1500 Spectators See Annual Hort Show

Fifteen-hundred people attended the Horticulture Show Saturday and Sunday at the Stock Pavillion and purchased an estimated $1000 worth of cider, apples, Indian corn, potted plants, chrysanthemums and gourds.

The guest book was signed by people from almost every Latin American country plus Italy, and Canada.

Debaters Set For Grove City Novice Tourney

Members of the Men's Debating Squad who joined last semester will have their first taste of actual public debating this Saturday in the Grove City Novice Tournament.

This year's national topic will be debated—Resolved: That Congress should be given power to reverse decisions of the Supreme Court.

Varsity members have a full schedule this semester with several debates away. On November 13 and 14 they will be in Philadelphia at St. Joseph's College and November 20 and 27 they go to Rochester, New York.

The first weekend in December will find both new and old members active. Those who joined this semester will participate in the Temple Novice Tourney in Philadelphia while the varsity debates in the Allegheny College Tourney.

Members of the Horticulture Club sold 350 gallons of cider, 60 bushels of apples, 1500 ears of Indian corn, 750 potted plants, 150 pots of mums and 1000 gourds according to estimates by Carol Frank, publicity director of the club, and David Horne, co-manager of the show.

Lupton J. Mecartney, professor of pomology, was so surprised to learn that he had been honored by the floral dedication that he came back to see the display four times.

During the football game Saturday President Eric A. Walker's guests were given corsages and boutonnières and those in the press box were treated to a bushel of apples.

Horne estimated that the expense to put on the show was at least $500. The rest of the money will go into the Horticulture Club treasury to be used for a scholarship and their student-faculty dinners.

AgEd Wives Will Meet

The Society of Agricultural Education Wives will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Dr. Glenn Stevens.

Dorothy Hammond will be the guest speaker.

Leadership Training To Begin

Leadership Training classes will begin at 7 p.m. tomorrow in 119 Osmond.

Registration for the 10-week course is now open at the Hetzel Union desk and will remain open until tomorrow. Places are still available for students wishing to sign up for the course.

This year the course will use a reference manual, "Successful Leadership," which costs $1. This manual will be ordered through the leadership training committee.

The first meeting tomorrow night will be used for a short orientation period.

Student Government Association President Leonard Julius will speak at the second meeting on "SGA and Public Relations."

Topics of other meetings will include "Psychology of a Leader," "Qualities of a Leader," "Speech and Good Leadership," "Military Leadership," "Committee Work" and "Parliamentary Procedure."

Compulsory attendance at all classes is required. Diplomas will be awarded to those who successfully complete the course. A final examination and evaluation of the program will be conducted at the final meeting.

Harvard Prof To Give Talk About Inflation

Dr. Gottfried Haberler, Harvard University economist, will deliver the second of the Graduate School Lectures at 8 tonight in 121 Sparks.

He will discuss "Inflation, Recession and Dollar Surplus."

Haberler studied at the University of Vienna, Hanfelsehochschule at St. Gallen, University of London and Harvard University.

In 1931 he was named visiting lecturer of economics and statistics at Harvard and from 1934 to 1936 was an expert attached to the financial section of the League of Nations in Geneva. He has been professor of economics at Harvard since 1936.

In 1943 he became associated with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in Washington.

Leonides Plans Indie Week

By PAT DYER

A masquerade jam session in Waring Hall Lounge will highlight the close of Indie Week festivities it was announced at the Leonides Council meeting last night.

Indie Week will be held Oct. 25 to 31.

The jam session will be held Friday night, the same night as Mardi Gras.

Indie Week will begin next Sunday with a dinner for members of Leonides Council and the Association of Independent Men. The dinner is in honor of the speaker for Sunday Schwab Chapel service. That afternoon all independents will be invited to climb Mount Nittany with Leonides and the Town Independent Men.

A ten-act Talent Show will be presented Tuesday night at which a first-prize of $10 will be offered. Any independent individual or group act may sign up for the Talent Show at the Hetzel Union desk.

The Indie Queen Pageant will be held at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday in the HUB. Ten semi-finalists will be chosen from the entrants who will appear in the Pageant. Each semi-finalist will appear on the stage for approximately six minutes.

Town officials will pick the five finalists on the basis of appearance, poise, personality, and talent. These five will compose the Queen's court, which will be announced at the Autumn Ball Saturday.

Fireside chats in Waring, North and South Halls are scheduled for Thursday night. Friday the masquerade jam session will be held and Saturday the annual Autumn Ball.

The point system by which Leonides has customarily selected those independents entitled to wear the "21" honor guard to the Leonides pin was dispensed with by vote of the Council last night.

From now on, girls entitled to wear the guard will be designated "Active Independents" and will be selected by the Council, the Leonides president, or the Executive Council.

Approximately six independent women's groups will participate in Mardi Gras this year, it was announced. Each group will have $20 with which to work.

Olver Issues Regulations On Bicycles

A list of campus regulations concerning bicycles, motorcycles and scooters was issued yesterday by Dr. Elwood F. Olver, director of the division of security.

Olver requested strict compliance with the regulations because the increasing number of such vehicles on campus increases the probability of accidents.

The list of regulations concerning bicycles is as follows: They may not use sidewalks. They may not be parked on sidewalks nor inside buildings nor at entrances so that they are a fire hazard or block traffic. They must yield the right-of-way at crosswalks and must obey all traffic signs and speed limits. Racing is not permitted.

All bicycles must have a warning device, such as a bell or horn. No passengers may be carried unless there is a seat for them as an integral part of the vehicle. From 30 minutes before sunset to 30 minutes after sunrise, all bicycles must have a lighted headlamp and a lighted tail lamp or a tail reflector of 1 1/2 inches or greater in diameter.

All motorcycles and motor scooters must be registered with the campus patrol. They may not use Pollock Rd. between 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday nor between 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday. They must avoid unnecessary noises and must follow the line of auto traffic, not passing such lines on the left or right.
