

LA Council to Hold First Career Day

J. Edward Smith, assistant general manager of the personnel administration department of Armstrong Cork Co., will discuss "Liberal Arts Graduates in Industry" 7:15 p.m. Thursday in 214 Boucke as the conclusion of the annual Liberal Arts Career Day.

The program, which is sponsored by the Liberal Arts

5 To Compete For Mil Ball Queen Title

Five finalists were named last night for the Military Ball Queen contest. The Mil Ball will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. tonight in Recreation Hall.

They are Bonnie Bower, sophomore in liberal arts from Syracuse, N.Y.; Joan Karlow, junior in elementary education from Mt. Carmel; Virginia Martindale, who is employed at the Student Placement Service and is from Ardmore, N.Y.; Maxine Miller, sophomore in secondary education from Sayre; and Barbara Watchorn, freshman in arts and letters from Pittsburgh.

Earlier this week cadet judges from the United States Military Academy at West Point chose 10 semi-finalists. On the basis of interviews held Wednesday evening, members of the groups sponsoring the dance selected the five coeds.

The queen will be named at the dance tonight by the heads of the military departments.

Dress for the dance will be military formal and music will be provided by the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra.

Profs Attend Conference

Joseph G. Rayback, head of the Department of Labor Education, and Helmut J. Golatz, assistant professor of industrial relations, participated in the Conference sponsored by the National Institute of Labor Education held at Madison, Wisconsin.

Student Council, is designed to acquaint undergraduates in the liberal arts curricula with job opportunities.

There will also be seven workshops held from 3 to 5 p.m. Thursday in the following fields:

- Graduate work, 212 HUB, Henry W. Knerr, associate dean of the graduate school.

- Retailing, 217 HUB, Diane Drake, public relations department of Woodward and Lothrop Department Store in Washington, D.C.

- Government service, 216 HUB, John Kearney, assistant college recruiting representative for the Third Civil Service Region.

- Mathematics and Sciences, 214 HUB, L. T. Dunlap and Henry G. Barone, associate professors of mathematics.

- Sociology, 213 HUB, Mrs. Margaret Skell, University of Chicago School of Social Work case worker and Donald L. Cohen, New York School of Social Work group worker.

- Journalism, advertising and public relations, 215 HUB, John Vairo, instructor in journalism.

- Speech, radio and television, 218 HUB, Dr. Robert T. Oliver, head of the Department of Speech and Dr. Harold E. Nelson, associate professor of speech.

Three Faculty Members Attend War Conference

Three faculty members of the Department of History attended the third annual Civil War Conference at Gettysburg College, recently.

They were Dr. Philip S. Klein, professor of history; Dr. Warren W. Hassler, assistant professor of American history; and Dr. Ari Hoogenboom.

WSGA Vote Alters Code Of Elections

The WSGA Senate made revisions in its election code Wednesday night.

It was decided that members of the election committee rather than voting members of the Senate would take charge of the freshman elections and be present when ballots were tabulated.

The elections code was also amended to specify that first and second semester freshman women be allowed to run for office. Previously it did not state that second semester women could run.

In other business it was announced that members of Freshman Council would act as hostesses for the Freshman Tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in Atherton Lounge. The tea will be given in honor of upperclass women.

It was also announced that the clothing drive sponsored by WSGA would end tomorrow. Women may still donate clothing to the drive if they leave it in their housemother's office by tomorrow. President Jessie Janjigian said. The drive is co-sponsored with the Junior IFC. Fraternity collections, will also end tomorrow.

The Senate approved the appointment of Marcia Brown, junior in home economics from Philipsburg, as publicity chairman.

Chem Prof to Give Talk

Dr. Leo H. Sommer, associate professor of chemistry, will address a Symposium on Organometallic Chemistry in Baton Rouge, La., which is planned as a part of the Southwest Regional meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Ag Students Take Honors In Stock Show

In the midst of Liberty Bowl confusion, loyalty oath discussions, and all the other much-publicized news, several faculty members and students from the Department of Animal Husbandry traveled to Chicago and quietly brought back honors from the livestock convention.

This year there were entries from 48 states and Canada in the annual show which runs for a week. According to Herman Purdy, assistant professor of animal husbandry, "Penn State did very well indeed in bringing back several grand champions and reserve grand champions."

Purdy explained that in each class, approximately five winners are selected. From those five, one is named grand champion and a second is called reserve grand champion.

The University won the Grand Champion Polled Shorthorn Bull, the Reserve Grand Champion Polled Herford Heifer, Reserve Grand Champion Group of Three Steers.

"We also placed first in the sheep division, Shropshire Wether, and took five first places in the beef cattle division," Purdy said.

Eng Prof Attends Meeting

Dr. Benjamin A. Whisler, professor and head of the Department of Civil Engineering, attended the recent meeting of the Council of American Society for Engineering Education in St. Louis, Mo.

KOOL ANSWER

14 Student Shopping Days In

State College

KOOL CROSSWORD

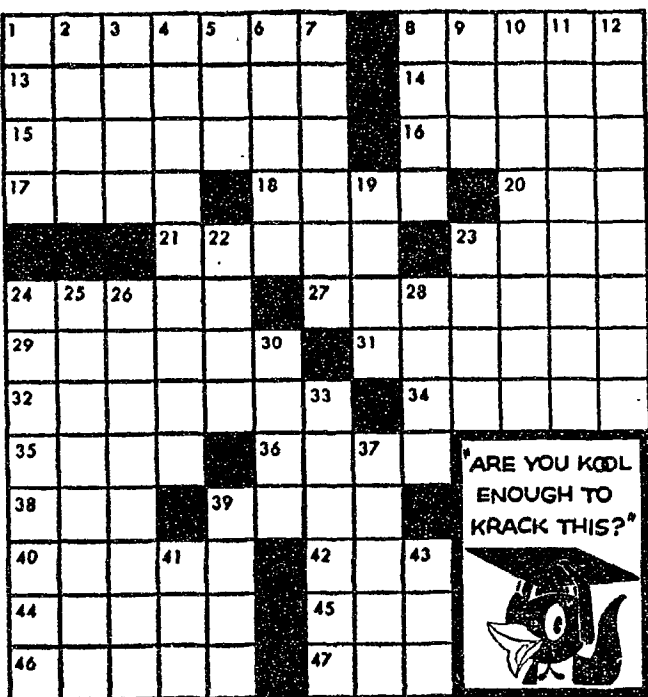

No. 11

ACROSS

- Chorus girl
- Opposite of a seaker
- Part of an airplane wing
- Almost remote way to act
- Likes blondea better, for instance
- Come all the way up to Kool's Menthol
- Shape of diamonds or tones
- These boats take guts
- This can be constricting
- Sleepy gas
- Gin
- Wrist operation
- Dig it all—well, almost all
- Guy in "Guys and Dolls"
- Take out, but not on a date
- Meanwhile, back at the Latin class
- Proboscised
- Thunderbird's Papa
- A kind of walk
- Little Florida
- It used to come before piano
- This is legal
- A lot of sailor
- This is how Bardot comes in
- de Franco
- Classroom resting places
- Kools are the refreshing

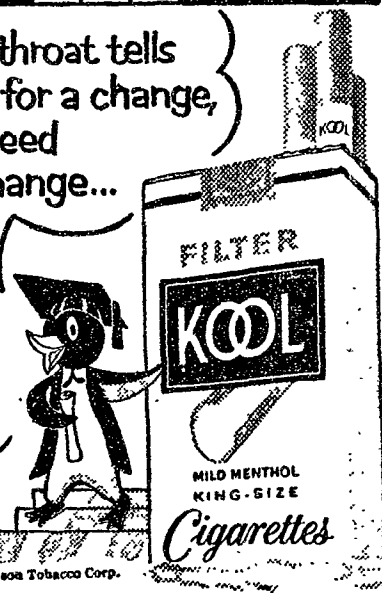

DOWN

- Li'l Abner's creator
- What this gun is for
- Genus of olives
- Kool's Menthol Magic leaves you more
- Cockney way of saying 2 Down
- Cold hand at bridge?
- Followed Sue?
- They hang on to skirts
- little teapot
- Mouthfuls of frankfurter?
- Bleach
- Remembered—her phone number?
- Kind of iron
- Them—hills
- Venus' home town
- Cried in a ladylike way
- Oil from wool for your hair
- Magnetizes men
- Mr. Autry
- Kools have a very—flavor
- Pop tune of the 20's
- Time for a change? Smoke
- Roscoe
- It rhymes with jerk
- Alpha's last name

When your throat tells you it's time for a change, you need a real change...

YOU NEED THE Menthol Magic
OF KOOL

The public writes the check for "public power"—in taxes

You and other Americans have already been taxed $5,500,000,000 for federally-owned "public power" systems.

And now the "public power" promoters are after $10,000,000,000 more—almost twice again as much—to put the federal government deeper and deeper into the electric business.

All this spending for more and more federal "public power" is unnecessary. For the hundreds of independent electric light and power companies, like yours, are ready and able to supply all the low-price electricity people will need—without depending on taxes.

"Public power" spending goes on because most people don't know they are paying the cost. The best way to stop it is to tell your friends and neighbors what's happening. When enough people understand, you can be sure something will be done to halt this unnecessary tax spending.

WEST PENN POWER

a tax-paying, business managed company working to help your community grow

