

Key Grid Games Listed Across Country Today

Major college football's elite—17 teams which are undefeated—is due for a drastic cut today with 10 of them facing each other in key battles.

The biggest pits two unbeaten Southwest Conference teams—third-ranked Texas and 12th rated Arkansas at Little Rock tonight. Other games featuring unbeaten finds Yale at Cornell, Holy Cross at Syracuse, Southern California at Washington and Air Force playing Oregon at Portland.

But Darrell Royal's Texas Longhorns, fresh from their 19-12 whipping of Oklahoma, are set to test their high-velocity offense against an Arkansas defense that has given only two touchdowns in matching Texas' 4-0 record.

However, Arkansas also must face a Texas defense that was unscored upon until Oklahoma talked twice in the first period last week. Arkansas is laying an eight-game winning string on the line.

Southern Cal, ranked No. 7 in the current Associated Press survey, will have its defensive giants in good shape for Washington, (4-0) and ranked 18th. The Trojans (3-0) had last weekend off helping tackles Dan Ficca and Mike McKeever recover from injuries.

Syracuse (No. 8) still the nation's top defensive team, will be out to revenge its only 1958 regular season loss when the Crusaders eked out a 14-13 win. Holy Cross lost first string quarterback Dick O'Brien last week and must rely on reserves.

Louisiana State, top-ranked and getting stronger each week, travels to Kentucky to begin defense of its Southeastern Conference crown.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi, with a 4-0 mark and unscored upon, plays SEC foe Tulane. Tulane has won its last two for a 2-2 mark.

Second-ranked Northwestern (3-0) goes to Michigan, a team it used as a springboard to fame last year with a stunning 55-24 upset. The Wildcats may be in trouble if newly found quarterback Bob Eichoff isn't over a stiff right shoulder and halfback Ron Burton can't shake a weak ankle.

Unbeaten, but once-tied Purdue (No. 6) plays Ohio State, a shutout victim in its last two games. The Boilermakers (2-0-1) don't figure to let up with their staunch defense that has given only one touchdown. Iowa and Wisconsin, both 2-1, go at it in another Big Ten affair with ninth-ranked Iowa pitting its passing attack that leads the conference against a so-so Wisconsin pass defense.

Penn State (No. 10), with a 4-0 record, plays Boston University.

The television game of the day is from East Lansing, Mich., where Notre Dame faces Michigan State. It is set for 1:30 p.m. (EST) over NBC-TV.

Frosh Grid--

Harrison Rosedahl will go at right tackle, while Bernie Sabol and Frank Waresak will fill the guard posts. Joe Blasenstein will get the call at center.

The Nittany fledglings have good over-all size. The starting line will average 198 pounds and the backs weigh in at 187.

Sunny skies and cool temperatures will prevail for this afternoon's football game. Temperatures should be in the upper 50's at the start of the game and probably won't rise much above 60 degrees all afternoon, so sweaters or jackets will come in handy.

Winds may be a factor in the play since they are expected to be gusty out of the northwest at about 15 miles per hour.

TKE, DU Score Wins In IM Grid

By RON SMITH

Good defensive play and high geared offensives predominated in last night's IM football action as seven shutouts were recorded and five teams scored two touchdowns or more. All nine games played involved fraternities.

TKE won its second game without defeat, beating Beta Sigma Rho, 33-0. Herb Ludwig's bullet passes found Bob Wayne twice for TD's.

Dick Hinkle of Alpha Sig intercepted a pass on the second play of the game and his team was never headed. A Hinkle to Don Signor to Bill Phillips pass hit pay dirt only seconds later to lead the Alpha Sigs to a 21-0 win over Alpha Phi Delta. Pi Lambda Phi fell victim to the passing wizardry of DU's Jack Melchior as his five TD passes led DU to a 34-0 win.

In the closest battle of the evening, Sigma Phi Epsilon edged Acacia, 3-2, on a second half field goal booted on an angle from 20 yards by Dick Nippes. Two Fred Wolff to Ron Griffith passes good for scores as Sigma Nu beat Sigma Pi, 14-6, to remain unbeaten.

Phi Sigma Kappa made the win column for the first time in three tries as they won over Alpha Gamma Rho, 12-0.

The three final games of the evening all ended with the identical score of 7-0. An Ed Kikla to Chuck Baldock pass was the margin of victory as Kappa Delta Rho beat Alpha Epsilon Pi.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon scored on a pass play covering 50 yards from Pete Moran to Vance Rea to defeat Kappa Sigma. Theta Xi's strong secondary spent the evening batting the long passes of Sigma Alpha Mu after scoring an early touchdown.

Tempo Quickens In IM Tennis

Close matches were the order of the week as the individual flights of IM tennis neared completion.

Bruce Derman and Blair Dodds were the fraternity men who moved into the fraternity championship flight by virtue of their victories in the preliminary flights. Derman, Phi Sigma Delta, came back to defeat Al Kamis of Phi Epsilon Pi, 0-6, 6-3, 6-3. Dodds had somewhat of an easier time in his advancement. He won by forfeit over Dick Robertson of Theta Chi in the semi-finals and then defeated Jim Nestlerode of Sigma Phi in the finals of flight seven, 6-3, 7-5.

In other action, Vance Rea of Sigma Alpha Epsilon entered the finals of flight one by dropping Bob Pollock, Alpha Zeta, 6-1, 6-0; Dick Anderson of Sigma Nu won a hard-fought semi-final match from Stan Foster. Tau Kappa Epsilon, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5; and John Erickson, Lambda Chi Alpha, advanced to the finals of flight six by virtue of his 6-1, 6-3 victory over Irv Klein of Beta Sigma Rho.

Independent action saw Bob Waldo down Gary Abrams, 6-0, 6-1; Dennis Richardson eked out a 6-2, 2-6, 6-3 victory over Dick Krouse; and Jim Stanko eliminated Dave Gay, 6-3, 6-3.

WRONG SPORT, NOT REALLY—Lion basketball team goes through second workout of year at Rec Hall in preparation for season's opener Dec. 1 at North Carolina State. Following the N.C. State game, John Egli's cagers play at Purdue and West Virginia before opening the home season with Syracuse Dec. 15.

Harriers Will Seek Third Straight Win

By DICK GOLDBERG

The Penn State cross country team will be ready in all respects when they seek their third win against the undefeated Navy harriers this afternoon on the golf course at Annapolis.

Lion coach Chick Werner, after watching Thursday's practice, thought that the harriers were ready to spoil the Middies bid for an undefeated season.

"All the boys looked very good this week and they all are improved over last week's meet with Pitt," the Lion mentor added.

Werner singled out the performances of three men—Herm Weber, Denny Johnson and Mike Miller. He said that Weber had showed a great deal of potential as a freshman but was overshadowed by the "Big Three" of the Lions—Ed Moran, Fred Kerr and Dick Engelbrink.

"Now Weber has a chance to show what he can do and he is performing well," he added.

The Lion coach pointed out Johnson as the most improved runner on the team. Johnson improved his times more than anyone else on the team, reducing his mark by over 30 seconds. Werner also said that he has been making far less tactical blunders this week than he did in preceding meets.

Miller, before the practice session this week, was suffering from lack of confidence. "Now, he has gained a great deal of assurance and he ought to be up there on top," Werner commented.

Besides these three, Penn State will enter five other harriers. Dick Engelbrink is number one man on the Lion club. He has taken two first places in the meets run so far this year. He has won both of these by 100 yards over his nearest opponent.

Rounding out the Nittany lineup are Chick King, Steve Moorhead, Jack Williams and George Machlin. King and Moorhead have played important roles in the two Lion victories this season. They placed in the top seven harriers against Pitt and Cornell. Williams and

HERM WEBER ... performing very well

Machlin have not placed this year but Werner expects them to come through.

The freshman harriers will also meet the Navy Plebes today. Coach Norm Gordon feels he has one of the finest fledgling runners in the country in Gerry Norman. Norman, an Englishman who now lives in Toronto, Canada, set the freshman course record on the University golf course last week, negotiating the difficult three miles in 15.21.

Lionel Bassett and Howie Dardorf are two other freshmen who Gordon feels show a lot of potential. Both men finished in the top five in the two meets they have run.
