

'Rigoletto' Tickets Still Available

Less than 1000 student tickets and 400 non-student tickets remain for the Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater's production of Giuseppe Verdi's "Rigoletto" to be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in Recreation Hall.

Tickets are sold and distributed at the Hetzel Union desk.

Cloverleaf Bids Due at Capitol By October 29

The State Highways Department said yesterday that bids for the construction of a cloverleaf intersection at E. College Ave. and University Dr. are due in Harrisburg Oct. 29.

A department spokesman said it is the practice to award contracts within 30 days after bids are received, but he made no estimate of cost for the job or for the length of time the construction would take.

The cloverleaf is the final link in a road project which began last year with construction of a 4-lane road on Rt. 545, the Benner Pike, between State College and Dale Summit.

In addition, the cloverleaf will provide a 2-lane street, University Dr. from Foster Ave. north onto the University campus to Park Ave. The purpose is to facilitate movement of traffic on campus and to relieve congestion. University Dr., which will be 7604 feet long, will span College Ave. by means of a 750-foot concrete bridge.

The department gave no indication about possible detours during construction, or whether traffic will be maintained.

Grad Students Win Shell Fellowships

David Robertson, graduate student in chemical engineering, and Robert Wall, graduate student in chemistry, have received year-long Shell Fellowships according to Shell Companies Foundation Incorporated.

Robertson and Wall are among 51 graduate students receiving Shell Fellowships at 37 different schools throughout the country. Each Fellowship includes payment of all tuition and fees for the school year and an additional allowance for personal use. Over 600 Shell Fellowships have been awarded since World War II.

Entre Nous to Sponsor First Mixer Saturday

Entre Nous, an organization designed to promote better race relations, will sponsor its first mixer of the year from 9 p.m. to midnight tomorrow at the Wesley Foundation.

Refreshments will be served.

Chordette Tickets Now Available

Tickets for the Chordettes concert on Oct. 18 are now available at the University Shop, the Music Room, the Harmony Shop and the Hetzel Union desk.

The tickets cost $1.25. The performance, scheduled for 2 p.m. in Recreation Hall, is being sponsored by the World University Service to raise funds for students overseas. The concert is the kick-off of the celebration which will end with United Nations Weekend on Oct. 23-25.

All fund-raising and educational services have been planned in cooperation with the UN to commemorate World Refugee Year.

The Chordettes who gained fame with their recording of "Mr. Sandman," selling two million copies, have also recorded such hits as "Born to be with You," "Hummingbird," "Lollipop," "Lonely Lips," "Soft Sands," and "Zorro."

The program will consist of popular music and barbershop harmony. Participating with the Chordettes in the concert will be the Altoona Men's Chorus, the Allegheny Aires, the Penn State Men, the Chordblenders and the quartets from Pi Beta Phi sorority and Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity who won the quartet awards in last spring's Interfraternity Council Sing. The Phi Mu Delta band will provide music for the concert.

Busching to Give Talk

Bruce Busching, a special assistant to the Friends Peace Committee of Philadelphia, will discuss alternatives to military service for pacifists at 8 tonight. He will speak at the Friends House, 124 South McAllister St.

"Rigoletto" was adopted from Victor Hugo's play "Le Roi-Amuse" in the middle of the 19th century.

Rigoletto, a crippled ill man, is a jester in the court of the Duke of Mantua. He hates the Duke because he is a nobleman; he hates courtiers because they are courtiers, and he hates men because they are not crippled.

The bitterness that Rigoletto feels induces him to cause as much unhappiness and antagonism in the court as possible. He does this by urging the Duke to seduce the daughters and wives of nobles.

Gilda, Rigoletto's daughter, is his one joy in life. He keeps her secluded from the court to protect her from the wickedness and immorality found there.

As the plot unfolds it is Gilda who is soon seduced by the Duke. Rigoletto turns to murder to gain revenge on the Duke.

Boris Goldovsky and Sarah Caldwell have translated the Venetian opera into English so it will be clearly understandable to the audience.

The setting of the opera is in Mantua, and the time is the 16th century.

Following the performance, there will be a reception for the company at Acacia fraternity. It is open to all students.

SGA Acts--

Following a motion by Walton Davis (U.-Sr.), Assembly officially favored the reinstatement of Frothy and his capers at home football games. Davis said he felt that Frothy and the Lion were "vital parts of University spirit."

In reply to a question by Carol Ploesch (C.-Sr.), SGA President Leonard Julius said that Frothy had been banned from the game because "he was in no way connected with the game" and that in the past, his antics had several times caused disturbances.
