

Today's Forecast:
Warm and Humid

Summer Collegian

Welcome
Alumni

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 1, No. 2

STATE COLLEGE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 11, 1959

FIVE CENTS

Nine Men Named To New Positions On Faculty, Staff

Nine men have been named to new positions on the faculty and in the administration.

Walter A. Kearney, former superintendent of the New Castle Schools, has been appointed director of the McKees-

Fraternity Regulations Established

The University has established a number of special regulations to guide students through the summer sessions.

The new regulations are aimed mainly at students living in fraternity houses, and cover the entertainment of women guests and the use of alcoholic beverages.

Coeds are allowed in fraternity houses only for registered social events, chaperoned by at least two adults. The chaperones, who may not be undergraduates, and the event must be registered with the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women at least one week before the function is to take place.

Evening dances may be held only on Friday and Saturday or before holidays. No dance may last past 12 midnight without prior permission from the Senate Committee on Student Affairs.

The University does not approve of the use of alcoholic beverages at any University or related function. The possession or use of intoxicants on University property and the maintenance of bars and dispensing equipment in fraternities is strictly prohibited.

Persons in charge of social functions are responsible for seeing that all guests comply with the University regulations.

port Campus. Kearney, who replaces Daniel T. Hopkins, will begin duties Aug. 15.

Dr. Peter W. Fletcher, professor of forestry at the University of Missouri, has been named director of the School of Forestry, effective July 1.

Fletcher succeeds Maurice K. Goddard, who resigned in December to continue as State Secretary of Forests and Waters.

Dr. John C. Johnson, research physicist at the Willow Run Laboratories of the University of Michigan, has been named director of the Ordnance Research Laboratory, effective July 1.

Johnson will replace Dr. Benjamin L. Snively, acting director of the laboratory for the past two years.

Robert E. McCord, associate professor of engineering extension, has been appointed director of Continuing Education in Engineering and associate professor of engineering, effective July 1. The new position replaces that of director of engineering extension, a position held by Kenneth L. Holderman.

Albert H. Jacobson, Jr., manager of field operations for a special Air Force program of Eastman Kodak Co. in Rochester, N.Y., will fill the post of associate dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture. He replaces Earl B. Stavely, who will retire July 1 as professor emeritus of electrical engineering after 43 years on the engineering faculty.

Dr. Merrell R. Fenske, research professor of chemistry and chemical engineering and director of the Petroleum Refining Laboratory, has been named head of the Department of Chemical Engineering.

Dr. W. Conrad Fernelius, professor and head of the Department of Chemistry, also served as the head of the De-

(Continued on page three)

Alumni Will Return For Class Reunions

Over 1000 alumni will return to the campus this weekend to participate in the annual Alumni Class Reunion program.

The program, sponsored by the Alumni Association, begins today and will close Sunday. The Alumni Institute which will begin tomorrow is a part of the Alumni Class

Reunion For Choir Scheduled

The first reunion of the University Chapel Choir will be held tomorrow and Saturday with more than 50 former choir members having made advance reservations.

The choir reunion is part of the alumni reunion events planned for this weekend.

Registration for the reunion will be held in the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow. A rehearsal is scheduled at 4 p.m. for alumni members.

Choir members will hold a banquet tomorrow evening in the Hetzel Union Building and a rehearsal will be held at 8:30 p.m. in Schwab Auditorium. A 2-hour rehearsal will be held Saturday morning in Schwab Auditorium for the alumni choir.

At 2:30 p.m. Saturday, the alumni choir will sing at the presentation of the 1959 Distinguished Alumnus Awards.

The choir will also sing at the 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. Sunday services in the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willa Taylor, will sing "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place" from "A German Requiem" by Johannes Brahms.

Invitations for the reunion were mailed to 700 former members.

Any members of the choir who are on campus or who live in the area may attend the reunion. Those people should contact the Chapel office and make their reservations.

Reunion program.

Some of the weekend activities planned include individual class parties and banquets, an All-Class Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Saturday in Recreation Hall, a parade Saturday and the presentation of alumni awards and report on "The State of the University's" by President Eric A. Walker.

A special exhibit commemorating the Centennial of the arrival of the first students will be on display in the main lobby of the Pattee Library.

At 8 tonight in the Hetzel Union Assembly room Michael Lynch, class of 1945, will give a color slide presentation entitled "For the Glory of Old State." At 9 p.m. an informal reception will be held on the terrace of the Hetzel Union Ballroom.

Tomorrow at 9 a.m. the Alumni Golf Tournament will begin. Those wishing to play may sign up at the Caddy House.

The Delta Delta chapter of Sigma Nu will hold its 50th anniversary banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the Hetzel Union Ballroom tomorrow.

Also at 6:30 p.m. the Pioneer's Dinner for all classes before 1910 will be held at the Nittany Lion Inn.

Informal parties will be held tomorrow night for the classes of 1919, 1924, 1934, 1939, 1944 and 1949.

Presentation of Distinguished Alumnus Awards and the Penn State Woman of the Year award will follow the All-Class luncheon in Recreation Hall.

Tickets for the luncheon may be purchased at the general registration desk for $2. Bus service will be provided from the HUB to Recreation Hall.

Entertainment at the luncheon will include a musical presentation called "Salute to the Classes." Soloists will be Bryna Mae Nelson, '59, Virge Neilly, '48 and Lynn Christy, '35.

Harry J. Anslinger, Edwin T. Asplundh, Fred P. Dodge, George L. Haller and Van H. Leichter will receive the 1959 Alumnus Awards. The 1959 Penn State Woman of the Year award will be given to Dr. Mary Frear Keeler.

At 4 p.m. Saturday, the North Hall, which will house 1144 men in September, will be dedicated.

Class banquets will close Saturday's activities.

9th Institute For Alumni To Be Held

The Ninth Annual Alumni Institute will begin tomorrow with a panel discussion on "American Culture from Auto to Atom" at 10:30 a.m. in the Hetzel Union Assembly Room and continue with 12 lectures in the afternoon.

Returning alumni may choose two out of the twelve lectures to attend. The lectures will be given at 2 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. in Osmond Laboratory.

The first series of lectures includes "Measurement: Doorway to the Universe" by Dr. David H. Rank, research professor of physics; "G. B. S. Wouldn't Like 'My Fair Lady'" by Dr. Stanley Weintraub, instructor in English literature; and "A Dutch Treat" by Dr. Albert F. Buffington, professor of German.

"Landscape Your Home to Reflect Your Personality" by Wayne H. Wilson, professor of landscape architecture; "Art for Children's Sake" by Dr. Edward L. Mattil, associate professor of art education; and "News is What You Make It" by H. Eugene Goodwin, director of the School of Journalism.

The second series of lectures includes "Where There's A Will, There's A Way" by Arthur L. Williams, instructor in insurance; "What Is Your Fashion Personality" by Lillian B. Larson, assistant professor of clothing and textiles; and "Moods in Music and Painting" by Elmer G. Wareham Jr., instructor in music.

"Liberal Studies for Adults: Some Remedies for Hardening of the Categories" by Dr. Cyril F. Hager, assistant dean for continuing education, College of the Liberal Arts; and "Ceylon: Pearl of the East" by Dr. F. F. Lininger, director emeritus of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

"Plan Now to Enjoy Tomorrow" by a panel moderated by Joseph Britton, associate professor of child development and family relationships and including

(Continued on page two)

Summer Enrollment Tops 2900 Mark

More than 2900 students registered Monday for inter-session and the first 6-week session, showing a 16 per cent gain over 1958 when 2519 students were enrolled.

Dr. Robert G. Benreuter, dean of admissions and registrar, said that the 2912 enrolled included 1538 for inter-session and 1374 for the first 6-week session.

For both sessions combined, the total enrollment broken down was: graduate, 1288; undergraduate, 1305; special, 280; and employees, 39.

This count does not include late registrants or courses of two weeks duration which begin later in the sessions. The short-term courses include the various teachers institutes, a theatre arts summer program, reading conference, psychology workshop and a speech and hearing clinic.

Persons who register late must continue through July 17.

IT'S A GAME OF CAT AND MOUSE for campus patrolmen and students driving on campus since the patrol acquired its new Harley-Davidson motorcycle. Patrolman George R. Barr keeps a sharp eye out for violators.

—Collegian Photo by Wayne Schlegel