

Homecoming Theme; Stricter Checking Announced by IFC

By DEXTER HUTCHINS

"Penn State in the year 2000" will be the theme of the Annual Homecoming Weekend, Gary Gentzler, Interfraternity Council president, announced last night.

This year's competition will be restricted to displays with no moving parts to stimulate better participation in the contest. Fraternities will register for the event between Oct. 5 and Oct. 10.

A motion to set the fall pledging date was tabled.

Robert Parsky, chairman of the IFC Board of Control, announced that the new policy of the board will be "prevention rather than punishment" in enforcing the IFC regulations.

To facilitate the operation of the new policy, a strict checking system has been devised.

Seventeen team captains will head a group of checkers composed of two members from each fraternity. There will be a meeting of the checkers at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in 10 Sparks to explain the duties and to organize the group.

The Council passed an amendment to the Junior Interfraternity Council constitution proposed by Arthur Miltenberger, member at large of the executive committee.

Under the new amendment, the president of the Jr. IFC will be selected by the officers of the IFC executive committee, rather than by self-nomination and election by the Jr. IFC.

Supporting his proposal, Miltenberger said that under the old system of self-nomination the Jr. IFC was not getting the strong leadership it needed to be a successful organization. He said there is a need for more careful screening and selection of candidates for the president's position.

Carlos Astez, a senior in political science from Argentina, was presented the IFC's Kent-Foster Memorial Scholarship for the second year. Astez, who is a member of the varsity soccer team, has a 3.4 All-University average.

Ronald Resh, vice president of the council, announced that a meeting of fraternity presidents and all new pledges will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in 10 Sparks to explain the Jr. IFC and the various committees in the organization.

Khrushchev Visit May Lead To Conference at Summit

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said yesterday his secret talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev about Berlin's future led to enough progress to wipe out many of his objections to a summit conference.

At a special news conference, Eisenhower strongly hinted a top level East-West parley is now virtually certain — but not until he consults with British, French, West German and other allied leaders.

The President said that Khrushchev—who once had given the West six months to get out of West Berlin—has now agreed there will be no deadline for East-West negotiations to meet in seeking a peaceful settlement.

Eisenhower said Khrushchev has agreed these talks should not be "unnecessarily or unduly extended."

He did not explain whether this meant negotiators would have days, weeks or months to talk. "No one is under duress," Eisenhower said, when asked whether Khrushchev promised to ease pressure on the German capital.

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev, beaming at a hero's welcome home yesterday, said his American trip was very successful. He told the Soviet people President Eisenhower is a man of peace with the backing of all but a small minority of Americans.

The Soviet Premier noted instances of hostility and complained again of security measures that caused him to threaten in Los Angeles to cut short his tour, but good feeling was the keynote of his report.

"No one is under any kind of threat and, as a matter of fact, he stated emphatically that never had he any intention to give anything that was to be interpreted as duress or compulsion."

Eisenhower gave no clue to the kind of Berlin settlement that might be shaping up.

Khrushchev in reporting Sunday on his talks said he and Eisenhower found much in common in their search for a settlement of the Berlin crisis.

And yesterday, back in Moscow, Khrushchev shouted to loud applause at a homecoming rally: "Long live American-Soviet friendship!"

Eisenhower set off a diplomatic furor by telling newsmen he could not guarantee that any settlement would uphold the previous vows to protect the freedom of West Berliners and to guard allied rights.

Encampment Report

SGA May Change Presidential Powers

The Student Government Association Assembly will be asked to approve Student Encampment recommendations that would place the SGA president in a dual role in student government—chairman of both the Assembly and the Executive Cabinet.

These recommendations, which came out of the SGA workshop of the 1959 Student Encampment, would mean constitutional revision if approved. At present, the SGA vice president chairs the Assembly while the president is the presiding officer of the executive body.

Under the proposed plan, the vice president or his executive representative would sit with the Assembly, speaking only during executive reports or when called upon for expert or executive advice. He would not be an Assembly member.

The present constitution adopted by All-University Cabinet and the student body in a referendum last spring, makes the president and ex-officio member of the Assembly. As such, he may speak only when giving an executive report or when called upon by Assembly members for executive or expert advice.

Reasons given by workshop members for adoption of the new recommendation were that under the present system, the prestige which has been accorded the president of the student body in the past has been lowered, and he is now forced to sell himself and his ideas to the Assembly in order to have them approved.

Since the president has been elected by the student body to the highest office in student

Clearance Needed Heat and Humidity For State Posts

Faculty members will have to clear with the University administration before they can be employed by a State agency on a part-time basis.

The clearance will have to state that the planned work will not interfere with regular University duties. The clarification was made yesterday by Roy Wilkinson Jr., University counsel.

Wilkinson said the requirement does not apply solely to the University, but had been in effect with other State agencies for years.

Committee To Review Activities

The Student Government Association Cabinet last night discussed the Senate Committee on Student Affairs plan to investigate and review all student organizations, evaluating them according to their purposes.

A major target of the survey will be ferreting out organizations no longer active but still on the record.

The consensus of Cabinet was that the students should play a bigger role in the probing of campus organizations, since that is the purpose of student government.

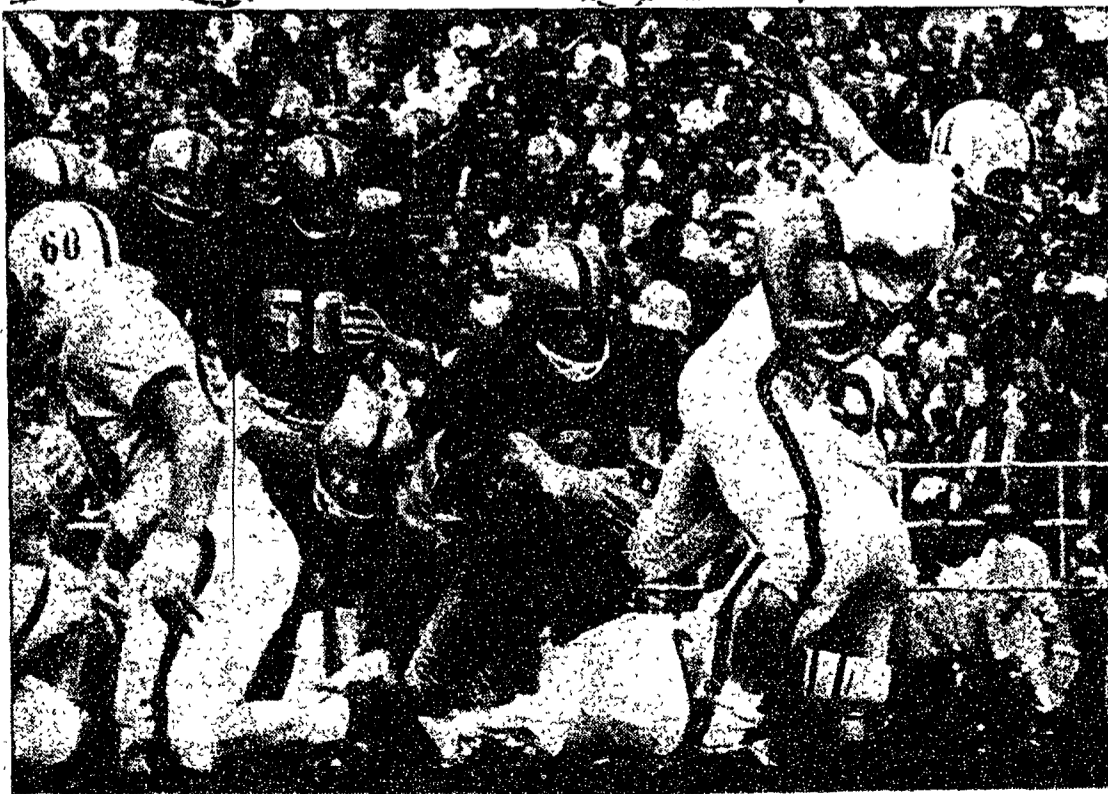

The announcement that the Artists' Series would present the Modern Jazz Quartet as part of the Awards Night program of Spring Week, brought a flurry of discussion on the feasibility of such a plan.

Inter-College Council Board Chairman David Epstein objected to the scheduling of the jazz program and the awards presentations on the same evening. He cited past incidents of inattention toward the performers by the audience, which was there primarily to see the awards presented.

Cabinet suggested that Artists' Series and Spring Week committee members work out a feasible plan for the event.

New Candidates Called

The first meeting for candidates for the news, sports and photography staffs of The Daily Collegian will be held at 6:30 tonight in 214 Boucke. All interested students may attend.

Lions Top Keydets, 21-0 in Stiff Battle

Even ole Stonewall Jackson would have been proud of the Keydets from his native Virginia Military Institute for their performance against Penn State Saturday on Beaver Field.

Although they lost to the heavily favored Nittany Lions, 21-0, the Keydets gave a good account of themselves before 19,800. Playing without their top back and captain, Sam Horner, the boys from Lexington, Va., battled Riverboat Richie Lucas and company to a complete standstill for most of the first half.

But late in the second period the Riverboat hoisted anchor and the Lions were underway.

With the score 0-0 and the ball on the 50, Lucas came in with the second unit on the field, and uncorked an 18-yard aerial to fullback Sam Sobczak on the 32.

On the next play Lucas hit the Lions' leading ground gainer Dick Pae with a 14-yarder and the ball was on the 18. A clipping penalty moved the pigskin halfway to the goal line and Lucas fired a nine yard bullet to end John Bozick for the score.

Sam Stellatella booted the extra point and the Lions led, 7-0. The half ended a few minutes later.

"I thought my boys did well to hold Penn State 7-0 through the first half," said V.M.I. coach John McKenna after the game. "All in all we played a good game but Penn State has a very good football team."

Lion coach Rip Engle had plenty of praise for the boys from down
