

Records Don't Mean Anything to Mounties

By SANDY PADWE

The old saying "anything goes and usually does" really fits tomorrow's Penn State-West Virginia game in Morgantown.

The Lions and Mountaineers have been battling for 25 years and past records and point spreads never mean a thing.

The Lions take a six game win streak and a national ranking into tomorrow's game so you can bet that the Mountaineers will stop at nothing to knock off the high-flying Nittanians.

Pappy Lewis' crew has been having its troubles this fall with a 3-3 record. They lost to Syracuse, 44-0, last weekend.

But the week before the Mounties played their usual unpredictable game and pulled one of the big upsets of 1959 when they beat Pitt, 23-15.

Their other two wins were over Richmond and George Washington and they have lost to Maryland and Boston University.

West Virginia will rely mainly on the versatility of quarterback Danny Williams and the speed of halfback Ray Peterson to stop the Nittanians.

Williams, the alternate unit quarterback last fall, has been having a fine season.

"He's a real good quarterback," said Penn State coach Tor Toretto who scouted the Mounties for the last three weeks. "He passes well and is a running threat. He and Peterson give West Virginia a good backfield."

Williams, the mastermind of West Virginia's wing-t offense, has completed 20 passes in 57 attempts for 233 yards this fall and in the rushing department he has a 3.5 average in 22 carries.

Peterson is the fastest athlete at West Virginia in the last 25 years and is the southern conference 100-yard dash champ.

He broke loose for touchdown runs of 44, 60, and 65-yards as a sophomore two years ago. His inability to uncork any sizable run last year was attributed to poor blocking.

Peterson is West Virginia's top ground gainer this fall with 194 yards in 51 carries, an average of 3.8 yards per carry.

His running mate at halfback, John Marra, has the top rushing average, but hasn't carried as often as Peterson.

Marra has picked up 179 yards in 38 carries, for an average of 4.7 yards a carry.

Junior Bob Benke, a bruising

205 pounder, is the Mountaineer fullback and is the power man in the West Virginia offense.

The Mountie line which Toretto describes as "good-sized and fast" has plenty of lettermen.

Co-Captain Ben McComb from Sewickley, Pa., is West Virginia's top end. He's rated as one of the Mountie's best defensive ball players and is Williams' favorite target.

Sophomore Dave Hess is the other end but he is being hard-pressed by junior Ray Borlie.

At tackle West Virginia has two big veterans in 220-pound Carl Dannenberg and 215-pound Glenn Bowman. West Virginia line coach Russ Crane calls Dannenberg the best blocker he's seen in years.

Co-Captain Bill Lopasky heads the guard brigade. Pete Tolley, a converted tackle, is the other guard. A host of highly-touted sophomores are on hand to back up Lopasky and Tolly.

Two Pennsylvanians—lettermen Joe Wirth and Charley Lanasa—split the duty at center. Lanasa from Etna, Pa., played guard last year but has adjusted to the change quite well. Wirth, from Pittsburgh, was the starter much of last year.

After watching the Mounties in their last three games, Toretto feels that they'll give Rip Engle and the seventh-ranked Lions a tough ballgame.

"The game should go right down to the wire and the team that's toughest the longest will come out the winner," Toretto said.

Spirit High for Big Game Between Army, Falcons

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) —

Army and the Air Force football teams meet tomorrow for the first time, but a visit to the Military Academy here would make you believe they have been mortal enemies since the year 1.

The Army Cadets, both players and non-players, are giving the coming game the same serious thought and the secret drills reserved in the past only for such venerable foes as Navy and Notre Dame.

Don Usry, an end, put it this way: "We have plenty at stake and so do they. After this game they'll be comparing the best team, the best service and even the best academies. We don't intend to lose our prestige and if we should, we'd never live it down through our military careers."

Capt. Bill Carpenter, Army's lonely end, had this to say:

"This is a big game for us—our biggest so far, and just as big as the Navy game. We're excited and want to win this as badly as we do the Navy game, particularly since this is the only chance all of us will ever have to play them again.

Tomorrow's big game will be in New York's vast Yankee Stadium.

A giant pep rally is planned tonight in the Mess Hall—generally reserved for pre-Navy or Notre Dame game demonstrations.

Army will be seeking its fourth victory in six games.

The game will be televised on an eastern regional hookup by NBC.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The Air Force Falcons splashed through rain and snow yesterday in the final home workout for their first football game with Army tomorrow.

A column of incidental intelligence by Jockey brand

"APPLE OF THE EYE"

For this overworked phrase, we must turn to the world's richest source of quotations—the Bible. Specifically, the Old Testament, Deuteronomy, XXXII, 10: "He kept him as the apple of his eye."

"ALL IS NOT GOLD"

Seems like everybody had a crack at this piece of homely philosophy, but the originator seems to be Geoffrey Chaucer, in "The House of Fame", Book I: "Hyf is not all gold that glareth"

"COUNT 10..."

Was there any limit to the talents of Thomas Jefferson? Statesman, scientist, architect—he also authored this admonition: "When angry, count ten before you speak; if very angry, a hundred."
