

Syracuse Players Favor Orange Bowl

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Syracuse players and fans, glowing over the Orange's No. 1 ranking in the weekly Associated Press poll, learned yesterday they could have an Orange Bowl berth for the asking.

The players voted for it but university officials postponed a decision until after Saturday's game with Colgate.

Lew Andreas, Syracuse athletic director, said after a two-hour meeting the university's Athletic Board would meet again to discuss a bowl game, probably Sunday night.

Andreas said university officials had talked with representatives of the Orange, Cotton and Liberty bowls.

In Miami, Chairman Van C. Kussrow of the Orange Bowl selection committee said last night

United Press International reported last night that Syracuse was not interested in playing in the Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia, Dec. 19.

the committee will confer Wednesday in the light of indecision at Syracuse.

Kussrow said, "There are Georgia, Georgia Tech, Tennessee and several others that we can't name now which have to be considered as an opponent for the Big Eight representative in the Orange Bowl game."

Earlier Kussrow said the bid would be extended if Syracuse would indicate quickly it was wanted.

If Syracuse were to play in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day, its opponent would be either Colorado, Iowa State or Kansas of the Big Eight Conference. Syracuse defeated Kansas 35-21, in its season opener this year.

Lions Rank 10th in AP Grid Poll

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

All-conquering Syracuse, the East's first major threat for a national college championship since the Davis-Blanchard era at Army, yesterday held the coveted No. 1 position in the Associated Press' weekly football poll.

By shading previously unbeaten Penn State 20-18 for their seventh victory of the year, the powerful Orangemen replaced Louisiana State's defending champions as the top team of the country.

This ended LSU's 14-week reign in the front spot. Dumped 14-13 by Tennessee, LSU dropped to third place behind Syracuse and Texas.

The nation's sports writers and sportscasters gave Syracuse only a 12-point margin over unbeaten Texas, which jumped from fourth to second place by virtue of its 13-12 triumph over Baylor. The Orange attracted 111 first place votes to 85 for Texas but the Longhorns picked up enough second and third place votes to make it close.

Northwestern, in the runner-up spot a week ago, dropped to sixth, one notch above its conqueror, Wisconsin.

Southern California, one of the four major unbeaten and untied teams placed fourth barely beating out once-beaten Mississippi. Auburn was eighth.

Tennessee jumped into ninth spot, displacing Clemson in the top 10 despite the Tigers' 6-0 victory over Duke. Penn State, which didn't disgrace itself in its loss to Syracuse, was tenth.

The top 10 with points based on 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second etc. First place votes and won-lost records in parentheses:

- Syracuse 111 (7-0) 2,325
- Texas 85 (8-0) 2,313
- Louisiana State 13 (7-1) 1,848
- Southern Cal. 14 (7-0) 1,576
- Mississippi 14 (7-1) 1,488
- Northwestern 2 (6-1) 1,311
- Wisconsin 19 (6-1) 1,243
- Auburn 9 (6-1) 808
- Tennessee 4 (5-1-1) 674
- Penn State (7-1) 608

Delaware Wins Title On Defensive Play

By DEAN BILLICK

Ask anyone at Delaware House what the most important factor is in winning football games and their answer might surprise you—defense.

The defensive minded Delaware club has not scored a touchdown this season, yet on the strength of last evening's victory over Jordan, 2-0, Delaware squeaked by with its fourth win of the year and with it the independent League G championship.

In other games last evening weird plays and unusual circumstances dominated action as Linden, Alpha Sigma Phi, Phi Mu Delta and Allegheny battled their way to victories and their respective league championships.

All teams last evening went into their contests with identical, 3-1, records. In order to win their championships the teams went all out for victory, pulling out all the stops. The most unusual plays occurred when Allegheny and Phi Mu Delta recovered their own kickoffs in their opponents end zones for quick touchdowns over Erie and Phi Sigma Delta. The rules state that a ball must be touched down by the offensive team in the end zone. This was not done.

Jordan House completely outplayed the "punchless wonders" from Delaware but went down to defeat as a snap from the center on a punt went awry, and sailed through the end zone for a safety and the eventual 2-0 win for Delaware. Jordan, who had previously beaten Delaware, led in first downs, 4-1.

Dick Hinkel found his receivers rangy and easy to spot, passing for three touchdowns to give Alpha Sigma Phi a resounding 27-6 victory over Pi Kappa Phi. An interesting sidelight of this game came on the final touchdown as drop kicking specialist Art Nagle missed his first extra point, in 14 attempts.

Phi Mu Delta reversed an earlier loss to Phi Sigma Delta with the aid of a recovered kickoff in the Phi Sig's end zone and a Ron Blend to Bob Luff 40-yard scoring pass to notch a 13-0 win.

After a scoreless first half Linden House led by the quarterbacking of Mike Pennington edged by Hemlock for a 3-0 first down victory. The closest resemblance to a score came when Pennington attempted a 35-yard field goal which fell short of its mark.

Perhaps the quickest and easiest touchdown in IM history occurred when Allegheny kicked off to Erie who allowed the ball to roll dead in the end zone. Tom Molnar of Allegheny calmly picked the ball up and in so doing scored the winning touchdown.

Although Erie outplayed and outclassed Allegheny this one lapse in its failure to down the ball in the end zone cost it the League F championship. Erie had three passes intercepted in the end zone and led in first downs, 7-1.

Jasper Coach Adds Fuel To Feud with Werner

By DICK GOLDBERG

More fuel was added to the fire which has been smoldering between Penn State track and cross country coach Chick Werner and Manhattan's mentor, George Eastment this weekend.

It all started in the Indoor IC4A championship meet when a Manhattan runner, Henry White, finished fourth in the 60-yard high hurdles. Third place judge Dave Levy, who picked Mike Herman of NYU for the third slot, said that he thought White finished ahead of Herman.

Eastment, in violation of the rules, spoke to Levy and the official changed his card, giving White third. This gave the Jaspers an extra point, enabling them to beat the Lions by 19/36 of a point.

Werner lodged an official protest and the Lions were declared the victors. All this proved embarassing to the Manhattan coach. Last week, the Nittany mentor asked Eastment to change the date of the Lion-Jasper cross-country meet from Saturday to Friday to enable the harriers to see the Syracuse football game. Eastment for some unknown reason, refused.

It turned out that Friday was a beautiful day for running a cross country meet. "However, it rained all Friday night and Saturday morning, making conditions next to impossible for running," Werner said.

Due to the bad conditions, Chick King, veteran harrier, sprained his ankle and was forced to stop early in the meet.

The Lions lost 27-30 and Werner feels that the difference was not having King. The Penn State mentor also believes that this meet, because of the weather, was not a true test of the runners.

In any case, the harriers will afford the Jaspers stiff competition in the IC4A championships to be held next Monday in New York.
