

Ten Seniors to Make Final Home Appearance

Pat Botula are the senior backfield men.

Penn State coach Rip Engle will go with five new faces in the starting lineup today.

Moving up from the second unit to the first are ends Bob Mitinger and John Bozick, Korbin, Janerette and sophomore halfback Roger Kochman.

Kochman has been nothing short of sensational in his last two games. Against West Virginia the Rocket picked up 111 yards in eight carries, including a 52-yard touchdown run.

Then last weekend against Syracuse he ran a kickoff back 100 yards for a touchdown and also scored on a 17-yard dash off tackle.

Kochman will be joined in the backfield by halfback Jimmy Kerr, Botula and Lucas.

Lucas is eighth in the nation in total offense going into today's encounter and is in line for All-American honors because of his fine all-around play.

Rounding out the starting eleven will be Jay Huffman at center, Stynchula at tackle and Kohlhaas at guard.

The second unit has Norm Neff and Henry Opperman at the terminals, Tom Mulraney and Stew Barber at tackle, Bill Popp and Sam Stellatella at guard and Dick Wilson at center.

Galen Hall is the quarterback and Sam Sobczak is the fullback. Dick Hoak and Dick Pae will be at the halfback slots.

Eddie Caye, who usually plays with the second unit, was hampered by a cold all week but should be ready for duty today.

Holy Cross will go into today's game minus two of its top stars. Sophomore fullback Bill Clark, who picked up 67 yards in 11 carries against Boston U. last week, will miss the game because of a bruised hip.

And Crusader captain Charley Pacunas will be limited to spot duty due to an elbow injury.

The rest of the Crusader team is in good shape.

Jack Fellm will take over for

Bob Mitinger

Pacunas while letterman Bernie Buzynski, the second leading passer, receiver, will be at the other end slot.

At tackle Holy Cross has John Carullo and John Whalen. The guards will be Vince Promuto, rated a sure fire pro prospect by the Holy Cross brass, and Tom Henehan, a 220 pound senior. Ken Desmarais is the center.

The backfield will be composed of Ken Komodzinski at quarterback, Kevin Malone and Dick Skinner at halfback and John Esposito at fullback.

Malone and Skinner are the two top leading ground gainers on the Holy Cross squad and both are breakaway runners. "They're two of the finest running backs we've had here in a long time," said Anderson.

Malone has averaged 55 yards per carry while Skinner is averaging 5.2 this fall.

Bowl Hopefuls Play In Day's Top Games

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Nine of the nation's top 10 teams join 13 other bowl hopefuls today in trying to unscramble the postseason football picture. In addition, today's action also will try to clear up some conference titles and settle a couple of longstanding rivalries.

Only Southern California and Auburn among the current top teams in the Associated Press weekly poll of sportswriters and broadcasters are ineligible for post-season play. They were banned by the NCAA for violation of recruiting practices.

Here is how the day's play can affect the following major bowls:

ROSE BOWL: Northwestern, ranked sixth with a 6-1 over-all record and 4-1 in the Big Ten, is tied with seventh-ranked Wisconsin, which has an identical record. Northwestern plays improving Michigan State while the Badgers take on tough Illinois. The loser can almost forget about a trip to Pasadena.

Washington, ranked 13th with a 2-1 Far West Five Conference mark and 7-1 over-all, plays Big Five member California. Southern Cal, leading the Big Five with 7-0, meets the Southwest Conference's Baylor. Independent Oregon (7-1) plays Washington State (5-2), another independent contender.

SUGAR BOWL: Southeastern Conference's leader Georgia, 5-0, and 7-1 over-all, plays eighth-ranked Auburn, ineligible for bowl play.

Third-ranked LSU, the top team for 14 consecutive weeks until its 19-game victory string was snapped by Tennessee last week, must beat Mississippi State to stay in the running. Fifth-ranked Mississippi tries its luck with Tennessee, with the winner a top-bet for the New Orleans classic. LSU, Mississippi and Tennessee are all tied with 3-1 SEC records.

The visitors could be drawn from Atlantic Coast Conference leader Clemson (6-1), and (5-0) in the ACC, or Texas, Texas Christian, Arkansas or Southern Methodist from the Southwest Conference. Clemson plays ACC-buddy

Maryland and a victory will clinch at least a tie for its conference title.

COTTON BOWL: Texas, second-ranked nationally with an 8-0 record and a 4-0 mark in the conference, plays Texas Christian, 18th ranked with a 4-1 SWC mark and 5-2 over-all. A loss eliminates TCU and all but nails down the Longhorns' spot. But a Texas loss to TCU and an Arkansas victory over SMU puts the Razorbacks in first place in the conference. A loss by either SMU or Arkansas strikes disaster at their bowl hopes.

Just who will visit the Cotton Bowl may be decided in those crucial SEC games, or in top-ranked Syracuse's game against Colgate. Syracuse should have no difficulty with its up-state New York rival. There is strong support in Syracuse to return to the Cotton Bowl.

ORANGE BOWL: The home team won't be known until at least next Saturday. The Big Eight, which is host, can't send back defending champion Oklahoma, currently leading the conference and meeting independent Army. There is a three-way tie for second between Iowa State, Kansas and Colorado. Only Colorado (3-2) plays a Big Eight game, meeting Nebraska.

The visitors on New Year's day could be Syracuse, or an SEC or Southwest Conference team.

GATOR BOWL: Has its pick from the SEC, Southwest or ACC, plus a shot at tenth-ranked Penn State, which meets Holy Cross. The Nittany Lions, 7-1 after being dumped from the unbeaten ranks last week by Syracuse, also can ruin any postseason hopes of the Crusaders, 6-1.

Three Teams Score Shutouts in Bowling

By JOHN MORRIS

The Alpha Epsilon Pi, Phi Gamma Delta and Theta Chi kegglers all hung horsecollars on their opponents in IM fraternity bowling league matches last week.

Alpha Epsilon Pi, with Bart Friedman and Mary Cable showing the way, squashed Theta Xi, 4-0. Friedman took individual honors with a 201 game and his 515 series was second only to Cable's 525.

Theta Delta Chi defeated Tau Kappa Epsilon in spite of the 507 series rolled by TKE's Gene Flick. Phi Gamma Delta registered the final whitewash of the evening by downing Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 4-0.

In the closest match of the evening Alpha Chi Rho dropped Phi Delta Theta by only nine pins in the match score. Alpha Chi Rho managed to also win two of the single games by narrow margins and walked off the alleys with a hard-won 3-1 triumph.

Gene Greenburg's 203 game and 497 series were enough to insure Phi Epsilon Pi's victory over Phi Sigma Kappa, 3-1. Harry Davidson splintered the pins for a 197 game and a sizzling 561 series as Sigma Phi Epsilon bounced Sigma Nu, 3-1.

Sigma Pi downed Beta Sigma Rho, 3-1, as John Cyle garnered high series with a 493. Acacia also triumphed by a 3-1 count behind Dave Juers' 485 series. The men of Phi Sigma Delta were the victims of the Acacia assault.

In other action Pi Kappa Alpha hung a 3-1 defeat on Chi Phi on the strength of Doug Totten's 181 game and 459 series. Frank Zug led Triangle over Phi Kappa Sigma's kegglers with a 470 series. Dave Ogden bowled a 195 game and 471 series for Phi Kappa Sig.

Senator Takes Aim At Pros' TV Hold

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said yesterday he will offer legislation to protect college football from any possible threat of competition from the televised professional games.

Kefauver, who is in Tennessee, said through a spokesman he will urge Congress to forbid the televising of any pro game by a station within a 75-mile radius of a city in which college teams are playing on the same day unless the college teams consent.

This is the rule now employed by the National Football League to protect its own teams from conflicts with free home television.

Casper Shoots 64 To Lead Golf Open

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — National Open Champion Billy Casper humiliated par with a record-breaking 64 yesterday and lumbered into the lead at the halfway mark of the $15,000 Lagayette Open Golf Tournament.

The 28-year-old putting stylist from Apple Valley, Calif., showed a 36-hole total of 133 and led runnerup Jim Ferree of Crystal River, Fla., by three strokes.

Casper's round was the lowest competitive mark ever posted over the 6,700-yard Oakburne Country Club course. He needed only 27 putts in carding six birdies. He didn't go over par on any hole.
