

Illinois Could Win Big Ten Laurels

By SANDY PADWE

When Ray Eliot announced that he would retire as head football coach at Illinois after the end of the 1959 campaign, he promised Illinois fans he would give them something to remember.

True to his word, the dean of the Big Ten coaches has come up with another typical Illinois team, one which bares a close resemblance to his Rose Bowl squads of 1947 and 1951.

This year the Fighting Illini are given an excellent chance of taking another trip to Pasadena. Right now they stand at 3-1. The loss was to Indiana in their opener, 20-0.

They've beaten Army, Ohio State and Minnesota since then, and their finale with Northwestern should determine the Big Ten championship.

Tomorrow, though, they take a break from Big Ten competition when they play Penn State's eighth-ranked Lions in Municipal Stadium, Cleveland.

Penn State end coach J. T. White who scouted Illinois last weekend, warns that Eliot's boys could give Penn State a rough afternoon.

"This is a typical Big Ten team," White said. "And that means nothing but trouble." They have a well balanced attack and can throw and run with equal ability.

"To go with their impressive offense," White said, "Ray Eliot has come up with a big strong line which moves with good speed."

"In guard Bill Eurrell, Penn State will be facing the best linebacker in the country. He's one of the best I've ever watched," White said. "He's in on every play."

Including Eurrell, the rest of the Illinois starting forward wall averages 222 pounds from end to end.

The Illini tackles take up a good portion of the figure. Left tackle Cliff Roberts weighs in at 255, while Joe Rutgens, the right tackle, goes 245.

The rest of the line is composed of Gerry Patrick (201) and Gerry Wood (185) at ends, 230-pound John Gremer at the right guard slot and Tony Parilli (215).

Clemson Defeats S.C., Leads Coast Conference

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Clemson crushed South Carolina, 27-0, yesterday to keep its lead in the Atlantic Coast Conference and write the finish to the 63-year-old State Fair Week series between the two teams.

An estimated 47,000 watched the fired-up Tigers, smartly handled by senior quarterback Harvey White, mix a ground and aerial game that rolled up 289 yards against the conference's top defensive team.

John Easterbrook

Bill Burrell

is the center.

Parilli splits the center work with Stan Yukevich and senior Dave Ash who played guard last fall.

The Illinois backfield is "loaded." Sophomore Mel Meyers is the number one signalcaller at the moment. He took over for little Johnny Easterbrook (155) who was hurt earlier in the year.

But Easterbrook is healthy again and is expected to play Saturday. Last season he had one of the top pass completion percentages in the nation—34 of 66 for a 55 percentage.

At halfback the Illini have five speedsters who are definite breakaway threats. But their ace—sophomore Johnny Counts—amy not play due to a leg injury.

Besides Counts, Eliot has Marshall Starks, DeJustice Coleman, Ed O Bradovich and Ethan Blackabay.

Fullback is well fortified with the Brown Brothers, Jim and Bill, and Dick Cast.

Bill is Illinois' top All-American possibility. He is an explosive runner and is extremely hard to bring down. He's also tough on defense.

Brother Jim played behind Bill last year and gained 86 yards in 28 carries. Cast, a sophomore, adds depth to the power slot.

"At length I recollected the thoughtless saying of a great princess, who, on being informed that the country people had no bread, replied, 'Let them eat cake'."

Who said it first?

A column of incidental intelligence by Jockey brand

"THE WORM TURNS"

Shakespeare said it this way: "The smallest worm will turn, being trodden on." But Miguel de Cervantes beat him to it in "Don Quixote", Part II, Book 3: "Even a worm when trod upon, will turn again."

"MUSIC HAS CHARMS"

The 17th Century playwright, William Congreve, was the first to set down this classic metaphor concerning the powers of sound and rhythm. You'll find the whole quote in "The Mourning Bride", Act I, Sc. 1:

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast, To soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak."

"RHYME OR REASON"

Edmund Spenser, 16th Century poet, expected a pension. He didn't get it. So he wrote this rhyme:

"I was promised on a time/To have reason for my rhyme;/From that time unto this season,/I received nor rhyme nor reason."
