

Interview Applications Available in Old Main

Seniors and graduate students interested in job interviews may apply at the University Placement Service office in 112 Old Main from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Placement Service generally posts announcements of interviews three weeks in advance.

Senior and graduate students may apply two weeks in advance for interviews, Robert G. Schnelle, assistant head of General Placement, said.

Application forms vary. Some companies use the University's student information sheets and others prefer to use their own forms, he said.

Most companies want to know how the applicant's college education was paid for; through scholarship aid, part time or summer employment or entirely by the applicant's parents.

They are also interested in the applicant's average and what degree he will receive at graduation, Schnelle said.

The forms are filled out in advance in order that the company interviewers will have the essential information beforehand and be able to get to know the applicants better during the interviews.

The placement service advises the applicants to read up on the company before the interviews. The service maintains files for this purpose.

Schnelle said that over 300 companies are expected to interview on campus during the spring. Interviews per week average around 225, he said.

Scholarships Open For Education Lab

A small number of partial scholarships are available for the 15th annual Conservation Education Laboratory for Teachers which will be conducted here this summer.

Dr. Herman C. Kranzer, assistant professor of education, who directs the laboratory, said the regular course is scheduled for July 5 to 23. The second program, which opens July 25 and continues through Aug 12, will be open only to students who have completed the regular course.

The Laboratory, designed to develop leadership for school and community programs in the conservation of natural resources, is open to elementary teachers, secondary teachers, and school administrators for graduate or undergraduate credit and to meet certification requirements.

SGA Flight Deadline Set For March

The deadline for applying for the SGA-sponsored flight to Europe this summer has been extended to March 1.

An 80-passenger plane has been chartered to leave New York for London June 13 and return from Paris July 23.

Anyone who has been officially associated with the University for at least 6 months and his wife or husband, children and parents are eligible to reserve a seat on the plane.

The total cost per person will be $285. A $100 deposit is required by March 1 and the balance must be paid by April 15.

SGA is sponsoring the flight only, although it is taking deposits for tours offered by the Penn State Travel Agency. SGA is working through the agency in sponsoring the flight.

Leonard Julius, SGA president, said last night that about 20 people have signed up for the flight so far.

Applications can be obtained in the SGA office, 203 A Hetzel Union, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

Gym Suits to Be Sold This Week in McElwain

Upperclasswomen who wish to sell their regulation gym suits to freshmen may take their suits to 101 McElwain from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. today, tomorrow and Thursday. The suits will be sold at the same hours.

Transfer students only may have first choice of used gym suits at White Hall.

Hofstra Grads Hear Walker

Americans did not choose to be "highly fed and lowly taught" in spite of contrary evidence, President Eric A. Walker told graduates of Hofstra College Sunday.

Walker expressed concern about the way Americans utilize the benefits derived from victory in the struggle for room and food.

In the commencement address, Walker noted the large amounts spent by Americans on luxuries while legislative bodies and voters "cannot afford to build needed schools."

This trend stems from the days when man had to fight for room and food, he said. Americans have simply lacked the force to overcome this inertia that gives direction to spending habits, Walker said.

"This force to overcome that inertia," Walker continued, "will have to come from the people themselves."

An honorary degree was conferred on Walker at the exercises.

Twenty-three foreign countries have been represented in agricultural short courses at the University since World War II.

Prof Given Forestry Post

Dr. Peter W. Fletcher, director of the School of Forestry, has accepted an invitation for membership in the Northeastern Forest Research Advisory Council for a 3-year term.

WATCH YOUR TALK!

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of everyday conversation which can pay you real dividends in both social and business advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, self confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by what they say and how they say it. Whether in business, at social functions, or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can make a good impression every time you talk.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in everyday conversation, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting self-training method in a 24-page booklet, "Adventures in Conversation," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Simply send your request to: Conversation Studies, 835 Diversey Parkway, Dept. 3751, Chicago 14, Ill. A postcard will do.

560 Register For Spring Sorority Rush

A total of 560 women registered for formal spring sorority rushing yesterday, Mrs. Norma Mountain, assistant to the dean of women, said.

The number of women registered for spring rushing last year was 489.

Formal rushing will begin on Feb. 20 and 21 when open houses will be held. A mass meeting for all rushees will be held at noon on Feb. 20 in 121 Sparks. The rushees will be divided into groups which will be taken to every sorority by a guide. Rushees who do not attend this meeting will automatically be ineligible to rush.

Chatter dates will be held Feb. 22, 23, 25 and 26. Bermuda junctions will be held Feb. 28 and March 1.

Rushees will attend coffee hours on March 3 and will fill out preference cards after they return to the residence halls that evening.

Ribboning will be held March 4 in the sorority suites.

The University's current president—Eric A. Walker—is a scientist-engineer.
