

Patrone's Revenge Is Sweet

His Steal Gives WVa. 75-73 Win

West Virginia's Lee Patrone couldn't have picked a better time for revenge.

Outplayed earlier this season in Morgantown by Mark DuMars, Patrone again found the Lion star too hot to handle Saturday in Rec Hall and with 13 minutes remaining West Virginia gave up on its man-for-man defense and switched to a 3-2 zone.

Twenty seconds were left and the Mounties were up by two when Patrone stole the ball from DuMars at midcourt and made a driving layup to clinch West Virginia's 75-73 win.

His clutch steal thus deprived the Nittany Lions of pulling the biggest upset of the collegiate basketball season.

Playing like the NCAA championship depended upon the outcome, the Lions battled the third ranked Mountaineers on even terms for the whole ball game and led by three with only 1:58 remaining.

With the largest crowd ever to see a Penn State basketball game on hand—6000—the Lions gave the Mounties fits all night as DuMars and Wally Colender combined for 49 points.

Colender had 25 while DuMars, the tenth leading scorer in the country had 24 for the hustling Lions.

But it was West Virginia's great All-American Jerry West who led all the scorers with 26 points, most of them in the clutch when the score was tied.

West showed just why he is an All-American by leading the rebounders with 13, setting up scoring plays, and playing a strong game on defense.

The score was tied nine times Saturday and seven of those times, West either tied it or threw in the points that broke the tie.

His two free throws with about 30 seconds left and the score knotted at 71 put the Mounties in front and set the stage for Patrone's dramatic steal.

After West made his two free throws, DuMars took the ball up court by himself and Patrone met him at the midcourt line.

Suddenly Patrone lunged for DuMars and came up with the ball. DuMars took off after the West Virginia star but it was too late and Fred Eisele's bucket at the buzzer was meaningless.

After Patrone took the ball away from him, DuMars couldn't have been more surprised if he had gotten fast service at the Corner Room.

"He just outsmatted me, that's all," said DuMars when asked what happened. "I just didn't expect him to do a thing like that. Usually if a team has a two point lead they won't take chances.

"When he came at me he might have fouled me and I would have had a chance to tie the game. That's why I didn't think he'd try it."

The loss was the sixth for State against three wins. It was West

ALL-AMERICAN IN ACTION—The greatest of them all, Jerry West, (44) shows why he is an All-American. Not only does he lead the Mounties in scoring, rebounding, and assists, but West also makes key defensive plays. Here he leaps high to block shot by Gene Harris (22) during Saturday's thriller which the Mounties won, 75-73.

Virginia's 12th win in thirteen outings.

In addition to his last second steal, Patrone thrilled the huge throng when he threw in a mid-court set shot as the first half ended.

Colender's showing was somewhat overshadowed by Patrone, West and DuMars, but the Lion captain played his finest game, this year and along with DuMars kept the Blue and White in the ball game.

"Those two sure wore us out," said a relieved Freddie Schaus after the game. "I said down in Morgantown that they are the best backcourt combination in the East and siter tonight I surely have no cause to change my opinion."

Phillies Trade Ashburn; Get Dark, Buzhardt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fleet center fielder Ritchie Ashburn, two-time National League batting champion with the Philadelphia Phillies, yesterday was traded to the Chicago Cubs for veteran infielder Alvin Dark and two other players.

The Phillies also got John Buzhardt, 23-year-old right-handed pitcher who was 4-5 with the Cubs last season, and 20-year-old Jim Woods, who played third base for Lancaster in the class A Eastern League last season.

Lucas, Stynchula Star in Bowl Tilts

Penn State's All-America quarterback Richie Lucas was voted the outstanding player in the 14th annual Hula Bowl game in Honolulu, Hawaii, Sunday after leading the East All-Stars to a 34-8 rout of the West.

Lucas tossed two touchdown passes and ran for 52 yards, setting up the final East score with a 33-yard jaunt on keeper play. Andy Stynchula, All-East Lion tackle, had a busy day Saturday. He signed a pro contract with the Washington Redskins then played in the Senior Bowl game at Mobile, Ala. His blocking and reception of a deflected pass spearheaded a TD drive in the North's 26-7 win.

Lions Play Bucknell '5' Tonight

Penn State may be without one of its starters tonight when the Lions take on an improving Bucknell basketball team in Lewisburg.

Jake Trueblood, who has been averaging eight points a game, came down with a heavy cold after the Lions lost to West Virginia, 75-73 Saturday night.

Trueblood had a high fever yesterday and remained in the University Hospital over night. His condition this morning will determine whether he plays or not.

If Trueblood does not make the trip, John Phillips will take his place in the starting lineup. The rest of the starting five remains the same with Mark DuMars and Wally Colender out front, Gene Harris at center and Paul Sweetland and Phillips up front.

Bucknell has been rebuilding this year after losing All-East performers Hal Danzig and Ellis Harley.

They've broken even in ten contests, and beat Delaware in their last outing.
