

Eisenhower Proposes Atomic Research Unit

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower last night proposed construction of a $100-million atomic research unit to help preserve America's freedom in the nuclear age.

The President announced he will ask Congress to authorize the huge project—a machine two miles long, the largest

Senate Ends Hearings On Strauss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate hearings on Lewis L. Strauss' nomination to be secretary of commerce ended yesterday after 16 days of turbulent testimony.

The Senate Commerce Committee will vote behind closed doors next Tuesday on confirmation or rejection of Strauss' appointment to the Cabinet post.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said he hoped the recommendations of both majority and minority groups would be ready for the Senate late next week.

The committee's hearings ended amid confusion, with police coming on the run to eject a woman spectator.

Just before the final gavel fell Strauss was trying to finish a statement listing a group of scientists who have praised his services and Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) was trying to read a statement endorsing Strauss.

In the back of the room Agnes Waters, a familiar figure at congressional hearings, shouted a demand that she be given a chance to present a statement opposing Strauss.

As Magnuson banged his gavel, she screamed that Strauss had financed the Russian Revolution. Police hustled her out of the building.

Thurmond finally put his statement in the record without reading it. In it he said he had concluded that Strauss had refuted the charges against him.

Thurmond added that his conscience dictated that he should vote for Senate confirmation of Strauss' nomination, formally submitted by President Eisenhower last Jan. 17. Strauss has been serving as secretary under an appointment made while Congress was in recess.

Housing Bill Released For Debate in House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee turned loose a $2.1 billion housing bill yesterday. Debate will begin in the House next Tuesday.

A sharp argument is likely over whether to include money for low-rent public housing.

The bill had not been cleared more than a month with the committee by a combination of Republican and Southern Democrats.

One Killed In Crash Of Blimp

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP) — A Navy blimp returning from an Atlantic patrol in swirling fog early yesterday crashed into a hangar while trying to land.

One crewman was killed. Six other crew members were hospitalized, three of them in critical condition. Others in the crew of 18 officers and men escaped with scratches.

The huge ZPG2 airship, 343 feet long, approached the Navy base here on instruments, using radar surveillance. The control tower knew what part of the field the blimp was over but not its altitude.

The blimp made one pass but was waved off. On the second try from the southwest, the corrugated steel hangar suddenly loomed out of the fog and the darkness. Gunning its motors, the airship tried to clear the roof.

It crunched against the hangar, where several helicopters were stored, at 35 to 40 miles an hour. The engines and the metal gondola, slung beneath the 150-ton craft, jabbed through the hangar and emerged on the inside.

The blimp's rubberized neoprene gas bag was torn open and a million cubic feet of helium shot free. Then the empty skin billowed down over the hangar's roof like a shroud. There was no fire.

Killed was Lt. j.g. David M. Loyd of Vega, Tex., whose chest and lungs were crushed. Loyd was a reservist on active duty, due for release next month. He and his wife, Marian, lived at Pinehurst Estates in Lakehurst and had two children.

The commander of the two year old airship, Lt. j.g. Richard W. Sirch of Flushing, N.Y., was still unconscious 10 hours after the crash. He was in critical condition at Philadelphia Naval Hospital with severe lacerations.

Jupiter Said Ready for Use

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army declared its Jupiter intermediate-range ballistic missile ready for operational use yesterday after the reliable rocket made a successful 1500-mile flight.

The powerful missile roared down the Atlantic range shortly after midnight and the Army announced hours later in Washington that it had successfully traveled the planned distance.

The Army said the Jupiter can now be delivered to Air Force troops for operational use. This does not necessarily mean that its weapon system is assembled and ready for combat firing. It is expected to be assigned to NATO forces in Italy.

The Air Force will operate the rocket because of the Defense Department's assignment of roles and missions, which limits the Army to missiles of less than 500-mile range.

Gang Suspected In March Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigation of the March bombing of a Jewish center in Nashville, Tenn., has turned up evidence pointing to a possible interstate terrorist gang.

This word came yesterday from Police Chief Douglas E. Hosse of Nashville, who told a House Judiciary subcommittee: "The Jewish center bombing followed a pattern extending all over the southeast part of the country."

Hosse recalled what he described as amazingly parallel events in other southeastern cities, occurring about the same time.

Money Bill Sent to Ike After Passage in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sent to the White House last night a money bill carrying $150 million of the $225 million President Eisenhower asked for loans to underdeveloped nations abroad.

Passage came after the Senate turned back an effort by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) to renew a fight with the House over Army and Marine Corps manpower levels.
