Barbara Matusow narrated the program and gave a brief history of May Day. The queen was serenaded by the Pi Beta Phi and Acacia quartets, Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and Acacia fraternity.

Senior Gift--

(Continued from page one) iors to join the Alumni Association or contribute to the Senior Gift fund or, preferably, do both.

Senior Class President Charles Welsh told the class agents participating in the drive is "one of the most important things you can do."

Not only will it raise funds for the 1959 gift, he said, but it will set precedents for providing future class gifts and will draw students into a permanent link with the University through the Alumni Association.
