

CPA's to Attend Study Conference

Certified Public Accountants from Pennsylvania will arrive on the University campus on Sunday for the 5th annual Accounting Study Conference.

The 2-day conference, sponsored jointly by the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the

Summer Group Will Present Choral Music

The Summer Sessions Chorus will present a concert at 8.30 p.m. Monday in Schwab Auditorium.

Frank Gullo, associate professor of music, will direct the 80 members.

The chorus is composed of summer sessions students. The soloists include: Helen Chumard, Claudette Hudak, Marie Furia, Buddy Anlat and Vera Lefever.

Alice Kingsley will accompany the chorus, assisted by Marilyn Wilgocki, Mary Moore and William Brocklebank.

The program will include: "It's a Good Day," "Rustling Leaves," "Trepak," "The Little Damozel," "One Kiss," "May Night," "Your Eyes Shine in My Own," "Circubirbin," "I Hear a Voice A-Praying," "Once in Love With Amy," "The Serenade," "To the Dawn," "Religion Is a Fortune," "La Danza," and "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God."

College of Business Administration Continuing Education Services, is designed to offer the opportunity for discussion and study of practical auditing and accounting problems and for talking informally with the leaders in the profession.

Ossian MacKenzie, dean of the College of Business Administration, will lead the opening of the conference with a welcoming address and speak on the latest developments and the future plans of the University.

The conference will include technical sessions, discussion groups, and report-back sessions for all the main topics. The Technical Forum will be led by Carman G. Blough, Director of Research of American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Representing the University and chairman of the conference will be A. J. Mastro, assistant professor of accounting.

2 Students Held For 'Dragging'

State College police nabbed two University students dragging a car at 7:40 p.m. Monday on Westerly Parkway opposite the new community swimming pool.

George Yanyecic, freshman in engineering from Aliquippa, and Peter Klein, freshman in engineering from Lebanon, are now being held on charges of reckless operation by drag racing.

A general crackdown on speeders has been going on in the borough for several weeks, according to the police source.
