To Shop for New and Used Text Books at Keeler's

In Keeler's self-service book department, downstairs, you can select all of your required and optional textbooks for the Spring semester. Self-service means easy book selection, because Keeler's "super market" type book department eliminates the "mad book rush."

On Keeler's first floor it's easy to find all your school supply needs, including slide rules by Post, K & E, and Deitzgen; art and drawing supplies, Barnes and Noble college outlines, and Smith-Corona or Olivetti portable typewriters.

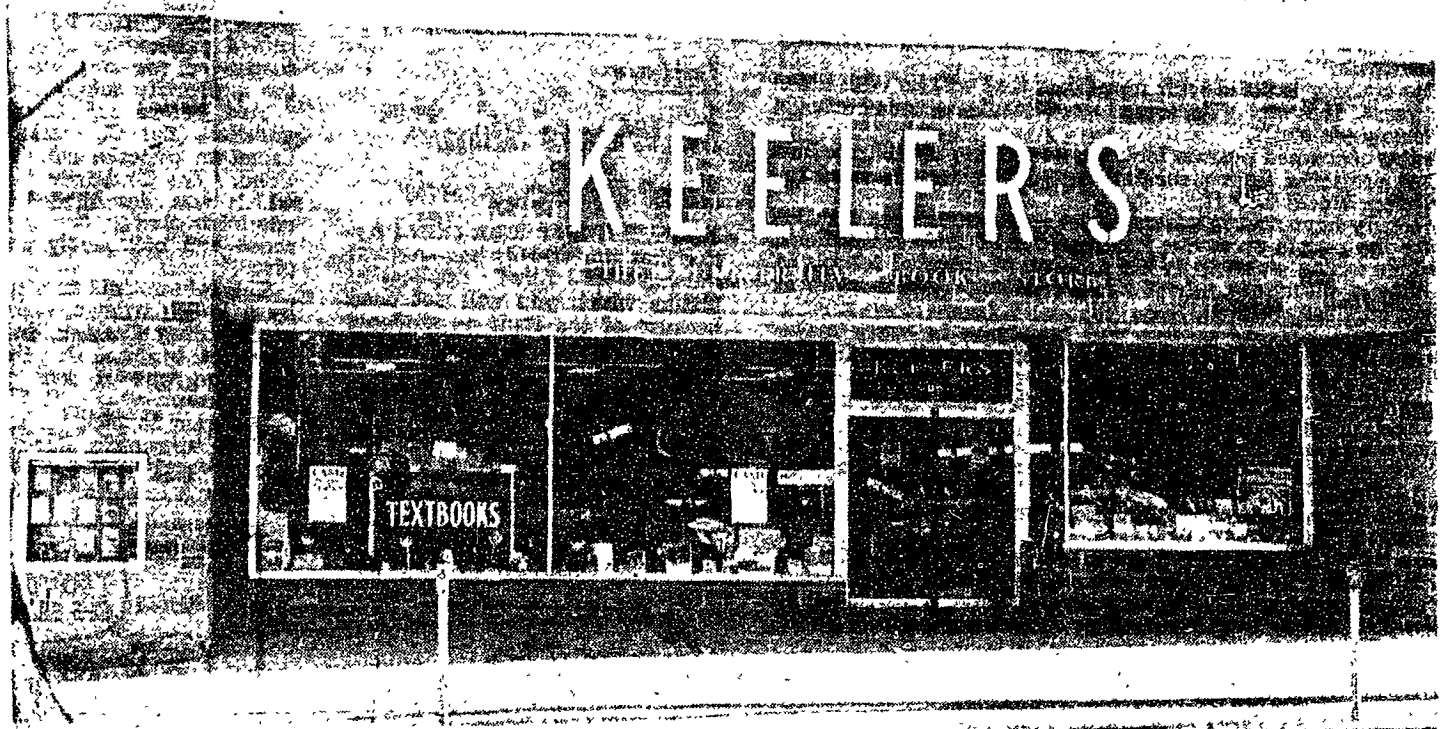

A representative from Barnes and Noble will be at Keeler's today through Thursday, February 11. He will be buying used text books whether used on campus this semester or not.
