

Phi Sig Kappa Wins As Warman Stars

By RON SMITH

Although the nippy temperatures numbed the efforts of most players in IM grid action last night, it had no such effect on Phi Sigma Kappa's Fred Warman.

Warman had a hand in all 31 points scored for his team as he passed and ran Phi Sigma Kappa to a 31-0 victory over Pi Lambda Phi. Gil Kahn and John Shottis each gathered in a pair of TD passes from Warman, all of them good for 30 yards or more.

Warman rolled out on a 40-yard running play for the other touchdown and kicked the extra point to complete the scoring. Phi Sigma Kappa's record is now 2-2.

Phi Gamma Delta boosted its record to 3-1 by beating Alpha Gamma Rho, 12-6. Bill Firing scored early for Phi Gam on an end sweep. Then a double pass from Firing to Steve Ott to Joe Opperman put the game on ice midway through the second half.

Luzerne edged Cambria, 7-6, on the strong right arm of George Cooper. Cooper passed to Curt Ramsey for the TD and then hit Larry Obert in the corner of the end zone for the deciding extra point.

Sigma Nu won its fourth game without defeat, winning over Acacia, 3-0. The difference in the game was Chick Rolling's field goal as Acacia missed its only field goal attempt early in the game.

Only one touchdown was scored in the remaining four games. That score was a 40-yard pass play going from Kenny Facemyer to Jim Nehls. It was the deciding factor as Schuylkill beat Berks, 6-0.

Tau Phi Delta and Zeta Beta Tau battled to a 2-2 tie in first downs at the end of regulation time. After three downs were given to each side, the ball was resting in ZBT's territory, making Tau Phi Delta the winner.

Phi Kappa Psi squeaked out a victory over Alpha Tau Omega, winning 3-2 on first downs in the other fraternity game of the evening.

Nittany 26, leading 2-0 in first downs at the half, was held to one in the second half while Nittany 31 countered with two. However, their 3-2 edge was good enough for a victory.

The boys from Nittany 44 were faced with the choice of playing in the nippy weather or remaining in their warm dorms. They chose the latter and lost by forfeit to Nittany 34.

Davis' Name Key to Orange Grid Fortunes

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — When you mention Davis of Syracuse be specific. They have two. Both are more important cogs in the unbeaten Orange football machine.

Roger Davis is a 6-3, 228-pound senior from Solon, Ohio, where he played his schoolboy football.

At Syracuse he is the short side guard who has discouraged enemy teams from trying his side of the line. Sometimes he is a linebacker on defense. Other times he is a tackle. A versatile man is Roger who came to college as an end.

Ernie Davis is a 19-year-old sophomore halfback, in the first five games he carried the ball 49 times and gained 371 yards, an average of 7.6 yards for each carry. He comes from Elmira, N.Y.

Even cautious Ben Schwartzwalder, his coach, admits he is coming along fine.

Syracuse football buffs rave about Ernie's blocking. And they tell how he tries to lure an enemy pass into his territory and then cut over at the last second to knock it down.

Roger Davis is exceptionally mobile for a big man. He is majoring in physical education with plans for a career as a coach and teacher.

Harriers to Have One Week Layoff

The Penn State cross country team will have a one-week layoff before their next dual meet against the mighty Jaspers of Manhattan.

The Lions already are insured of a winning season having defeated Cornell, Pitt and Navy. However, they have one loss on their slate. It came at the hands of Michigan State, defending IC4A and NCAA champions.

The harriers can expect stiff practice sessions to prepare them for the all-important Manhattan meet. Coach Chick Werner will use the layoff to iron out the team's rough spots.

After the Jasper meet, the harriers will compete in the IC4A and NCAA championships.

Lion Booters Will Host 'Inexperienced' Middies

A Navy soccer team hard hit by graduation will attempt to become the fifth team to beat Penn State this year, when it meets the Lions tomorrow on Beaver Field.

This year's Navy team is not as outstanding as the '58 squad which posted a 7-1-4 record. "Graduation losses were greater than usual," said Navy coach Glenn Warner, "our greatest single loss was Johnny Meehan, an All-American center half-back."

Warner has often referred to Meehan as the greatest soccer player in the history of the sport at the Naval Academy. Meehan won the outstanding athlete award last year at Navy. But he isn't the only loss. Seven other lettermen were graduated last June, leaving only five for this year.

In last year's Middie-Nittany affair, Navy won 3-2 with 2 goals by Dick Stengel and one by Meehan providing the winning margin. Although Meehan has departed, Stengel is still around and hopes to match last year's performance.

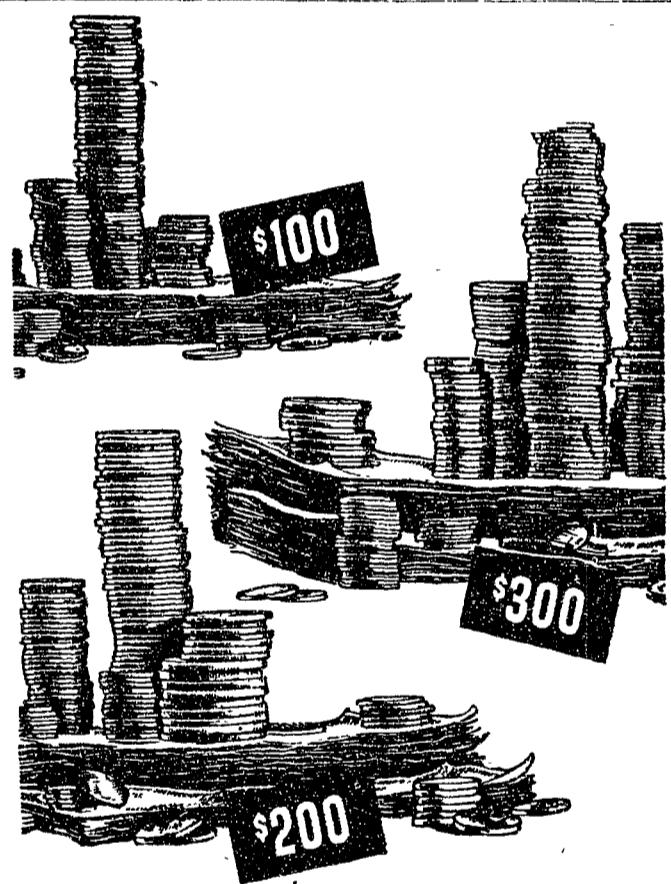

Navy got off to a slow start this year; however, they are improving as the season rolls on. Navy has played two Lion opponents. Maryland, who shutout the Lions Saturday, beat Navy 5-1 early in the year. Then Wednesday Navy, led by the three goal performance of sophomore Carmine Tortora, downed Bucknell, 5-0.

Navy usually plays a tight defensive game. When they get a lead of one or two goals they drop everyone back to guard the goal. This proved very effective last year as Navy was the only team to blemish Maryland's perfect record. The Middies held Maryland to a scoreless tie.

Navy's defense is hurting this year since both fullbacks, (George Yerkes and John Martin, and two of the three halfbacks, Meehan and Fred Carter) have graduated.

Just how much emphasis is put on defense by coach Warner can be shown by last year's record. In eleven games the Middies scored only 35 goals themselves, an average of 3.2—not very high for a team that lost only one match. However, the Middies allowed only 12 goals or an average of slightly over one. In four of their matches they shut out the opposition. Not more than two goals were scored against Navy in any one game last year.

CAN YOU GUESS HOW MUCH YOU ARE TAXED FOR "PUBLIC POWER"?

You and other Americans have already paid out $5,500,000,000 in tax money to put the federal government into the electric business.

That is about $100 per family. And this federal "public power" may cost each family $200 more!

That's exactly what could happen, if the "public power" lobbyists and pressure groups have their way. They're urging Congress to spend $10,000,000,000 more tax money to put the federal government still farther into the electric power business.

All this spending of your money for more and more federal "public power" is unnecessary. Independent electric light and power companies, like yours, are ready and able to supply all the electricity people will need—without depending on taxes.

Unnecessary "public power" spending goes on because most people don't know about it. So spread the word among your friends. When enough people know, you can be sure it will be halted.
