

Chess Team Wins Three Of Four Weekend Meets

The University's undefeated varsity chess team compiled three more wins and a draw in meets last weekend.

West Point, the Marshall Chess Club and the City College of New York were defeated 3-2. The match with Columbia University was a 2½-2½ draw.

Members of the team participating in these games were: Anthony Cantone, junior in aeronautical engineering from Philadelphia; William Bickham, senior in engineering science from Philadelphia; Richard Somerville, sophomore in meteorology from Alexandria, Va.; Frederick Shaffer, senior in physics from Somerset; and Gerald Eckman, senior in physics from Millersville.

The team has also defeated the University of Pittsburgh's "A" and "B" teams and the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

The Pitt chess team, the present state champion, lost 4-1 to the University players.

Members of the Chess Club beat the Altoona Chess Club 4½-1½ in a match Sunday in the Hetzel Union cardroom.

Dr. Orrin Frink remained undefeated to win the club's six-week tournament. In a three-way tie for second with 5½ wins each were: William Bickham, Gerald Eckman and Eugene Grumer.

Grumer, the club's vice president, considers Bickham "one of the team's strongest players." Bickham placed fifth in the recent Long Island Open Amateur Tournament.

Next weekend the team meets Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

Air Force to Test 347 Sophomores

The Air Force Officer Qualifying Test will be administered at 8 a.m. Saturday in 10 Sparks and 347 sophomore cadets desiring placement in the advanced ROTC program will be tested.

"This aptitude test has been used since World War II to determine whether a cadet's talents lie in an administrative or technical line," said Col. Orin H. Rigley Jr., professor of air science. The 8-hour examination tests qualities of leadership and aptitude to flying and navigation.

Frosh May Apply For Board Posts

Applications for positions on the Freshman Class Advisory Board are now available at the main desk of the Hetzel Union Building, Robert "Kit" Carson, freshman class president, said.

Applications should be returned to the HUB desk not later than Saturday.

The board will consist of 30 members selected by interviews that will be held next week. Applicants will be notified by postcard as to time of interview.

The board assists the president with freshman class projects during the year.

Harvard Professor Discusses Geology

Geologists are particularly interested in the interior of the earth as the cause of the earth's surface features. Dr. Francis Buch, distinguished visiting professor from Harvard University said last night.

Buch, introduced as "one of the outstanding scholars of geophysics in this country," said that while much valuable information about the earth's internal structure has been obtained from the activities of volcanoes and especially earthquakes, there is no actual universal interpretation of the features of the interior.

However, he said, much progress has been made in calculations of the behavior of internal matter through recent developments of instruments capable of measuring substances at extremely high pressures.

TV OR NOT TV

The academic world has made its first tentative steps into television—a few lectures, a few seminars, a few lab demonstrations—but colleges have not yet begun to use television's vast capacity to dramatize, to amuse, to stir the senses, to unshackle the imagination. Like, for example, the following:

ANNOUNCER: Howdy, folksies. Well, it's time again for that lovable, laughable pair, Emmett Twonkey Magruder, Ph. D., and Felicia May Crimscott, M.A., in that rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101... And here they are—the team that took the "hiss" out of "history"—Emmett Twonkey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscott!

DR. MAGRUDER: Howdy, folksies. A funny thing happened to me on the way to my doctorate. A mendicant approached me and said, "Excuse me, sir, will you give me 25 cents for a sandwich?" and I replied, "Perhaps I will, my good man. Let me see the sandwich."

What-um You-um Want-um?

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Oh, how droll, Dr. Magruder! How delicious! You're a regular Joe Penner!... But enough of badinage. Let us turn to our rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101.

DR. MAGRUDER: Today we will dramatize the taut and tingling story of John Smith and Pocahontas. I will play Captain Smith and Miss Magruder will play Pocahontas.

ANNOUNCER: But first a message from our sponsor... Folksies, have you tried Alpine Cigarettes yet? Have you treated yourself to that fresh filtration, that subtle coolness, that extra-long, extra-efficient filter? Have you? Hmmm? ... If not, wake you tobaccoist and get some Alpines at once! ... And now to our grim and gripping story. Picture, if you will, a still summer night. An Indian maid stands by a moonlit brook. Suddenly she hears a footstep behind her. She turns...

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Oh! John Smith! You-um startle-um me-um!

DR. MAGRUDER: Howdy, Pocahontas. What are you doing by the brook?

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Just washing out a few scalps. But what-um you-um want-um?

DR. MAGRUDER: I came to see the Chief.

MISS CRIMSCOTT: You-um can't-um. Chief is leaving for Chicago.

DR. MAGRUDER: On what track?

ANNOUNCER: And speaking of tracks, stay on the right track with Alpines—the track that leads straight to smoking pleasure, to fun, to frolic, to sweet content... And now back to those two gassers, Emmett Twonkey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscott.

DR. MAGRUDER: Well, folksies, that's all for today. See you next week, same time, same channel.

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Stay tuned now for "William Cullen Bryant—Girl Intern."

ANNOUNCER: And remember, folksies, there was a time when you needed to smoke two cigarettes to get what you get from one Alpine—one cigarette for light menthol, one for high filtration. Today you can get it all in a single Alpine, which means you no longer have to go around smoking two cigarettes at a time, causing your friends to snigger, and violating the fire laws.
