The Dreamer Has Another Fan

By Sandy Padwe
Collegian Sports Editor

Two years ago Bud Dudley had a real wild dream. It had something to do with a bowl game in Philadelphia. Everyone got a big laugh out of it, but to Dudley it was serious business and today the dream has materialized.

Dudley is the co-promoter of the Liberty Bowl, the baby of the post-season games. Dudley's "dream" goes off Dec. 19 in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, seating capacity, 102,000.

But whether Dudley's venture ends in success or failure depends on the teams for what Dudley hopes will be an annual classic.

So far only one bid has been sent out, to Penn State, and the Nittany Lions' participation in the game could be the difference when the final receipts are in.

"I've worked on this thing for two years—two years for one day," Dudley said. "I've spoken to 400 industrial groups. I haven't had a vacation I've staked everything on it I could go bankrupt. Frankly my wife thinks I'm nuts."

Dudley's having a tough time getting support in Philadelphia for the game. "What burns me up," he said, "isn't the cynicism I've met I expected that. But why the critics? I don't deserve that. This is a dead serious thing to me."

"One of the unexpected things has been the opposition of the department stores," Dudley said. "The game is on the last Saturday before Christmas and that's a big shopping day. They don't understand that a bowl crowd isn't like an Army-Navy crowd that comes in for one day, or an afternoon."

"A bowl crowd is a fun crowd. It comes in a few days ahead of the game. The people have money, I think they'd go to department stores and buy gifts to send home," he said.

Just why Dudley is having so much trouble is hard to figure. All the man wants to do is help restore grid prestige to the East and make a buck too. You certainly can't blame him for that.

If this game turned out to be a success, then Philadelphia would become the grid capitol of the East. The city already has the Army-Navy game, the Eagles and a rapidly improving Penn team. A successful bowl would be the icing on the cake.

And Dudley could see his dream come true if he gets the chance.

If Penn State accepts the bid, he's got a good start. But if the Lions don't he's in plenty of trouble. Penn State's the only Eastern team with a good enough record to pull fans into the huge south Philadelphia cavern.

With the Lions in the bowl, Dudley would probably get a nice turnout from the Penn State alumni in the Philadelphia area—and there are plenty of them.

Dudley feels that a crowd of about 50,000 would net each participating school close to $140,000. The figures go no direction but up from there.

Right now there are seven teams in contention for the visiting team bid. Mississippi, T.C.U., Georgia, L.S.U., Clemson, Arkansas, and Georgia Tech are in the running. Air Force stands an outside chance.

All have expressed interest in playing in the Bowl and all asked for more information.

Clemson seems to be taking a real positive attitude about the whole affair. Coach Frank Howard told Dudley and co-promoter, George Kerrigan that the Tigers would like to get a piece of Penn State. "We can beat them," he said.

Mississippi officials too like the idea of playing in the Liberty Bowl. "We think we play a real good football and we'd like to show you folks up north how we play it. And we've heard a lot about that Richie Lucas. Might be we'll see him before it's all over with," said one Ole Miss mogul.

The Lions are still being considered for the Gator and Orange Bowls, even though they're not listed in the top three for the Miami get-together.

The feeling in this corner is that the Lions would do just as good, if not better financially in the Liberty Bowl.

With Penn State in the Liberty Bowl, Dudley shouldn't have too much trouble snagging a top-name opponent. Anyway we hope not.

You have to give Bud Dudley credit. He's really trying. And if he succeeds all of a sudden he'll be Philadelphia's hero.

I too, Larry Merchant, am rooting like hell for him.

Ingo-Moore Match May Be Set Up

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fight Manager Jack Kearns said yesterday he hopes to set up a title match between world heavy-weight champion Ingemar Johansson and his light heavy king, Archie Moore, in Los Angeles next summer.

And sooner or later, said the veteran ring figure, he favors a fight between Moore and Sugar Robinson in New York.

"But," Kearns added, "either Johansson or Robinson better get off the dime."

"I have news for them. Archie Moore is on the verge of a new career. Movies. I ain't jokin' and there's a lot of money involved." Moore is presently enacting a feature role in a Samuel Goldwyn Jr. production of Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn."

Young Goldwyn is frankly surprised and delighted with Archie as an actor.

"I have been talkin' with Goldwyn the last few days," Kearns related. "I want to know if he is serious about Moore in an acting career."

"Archie can't act and fight, too, and I got to know which he's gonna do."

Pitt Soccer Club Boasts 5-3-1 Record

By BILL BARBER

Already faced with the knowledge that this year marks the first losing season in 15 years and only the second in 40 years, the Penn State soccer squad will have one last chance to regain some of its lost prestige when it meets a formidable Pitt team Saturday at 10 a.m. on Beaver Field.

The Lion booters, saddled with a 2-6 record for the season's efforts, will be all out to stop Pitt this weekend in the fifth meeting of these two rivals.

For the first time since the series started in 1955, the two teams are rated on an even par. Pitt comes into the season finale boasting an impressive record of five wins, three losses, and one tie.

According to Pitt soccer mentor, Leo Bemis, the Panthers best effort of the season came against Army on the Cadet's home ground. The Panthers went all out against previously undefeated Army and were leading the Cadets 2-1 up to the closing minute of the game. But the Cadets came through in the final 32 seconds with the tying goal to dash Pitt's hopes for an upset.

Pitt's three losses came at the hands of Navy, Michigan State and Grove City College. Grove City handed Pitt its worst defeat in a game similar to the Penn State-Bucknell affair. The Panthers couldn't get moving against Grove City and were cut down, 2-1.

"This year's team is one of the best I've coached. While our record is not as good as it could have been, we've been playing good ball all season except for the letdown against Grove City," said the Pitt coach.

The Nittany booters come into Saturday's game boasting four straight wins over Pitt. Last year the Lions downed the Panthers, 5-2.

Pitt Recalls--

of Rip Engle's reign nine years ago.

But last year's comeback win was the most savory for the inhabitants of the Nittany lair.

After spotting the Panthers a 14-0 halftime lead, the Lions returned to the field completely rejuvenated for the final 30 minutes and, behind the accurate throwing arm of senior quarterback Al Jacks, marched unrelentingly down the field for four touchdowns and a 25-21 conquest.

The Blue and White gridders had been denied a score in the last 11 seconds of the first half when Pitt halfback Chuck Reinhold batted down a Jacks aerial after the Lions had driven 74 yards in 2½ minutes to the Pitt 2-yard line.

But there was no denying them in the second half. Pat Botula plunged for one score. Norm Neff caught passes from Dick Hoak and Jacks for the next two and Don Jonas swept left end for the winning margin after Hoak made an amazing reverse field run to change an apparent 10-yard loss into a 10-yard gain and a first down on the Pitt 8-yard line.

Boxer Ordered Retired

ST. PAUL, Minn., (AP) — The Minnesota Athletic Commission yesterday ordered the retirement of Al Andrews, St. Paul middle-weight, "for his physical welfare." Andrews, once a rated middle-weight, has lost 16 of his last 18 fights, 9 of them in a row. Several were by knockouts.

Hasty Indoor Drill Called for 'Pros'

By JOHNNY BLACK

The Collegian Pros were hastily assembled at an indoor practice by Head Coach "Mauler" Malick yesterday for black-board drill after he received a report from his scouts that the Pitt News is planning to spring a new double-winged, slot-back I-formation with flanker variations and a floating wayback.

But the unique innovation in this ultra conservative system is the "lonesome guard." Contrary to Army's famous lonesome end formation the Pitt News Hawks' erstwhile mentor Ben Chasswalder has pulled one of his interior linemen out of the forward wall and stationed him 20 yards away along the sideline.

It seems the fellow has halitosis and his job is to "guard" the water bucket. It seems somewhat significant that the lonesome guard is always on the sideline in front of the Penn State bench where he can breathe on the Collegian players.

Collegian coaches plan to protest the legality of this new formation to the NCAA. (National Conference of Ambidextrous Athletes.)

Coach Chasswalder is pulling all stops in devising his plan of attack this year, since this is the last year of his 408-year contract and he "wants to go out with a win."

"We were pleasantly surprised when I started checking up on last year's game," said Chasswalder. "We thought the score was 35-0, but found out it was only 26-0, so we figure we've got a nine-point running start already."

He refused to comment on the outcome of the game, however, till he studies the movies of last year's game.

The Pitt News has never beaten the Collegian throughout the action-packed one-year history of the tradition-teeped battle. In an effort to pull an upset, Coach Chasswalder has announced some changes in his lineup.

Currently the Pitt News offensive unit is directed by John Unichass, but he is being hard-pressed for the signal-calling post by Richie Luehass.

Not to be outdone by LSU's Chinese Bandits, Coach Chasswalder has come up with a defensive unit which he refers to as the Japanese Kami Kazes.

Red Hockey Team Wins

LONDON (AP) — A Moscow all-star team routed the touring Brockton, Mass., ice hockey club 17-0 yesterday, Moscow radio said. It was the third straight lopsided loss for the American team, previously beaten 12-3 and 17-1.

They are some of the fairer members of his staff — Lynn Monroe, Joanne Doleman and Debbie Willson. Chasswalder figures this tantalizing trio should be able to stop any Collegian runner dead in his tracks.

Advanced ticket sales are running high around the Golden Triangle and scalpers are already in evidence. Bowl promotion officials stated, "The Collegian Pros' impressive showing in last year's inaugural elevated the prestige of the bowl to such heights that we expect to offer a guarantee of $250,000 this year. Provided of course that it doesn't snow. That's the risk with these northern bowls."

In another official statement the Bowl hierarchy announced that Frothy WOULD be permitted on the field.

KC Names Elliot As New Manager

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bob Elliott, 42, manager of Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League and former major league outfielder-third baseman, was signed yesterday to manage the Kansas City Athletics.

The signing was announced at a press conference by Parke Carroll, A's general manager. Carroll said the contract is for one year but declined to say at what salary.

Elliott succeeds Harry Craft, who piloted the A's to seventh-place finishes in 1958 and 1959. Craft was fired at the end of the 1959 season but has taken a job in the club's player development program.
