University Puts Exhibition Case In HUB Lounge

The National Collegiate Gymnastics Championship's and the Indoor Track and Field Championship's gold trophies, which were won by the University's gym and track teams last year, are now on display in the new exhibition case in the Hetzel Union main lounge.

The case was put into the HUB two days ago for the purpose of displaying high awards won by the University.

Five months ago, President Eric A. Walker, felt that there should be a place to display high recognition awards other than the display cases in Recreation Hall, which exhibit only athletic awards.

William F. Fuller, manager of the HUB, and James H. Coogan, director of Public Information, will nominate a committee, which will determine the type of awards put into the case according to their importance to the University.

--There are two thousand magazine publishing firms in the United States with a total volume of more than one and one-half billion dollars annually.

Graduates Hear Lecture By Psychologist-Educator

By KATIE DAVIS

Are ninth graders ready to make pre-vocational decisions which might have a profound effect on their later lives?

This was one of the questions raised by Dr. Donald E. Super, psychologist-educator at Columbia University, in a speech, "The Vocational Maturity of Adolescent Boys," given Thursday night.

Super's speech was the fourth lecture in the Graduate School Series.

The age of 14, the average age of the ninth grader, is an age of decision, Super said. At this time adolescents must decide whether to take subjects which will prepare for a college education or entry into the labor market.

Super described a study he did in 1951 of 105 ninth grade boys in Middletown, N.Y., to investigate vocational maturity at this age.

In his study Super used five indices of vocational maturity: orientation to vocational choice, information and the planning of ways of entering this vocation, consistency of vocational choices, crystallization of traits associated with this vocation and realism of vocational preference.

"At 14 a boy has some orientation to the problem of vocational choice," Super said, "but that is about all. They have very little information about the post-entry side of a vocation."

Why does the educational system require these pre-vocational decisions when a 14-year-old is not ready to make such choices, Super asked.

Since these decisions are demanded, Super said, vocational counseling programs in schools must be improved. The whole school program should help students to find goals they can aspire to and teach students habits of success.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

Dr. Frood, Ph.T.T.

DR. FROOD'S MORAL OF THE MONTH

Brevity is the soul of wit. Which is why the sight of a girl in a Bikini invariably brings a smile to a man's face.

Dear Dr. Frood: Do you think next year's dresses will cover the knees?
Clothes-Conscious

Dear Clothes-Conscious: They'd better cover more than that.

Dear Dr. Frood: Do you think a boy should kiss a girl on their first date?
Shy

Dear Shy: She would seem to be the logical choice.

Dear Dr. Frood: I admire my roommate very much, so I try to be like him. He smokes Luckies. Do you think I should smoke the same cigarette he does?
Awed

Dear Awed: No. Ask him for an unused Lucky.

DR. FROOD ON QUERIES BEST LEFT UNQUERIED

Years of experience have taught me never to ask a girl these questions:

*Shouldn't we skip the garlic?
What happened to the fraternity pin?
Wow! Is that your roommate?
Do you mind turning out that light?
You mean that isn't a beanie?
How come you never wear shorts?
Why don't you smoke your own Luckies?*

Dear Dr. Frood: I read a great deal so I never have time for girls. Am I missing anything?
Literate

Dear Literate: Only a few marbles.

Dear Dr. Frood: The guy next to me copys from my paper. What should I do?
Truthful

Dear Truthful: Warn him. Quick!

Dear Dr. Frood: When I refuse to go out with unattractive girls, my friends say, "Beauty is only skin-deep." What do you say?
Fussy

Dear Fussy: That's deep enough.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.

TOBACCO AND TASTE TOO FINE TO FILTER!

Product of The American Tobacco Company—"Tobacco is our middle name"
