

Editorial Opinion

Give Presidents the Job

The SGA Assembly will have a chance to solve the problem of class vice presidents and secretary-treasurers if it accepts recommendations to be presented tonight.

The Standing Committee on Legislation will ask Assembly members to approve the appointment of class officers by the class presidents, should they see fit to have such officers.

This issue came up in October when a proposal was made to put the two officers on the election ballot along with the class presidents and Assembly candidates. Consideration of the proposal was postponed until the Assembly had its full constitutional membership.

The committee's proposal is the best solution to the situation since it would allow the class president to decide, if there is a real need, for officers to assist him.

The objections to electing additional officers is obvious. With half of the Assembly membership being elected each semester, two extra candidates on the ballots would only add to the difficulty of finding enough qualified and interested person for all positions.

By placing the option of class vice presidents and secretary-treasurers with the president, the Assembly will be both giving the president the chance to pick qualified people for the offices based on interest, and to avoid the unnecessary placement of these candidates on an election ballot

More Honor - Less Secrecy

Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary society, voted at their national convention to remove the secrecy from their inductions ceremonies. In keeping with this vote, the campus chapter recently held an induction — banquet where friends and relatives of the honored initiates could watch the proceedings with pride.

In doing this, Eta Kappa Nu has followed the lead of professional fraternities like Sigma Delta Chi (journalism) and social fraternities like Delta Upsilon, who believe that an honor is something to be shared with parents and friends.

It seems that honor and secrecy just don't go together. The purpose of most honorary societies is to provide recognition for students who have been outstanding in their major fields. How can one be properly recognized when the highlight of the invitation to membership—the actual induction ceremony—is closed to the people most interested.

If a family is proud enough of their son's fraternity affiliation to pay the bill, it follows that they are interested in seeing him become a member.

Enough of secrecy—let's see some recognition and honor

The Daily Collegian

Successor to The Free Lance, est. 1887

Published Tuesday through Saturday morning during the University year. The Daily Collegian is a student-operated newspaper. Entered as second-class matter July 5, 1911 at the State College, Pa. Post Office under the act of March 3, 1879. Mail Subscription Price: $3.00 per semester — $5.00 per year.

DENNIS MALICK Editor

GEORGE McTURK Business Manager

STAFF THIS ISSUE: Night Editor, Amy Rosenthal; Copy Editor, Jan Duistine; Wire Editor, Jeff Pollack; Assistants, Polly Dranov, Ronj Nathanson, Bill Barber, Ina Zicherman, Renny Travets, Jennie Markos, Larreen Doorley, Lorna Kniok, Skeets Zane, Phyllis Mandelbaum, Julie Hill, Pat Haller, Bob Yearick and Bob Taczelosky.

Without Malice

Muttering Over the Liberty Bowl

by denny malick

Yippee! Yippee! I finally got a date for the Liberty Bowl game.

She's about six feet six and about four feet broad. And, man, like warm. In fact, "she's" an electric blanket.

What better time to become an electric Linus than when we'll be sitting outside on a hard cold bench in Philadelphia on Dec. 19?

It'll certainly be interesting to observe what the typical college conformists will be wearing to the game. Do they fur-line gams yet?

Coeds could take a clothing tip from a recent news story out of Collegeville, near Philadelphia, on what's being worn in that area. About 20 girls showed up for a high school class dressed from neck to toe in black. To complete their outfit, they were wearing white lipstick.

Dress for many of the men at the game will include a special liquid-carrying hand warmer for the topcoat pocket. This could and undoubtedly will serve as an arm, chest, leg, foot and stomach warmer as well.

We hear from the deep South that the temperature has taken a nosedive possibly enabling Alabamans to get accustomed to the Yankee weather.

MALICK

The temperatures dropped into the icy 50's for the last few days of practice.

We heard a rumor yesterday that the bowl committee is going to heat the grandstands by setting fire to the pile of unsold tickets.

Another interesting rumor was that the Nittany Lion has left for the Central Park Zoo in New York City. He's trying to get the skin from the lion that was presented to the University about 15 years ago.

The slogan boys are at work again for the game. They've come up with "Evaporate the Crimson Tide," "Plug Up the Crimson Tide," "Whitewash the Crimson."

Just think, 50 years from now when the Liberty Bowl is THE post-season bowl game, we'll be able to look back and say: "Like man, we knew it when."

Letters

West, North Join Rally

TO THE EDITOR: I think Mr. Rein was a little overzealous in the beginning of his letter printed in Tuesday's Collegian. He states that the "North and West Halls are always sounding off about anything unimportant."

It seems to me the North Halls residents have sounded off only once this year. This was concerning the guarding of the Lion. I would point out that their comments came only after they had taken it upon themselves to perform a function which the other two areas were incapable of doing. Is this unimportant? In the same vein, the importance of Nittany's regular outbursts appears debatable.

In answer to the challenge, the majority group at the pep rally Monday night will be the men of the North Halls. I wonder if the residents of Nittany will leave their "telephone" to attend this rally. The Men of the North Halls will be there to give their support and spirit to our team!

Letter cut

—Paul Craska, '60 President, North Halls Council

TO THE EDITOR: We, a few of the residents of West Halls, would be glad to accept the invitation of the Nittany men to attend their pep rally Monday.

As a small favor to them, we may even bring a few of our West Halls girls. Men of Nittany, you do remember what they look like, don't you?

Right now we are also taking up a collection to buy some skis for our brothers in North Halls so that they can slide down Ag Hill to the pep rally, too.

—Neil Buckley, Edward Connolly, Robert Johnstone, David Youtz, Roger Schwartz, all of '63

Students Asked to Visit 'Joey'

TO THE EDITOR: For the past few weeks, the students living in the Nittany area, in conjunction with the Nittany Council and P.S.U. have been organizing and planning a festive Christmas party and benefit for a number of deserving orphan children.

Due to the fact that the magnitude of this project has now exceeded previous expectations, we think it quite apparent that our men are sincerely interested in staging a charitable event which best expresses their desire to regenerate both student and Christmas spirit.

We have assigned the title of Project Joey to this event.

While we feel that we have formulated this event as a Nittany area undertaking, we would like nothing more than having appropriate representatives of the University not only support this project, but visit "Project Joey" in person.

On behalf of the entire living area, we extend a very gracious invitation to you to attend the "Project Joey" Christmas Party, on Sunday afternoon in the Nittany Union Building.

—Charles Starbuck, '63 "Project Joey" Steering Committee

Letter Cut

Gazette

TODAY

- Air Force Glee Club, 3 p.m., HUB assembly room
Alpha Phi Alpha, 7:30 p.m., 218 HUB
Bridge Club, 6:30 p.m., HUB cardroom
Campus Assembly, 7 p.m., 218 HUB
Christian Fellowship, 12:45 p.m., 218 HUB
Hillel Culture Committee, 2 p.m., 218 HUB
History Round Table, 7:30 p.m., 112 Buckhout Lab
Jr. Panhel Council, 7 p.m., 203 HUB
SGA Assembly, 7 p.m., 214 HUB
Sociology Club, meeting cancelled
Slavic Club, 7:30 p.m., HUB assembly room
Spring Week Carnival Committee, 8:15 p.m., 203 HUB
University Party, 7 p.m., 212 HUB
WRA Bowling Club, 6:30 p.m., White bowling alleys
WRA Bridge Intramurals, 6:45 p.m., White playroom
WRA Naiads, 6:30 p.m., White pool
WRA Officials Club, 6:30 p.m., 2 White
WRA Volleyball Intramurals, 6:30 p.m., White gym
WSGA Publicity Committee, 8:30 p.m., 212 HUB

HOSPITAL

- Carole Baker, Arleen Bruno, James Burrows, Charles Collins, Diane Darrickson, William Ducmler, Donald Hearne, Louis Helfrich, Madeline Hunsicker, Edward Kotchi, Paul Kueger, Edgar Leedy, Ellen Lichtschein, Abigail Lorant, Jane Luddecke, Maureen Mack, Mason Mabus, Lillian Mendez, Charles Munroe, Marilyn Newman, Patricia Niedbala, Patricia O'Handley, Norman Potter, Bonnie Reese, Yong Shin, Dean Stiles, Susan Stultz, Barbara Trotter, John Urish, Charles Zaleski, Mary Ann Bukewicz

Little Man on Campus by Dick Bibler

