

First Two Contract For SGA Flight

Two people have already signed up for the SGA-sponsored flight to Europe this summer, Chairman Carmella LaSpada said last night. Ten others have picked up applications

A special rate of $285 for a round-trip ticket to Europe is being offered to students, faculty members and members of their immediate families.

Charter Altered By LA Council

Liberal Arts Student Council last night accepted three revisions to its constitution.

They included deletion of a $25 compensation to the president, insertion of a requirement for the attendance of members at meetings, and designation of the vice president as the council's representative to the Cabinet Personnel Interviewing Committee.

In other business, Susan Linker reported that the faculty conference room in Sparks will be used for the Liberal Arts Lectures, the first of which will be given in late February or early March.

Class cut committee chairman Barbara Hackman said questionnaires will be sent to LA faculty members and to other colleges and universities to learn their policies on class attendance.

Council president David Epstein reported that the LA 5 English proficiency examination will continue to be given so the University can be sure all graduates have a working knowledge of English grammar.

The University celebrated the 100th anniversary of its founding in 1955.

Ag Council To Sponsor Career Day

The Agriculture Student Council voted last night to hold a special career day for the students in agriculture since the University Career Day will not be held this year.

The council decided to hold a seminar-type career day with afternoon and evening sessions being conducted by employers in the field of agriculture. Thursday was tentatively chosen as the day of the week although the exact date has not yet been set.

According to Charles Ault, council president, the career day will probably be held sometime during the first eight weeks of the Spring semester and definitely before Easter.

Job opportunities in agriculture will be the main theme of the career day and representatives from several industries will be invited to participate. Some of the fields which will probably be discussed are agriculture, extension, government, education, medical technology, research, graduate school and horticulture.

The University's yearly tuition is one of the three highest among Land-Grant institutions of America.

Hoffman Elected Council Head

Sharon Hoffman, junior in secondary education from Maplewood, N.J., was elected president of the Education Student Council last night. As Dorothy Newman's successor, she will assume office next semester.

Other newly elected officers are Barbara A. Johnson, junior in elementary education from Pottstown, vice president; and Linda Huston, sophomore in elementary education from Harrisburg, secretary-treasurer.

In other business the council decided to publish the "Monitor" three times next semester.
