THE PRETTIEST INDIES ON CAMPUS—Standing left to right, Judy Frederick, Ethel Bodine, Jacquelyn Trone, Lynn Marvel, and Mary Dugan, were the finalists in the AIM Queen Contest. The winner will be announced Saturday.

5 Finalists Named For Queen Contest

The five finalists for the Indie Queen contest were selected last night after displaying their talents in a nearly filled Hetzel Union ballroom.

The queen was selected from these finalists but her identity will be a closely guarded secret until she is crowned at the Autumn Ball Saturday night.

Ten girls competed in last night's contest doing everything from explaining a series of paintings to dancing the Charleston. These ten had been selected by interviews held Monday and Tuesday.

Still in the race for the queen title are Judith Frederic, Lynn Marvel, Jacqueline Trone, Ethel Bodine and Mary Dugan.

Miss Frederic, a sophomore in applied arts from Glenn Mills, explained a series of paintings which she had done herself.

Miss Marvel, a sophomore in applied arts from Northfield, N.J., did a monologue on a series of poems she herself had written. It was entitled "Youth's Impressions of Life."

Doing a comedy skit, "Personality Please," Miss Trone, a freshman in home economics from York, won judges' approval for a finalist's position.

Miss Bodine, freshman in elementary education from Bala Cynwyd, presented a piano selection, "Rustle of Spring" by Christian Sinding.

Singing "Can't Help Lovin That Man" from "Showboat," Miss Dugan took a finalist position. She is a freshman in Physics from Upper Darby.

The judges in the talent contest were Allen Crabtree, Charles Schlow, Blaine Harvey, Sgt. Matthew Seckinger and William McMullen.

Orchesis to Sponsor Master Dance Lesson

Jean Erdman, a professional modern dance instructor from New York City, will hold a master dance lesson at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the White Hall Gym.

The lesson is being sponsored by Orchesis, the Women's Recreation Association's modern dance club. Free tickets are available from Miss Janis I. Dengler in White Hall, or from Bonita K. Hajjar.

Nittany Area Executives To Be Paid

Nittany Council voted last night to become the first council on campus to pay compensation to its executive committee.

A total of $165 will be divided among the executive committee's members.

The Council also voted to pay a total of $240 to the 24 dormitory presidents.

A dance to be held in cooperation with West Halls on November 7 was also approved by the Council. It will be held from 8 to 12 p.m. in Waring lounge. Meal tickets must be shown for admission and 50 cents will be collected from West Hall men and dates. Nittany men and dates will be admitted free.

Donald Davis was appointed athletic chairman by the Council. The question of allowing Nittany men to eat in coed dining halls is now being discussed by the University Food Service and the Nittany men and coeds involved. Barry Rien, council member, said.

Former Prof Publishes Book on Photography

Many campus scenes and persons are pictured in the book, "Basic Photography," authored by Marvin Weisbord, former instructor in journalism.

The volume, whose text and photographs were done by Weisbord, is an instructional manual for amateurs on how to take better pictures. It is one of the volumes in the Modern Camera Guide Series of the Chilton Co.

live jazz on sunday? yeah!

have you ever been to sutton place? if not, do so, people; you're missing a big scene. it's the finest espresso house in town, not to mention the snacks, and it's open all week, plus twice on sundays (no other place can make this claim.)

like all the members are having one this sunday from 2 to 5, and we invite you and your friends and your enemies to dig it with us, frieda lee and her friends will be sounding all day for you, which is something to hear and see.

a few words of advice—let's make it groovy for all and try out the floor for us; we think we have the finest floor in the area, and also the finest area on the floor, we know it's the coldest, so bring something to sit on besides your date, that's unless you dig a cold floor and you don't dig your date, it's the cleanest, though; so dress accordingly.

a final note before sunday—we don't spend bread for ads unless we have something big, let's all prove our point and give frieda and her friends a warm reception so that she still has her friends, money breaks a lot of people up.
