Food Conference To Study Economy

By DODI KOTA

The first educational conference conducted by the Institutional Food Research and Services Program will be held Monday through Wednesday at the University.

Approximately 150 superintendents, medical directors, business managers and persons in charge of food service activities from Pennsylvania State Institutions are expected to attend.

The program will highlight economy on food purchasing.

Miss Clarence D. Gullickson, professor of hotel and institution administration in the College of Home Economics, directs the program under an agreement between the University and the Commonwealth. It is designed to provide more economy and improve quality of food in Pennsylvania institutions.

Dr. Katherine H. Fisher, associate professor of foods and nutrition, has devised a nutrient wheel showing the nutritive value of commonly used food in equivalents as well as the nutrients recommended each day for males and females in different age groups.

Dr. Grace M. Henderson,

dean of the College of Home Economics, and Dr. S. Earl Thompson, head of the department of hotel and institution administration, will represent the University in greetings to the participants.

Dr. H. C. Eaton, superintendent of Harrisburg State Hospital, will moderate a panel on "Economy in Purchasing." A panel, "Your Employees and You" will be moderated by Dr. S. Earl Thompson. Dr. J. Frank Cohe, professor of bacteriology, will moderate "Sanitation in Food Service."

A chicken barbecue in Hort Woods is planned for Monday. A banquet at the Nittany Lion Inn and a tour of the University Food Service Building will highlight the second day of the conference.

4th Concert To Be Held By Quartet

The nationally-known Claremont String Quartet will present its fourth concert at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

The program will include "Quartettatz in C minor, Opus Posthumous" by Schubert; "Grosse Fuge, Opus 133" by Beethoven; "Quartet in G minor, Opus 10" by DeBussy; and Quartet in D minor, K. 421" by Mozart.

Members of the quartet include: Marc Gottlieb, first violinist, Vladimir Weisman, second violinist, William Schoen, violist, and Irving Klein, cellist.

All members of the quartet are from New York City and have made appearances throughout most of the United States. This is the second summer the group has been on campus as a quartet-in-residence.

The Quartet will also conduct a lecture-recital at 8:30 p.m. Friday, July 31 in the HUB assembly room. The group will play one composition and then hold a discussion to analyze the techniques, methods, arrangements and over-all meaning of the composition. This is done to aid the audience in obtaining a better understanding of the particular musical composition.

The final concert of the summer session will be held on Aug. 7.

New Torpedo Casing Patented by LeFrancois

A new type of torpedo casing has been invented by John E. LeFrancois, associate professor of engineering research in the Ordnance Research Laboratory.

The new design, which has been patented, enables faster servicing of the torpedo components, eliminates wiring and plumbing joints, and provides a smoother exterior surface.

Where does "public power" send your tax money?

Tax money from you and other Americans is being taken on a multi-billion-dollar ride by the pressure groups for federal "public power."

These billions are being spent for federal government electric projects—and unnecessarily. America's hundreds of independent electric light and power companies are ready and able to provide all the electricity the nation needs, without depending on your taxes.

The needless spending for so-called "public power" has already cost taxpayers $5,500,000,000. It will cost them $10,000,000,000 more in additional taxes if the lobbyists for federal "public power" have their way.

This tax spending goes on because most people don't know about it. So tell your friends how "public power" costs them money needlessly. As soon as enough people realize what's happening, they will put a stop to it.
