

Job Interviews to Begin For January Graduates

Job interviews for January graduates and graduate students start today as the first of 200 interviewers arrive on campus.

A master list of all representatives of business, industry and government planning to visit the campus this fall is posted on the bulletin board inside 112 Old Main, Donald Cook, director of the Placement Service, announced.

Distribution Of Grades Stays Same

Students today aren't making any more A's or any more F's than students did five years ago, according to a study made by the Office of the Registrar.

The distributions of grades received by undergraduate students during the spring semester was essentially the same as the distribution a year ago and also five years ago.

Warren R. Haffner, assistant to the registrar, and Mrs. Evelyn Homan, who made the study, report that of the 80,356 grades, A through F, recorded in the office last spring, 18.8 per cent were A's; 53 per cent A's or B's; and 84.4 per cent were C's or better.

The corresponding percentages for 1958 were 18.8 per cent, 53.3 and 84; for 1954 they were 19.6, 54.1 and 85.3.

The percentages of F's (which were recorded as -1's and -2's in the 1954 study) for 1959, 1958, and 1954 respectively were 4, 4.2 and 4.1 per cents.

The study shows that the number of grades recorded increased by 43 per cent in the past five years.

Three weeks before a company's scheduled visit, an announcement is posted on the bulletin board in the lobby of Old Main, just outside the Placement office. The announcement indicates the date of the visit, the curriculums in which the company is interested and degree requirements.

The first week after an announcement is posted, students can read the literature file on that company which is available in the Placement Office. Students may schedule interviews two weeks before the visit by arranging a specific date and time at the scheduling desk.

Besides its company literature file, the Placement Service also has a government service file, an employers' address file, a staff for personal guidance for students and current information about government service exams.

The three government exams being given this year are the general entrance exam for all desiring government employment except engineering and science students, a foreign service exam and the National Security Agency exam.

Announcements of all scheduled interview visits and the dates of government service exams will appear in The Daily Collegian as well as in the Placement Office.

LAST WARNINGS—Campus patrolmen were posted along Pollock Rd. yesterday to give all student drivers their last warning before issuing them tickets for driving on Pollock Rd. Tickets will be given starting today.

Officials to Compile Activity Procedures

Do you know how to schedule a room for a meeting or how much it costs to reserve the Hetzel Union ballroom for a social function?

Students may be able to get this kind of information in printed form sometime in the future. The Senate Committee on Student Affairs decided yesterday to ask various administrative officials to compile a list of rules, regulations and "how-to's" which concern their office functions.

Many of these methods of procedures have not been written down for students' use in the past. They have been "passed on from student to student," Committee Chairman Monroe Newman, head of the Department of Economics, said.

When the list is compiled, he said, it will enable students to know more clearly, the rules which affect student activities.

Newman said the final list may not be ready for students' use for a few years. The actual time limit could not be determined, he said, because of the nature of the required information.

"Many of the offices have not written these things down themselves," he explained, "and it will take some time to get a complete listing."

Newman stressed that the information concerned is entirely separate from the University Senate Regulations.

The listing to be compiled would contain administrative policies which are created by officials as they see a need, he said.

Officials to be contacted to contribute material will include the dean of men, the dean of women, the coordinator of student activities, the manager of Associated Student Activities, the coordinator of scholarships and the special assistant to the president on student affairs.

IFC Workshop Date Set for October 20

The Interfraternity Council workshop will be held Oct. 20, 21 and 22 Richard Haber, workshop chairman, announced Monday.

The workshops will begin on the evening of Oct. 20 with a banquet at the Nittany Lion Inn. The keynote address will be given by Robert Kelly, an officer of the National Interfraternity Council.

On Oct. 21, a new program of after-supper fraternity-faculty talks will be held at each fraternity house. The guest faculty member will speak on some aspect of fraternity, faculty and town relations.

On Oct. 22 the actual workshops will begin at the fraternity house of each committee chairman.

This year's 10 workshops have been planned to discuss the areas of presidents, treasurers, pledge-masters, house managers, caterers, social chairmen, scholarship activities, public and alumni relations and rushing.

A meeting of all fraternity officers, committees and new pledges will be held at 7:30 tonight in 10 Sparks to familiarize the pledges with the operation of the IFC.

According to Ronald Resh, IFC vice president, the purposes and functions of the Junior Interfraternity Council and a resume of the jobs of the various committees in IFC will be given.

Robert Ritchie, president of the Interfraternity Council Purchasing Association, has announced the names of staff members of IFCPA.

John Goodhart, a retired Army Master Sergeant, is the new office manager and Mrs. Barbara Maelhorn is the office secretary.

Frosh Council Elections Set

Student Council elections for freshmen will be held November 8 and 4, David Epstein, chairman of the Intercollege Council Board announced.

Freshmen interested in running for office should watch The Daily Collegian for announcements about self-nomination procedures in the various colleges.

ICCB also decided last night to hold a mixer for new faculty members Oct. 29 in Simmons lounge. Refreshments will be served and a program will be presented by ICCB.

Penny Candy--

(Continued from page four) that a pure hearted Europe was pointing the finger of contempt at Little Rock. And some of us were a little shocked to find similar racial problems there. We learned that the Algerians, as a minority group in France, were scorned and often treated with real cruelty. But whether we brought home paintings or wine skins, dined on filet mignon or bread and cheese, we all loved Europe—and the luckiest summer of all.
