IFC Will Hold 23 Yule Parties For Children

Santa Claus started one of his busiest holiday seasons Monday with the beginning of the annual Interfraternity Council Christmas parties program.

"This whole thing sleighs me," he said commenting on the 23 parties he must attend during the next three weeks.

The parties will be held in the fraternity houses, on weekdays from 5 to 7 p.m. and on weekends from 1 to 5 p.m.

According to Chester Lucido, IFC Christmas party chairman, the parties will include games, small gifts, and movies.

The participating fraternities are Alpha Sigma Phi, Delta Upsilon, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Kappa Psi, Theta Delta Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Rho Chi, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Mu Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Acacia, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Epsilon Pi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Sigma Phi, Alpha Zeta, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Pi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Delta Rho and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The IFC sponsors the Christmas party program annually for underprivileged children in the Centre County area. Last year nearly 600 children attended parties with 25 fraternities participating in the program.

HUB Will Exhibit N.Y. Gallery Art

As a tribute to Betty Parsons, owner of the New York Gallery, the Hetzel Union Building will exhibit from Tuesday to Jan. 12 the works of four painters and one sculptor from her gallery.

The exhibition, showing 16 paintings and two metal sculptures, will be officially opened by a reception 7.30 p.m. Wednesday in the HUB reading room.

The painters exhibiting will be Hedda Stern, Ad Reinhardt, Enrico Donati and Richard Pousette-Dart. Seymour Lipton will be the sculptor.

Miss Stern has studied art in Bucharest, Paris and Vienna. Her work is included in art museums in New York and Chicago.

Reinhardt, professor of art at Brooklyn College, has studied at New York art schools and his work is owned by the Philadelphia Museum and Yale University Museum.

Donati has studied painting in the United States and France and his work is owned by museums in the United States and Italy.

Pousette-Dart is a self taught artist. He has had 13 one man shows.

Lipton, the exhibiting sculptor, is a graduate of Columbia University and has had over 150 museum exhibitions in this country and abroad.
