

—Collegian Photo by Dave Trump
CHRISTMAS ALREADY! . . . It's just Richard Reiter, Theodore Cole, and Robert Nuss helping David Horn to hang another tree for the annual Horticulture Show opening Saturday at the Livestock Pavilion.

Hort Show Planned For Weekend

"A Market Place" will be the theme of a show presented this weekend by members of the Horticulture Club.

A town square surrounded by farmer's stalls displaying horticultural and agricultural produce will be the scene of the show. Included in the display will be a 20-foot water fountain.

The 46th annual show will be held from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday. Last year's show drew more than 17,000 visitors.

This year's set was designed by Richard Campbell, senior in landscape architecture from Morrisville, and was built by Horticulture Club members and students in the School of Horticulture.

A booklet describing the design of the market square and containing articles written by staff members will be distributed to visitors, according to James Portman, senior in horticulture and manager of the show.

Each horticulture division will donate its own specialties to add interest to the show. Seventy-five bushels of apples, in four varieties and 350 gallons of fresh-pressed cider will be included.

Foliage plants, ornamental corn, cider and gourds will be on sale at the show. There will be no admission charge.

Hacker Praises Industry Growth

By KATIE DAVIS

Wealth created by the growth of industry maintains social mobility, innovation and a climate of chance which is advantageous to a nation, Dr. Louis M. Hacker, distinguished visiting professor of history said last night.

Hacker's speech, "The Robber Barons Revisited," was the first of the Liberal Arts Lecture Series. It was co-sponsored by the Department of History.

Hacker's term "Robber Barons" reerred to the post Civil War American industrialists such as John D. Rockefeller, George Westinghouse and Jay Gould.

Hacker pointed out that these captains of industry made possible our high standard of living, consolidation of railroads, raised wages and were responsible for doubling the worth of American farms.

"We must re-examine the postulates of the critics of the Robber Baron Era," Hacker said. Critics have claimed that these early industrialists spoiled and disordered the heritage of America.

These industrialists have been called the predatory captors of our natural resources and causes of the debauched and depraved consumer tastes of Americans, Hacker continued.

He called these criticisms unwarranted and inadequate. Challenging these statements he pointed out that America has made greater strides than nations industrialized long before us and has accomplished more under a democratic system of government than Russia has in a police state.

Only in a system such as ours where incentives exist are innovations possible, Hacker said. Those who would have America choose stability rather than the exciting life of profit making are choosing stagnation, he concluded.

ICG Will Bid For Convention

Intercollegiate Congress on Government will ask that the Central Region Convention be held here in the spring.

Carl Smith, chairman, and William Reilly, assistant director of the Central Region, were told at last night's meeting to put in a bid when they attend the state convention, Oct. 25 in Harrisburg.

The State Convention will be an all-day affair beginning at 2 p.m. in the Penn Harris Hotel. Discussion will be held on the state convention scheduled for the spring and the bid for the regional convention will be made during a Central Region executive meeting.

Alternates to the State convention are Mary Gombar and James Goodwin.

Medical Admission Test Will Be Given Oct. 31

The Medical College Admissions Test will be given at 8 a.m., Saturday, Oct. 31.

Bulletins of information and application blanks are available from Dr. Leon R. Kneebone, test supervisor, in 117 Buckhout. Applications, accompanied by the $15 fee, must be received no later than Saturday, by the Educational Service, 20 Nassau St., Princeton, N.J.

Homecoming Queen To Be Announced

The Homecoming Queen will be announced at the end of the Thespians' production of "It's in the Book," set for 8 tonight in Schwab Auditorium.

The five finalists will attend the performance with their escorts. At the end of the show Theodore Pauloski, president

2 Busses to Go To Cleveland

Two busses have been filled to go to the Illinois-Penn State football game October 24 in Cleveland.

The 74 students who make up the "Cleveland Special" caravan will leave from the Hetzel Union Building area at 6:30 a.m. October 24 and will arrive in Cleveland at 1 p.m.

Members of the hat societies who sold the tickets will help to organize the caravan into a cheering section at the game.

Game tickets sales are going so well that the Recreation Hall ticket office reports that it has been swamped with requests. Tickets still remain and are being sold for $3.50.

WRA Volleyball Deadline

Tomorrow is the last day to sign up for the Women's Recreation Association's volleyball teams. Coeds wishing to join a team must sign up in 103 White Hall.

of Thespians, will introduce the queen.

The football team voted for the queen on Monday night. Her name will remain a secret until tonight.

The finalists in the contest are Doris Gustafson, junior in arts and letters from Washington, D.C.; Joan Karlow, junior in elementary education from Atlas; Mary Ann Kill, sophomore in arts and letters from Glassport; Lois Shaffer, senior in elementary education from Allentown; and Barbara Vincent, sophomore in home economics from Lansdowne.

The queen will receive a gold trophy at the alumni luncheon on Saturday in the Hetzel Union ballroom. She will also appear at the Thespian show on Friday and Saturday.

Despite urging by the Homecoming Queen Committee, she will not appear during halftime at the football game. James W. Dunlop, director of the Blue Band, said that the halftime activities had already been planned when the committee asked to have the queen introduced.

Dunlop said that the program would have to be built around the queen if she were to appear. (Continued on page five)

Professor Resigns Sociology Position

Dr. Delbert C. Miller has resigned as professor of sociology, to accept a position as professor of sociology at Indiana University.

Miller came to the University in 1957, having taught at the University of Minnesota, Washington State College, Kent State University and the University of Washington.

He has been associated also with the Sperry Gyroscope Company and the National War Labor Board.

Vacancies to Be Filled In Eng-Arch Council

At last night's meeting of the Engineering-Architecture Student Council, it was decided that junior and senior representatives would be selected in the forthcoming elections to fill the vacant seats on council.

A committee was also established to investigate the possibility of the Council buying 1000 copies of The Engineer and distributing them to freshmen. Another committee was set up to study freshman orientation.

Dairy Team Ranks 12th At International Contest

The Penn State Dairy Judging Team placed 12th among the 24 teams that participated last week in the 25th annual Collegiate Students' International Contest in Judging Dairy Products at Miami Beach, Fla.

Members of the team were Dean B. Girton, Charles L. Witmer, Donald B. Josephson, and alternate, Herbert L. Bench.

The team was accompanied by Francis J. Doan, professor of dairy manufacturing, and Dr. George H. Watrous, Jr., associate professor of dairy manufacturing.

SAVE UP TO 50% DANCE PROGRAMS
 Personalized matches, napkins
Commercial Printing
 352 E. College Ave. AD 8-6794

TONY'S BARBER SHOP
 231 E. BEAVER AND
 134 E. COLLEGE
8 to 5:30 Daily
Close Sat. at 1
 Call AD 8-8012 For An Appointment or Just Drop In

IN A HURRY?
 •Our "take-out" service is great! Just stop in, no parking problems, you can pull right up to the door . . . and in seconds you're on your way again with your favorite beverage or snack.

•And if there is no hurry, you can sit down and enjoy the same friendly atmosphere and service that has made THE CAVE so popular. Stop in today!

across from the Glennland on Pugh St.

ATTENTION!
FRATERNITIES
 and SORORITIES

Reserve the Autoport for your party or banquet. Our delicious food, perfect service and congenial atmosphere make any affair a success.

Call AD 8-6333

Autoport

LAST CHANCE!
TO GET MONEY AND/OR BOOKS FROM THE UBA
1-4:30 P.M.
HUB CARD ROOM