

DIGGING DEEP—Construction workers on the turf plot dorms have tried many methods to dig through the lime-stone to lay a drainage line. Here they are using a jackhammer to drill into the rock to plant dynamite to loosen the rock. They are working in a 30-foot deep ditch.

2500 Tickets Remain For Opera Ballet

About 2500 student tickets remain for the Chicago Opera Ballet which will perform at 8 p.m. Sunday in Recreation Hall. Non-student tickets go on sale at 9 a.m. today at the Hetzel Union desk.

The opera ballet, under the direction of Ruth Page, will perform "Carmen," a ballet drama in three scenes based on Verdi's "Traviata"; "Idylle"; and "Camille," a ballet drama in six scenes based on Verdi's "La Traviata."

The opera ballet, is a relatively new form of art. Miss Page, who pioneered in this field, choreographs the ballet so that it adheres to the original opera, but adds visible rather than spoken motivations for some of the actions. The original music is adapted to ballet but the characters and situations are portrayed in dance.

The performance by the Chicago Opera Ballet will star Melissa Hayden and Kenneth Johnson with a touring company of 50. The company brings with it an orchestra under the direction of Neal Kayan and full costumes and settings used in the original showing.

Permission Will Reward High Grades

Upperclass women having an All-University average of 3.2 or better are allowed an unlimited number of 11 o'clock permissions providing that they present to their residence hostess a copy of their transcript, the WSGA Judicial Board said last night.

Second semester freshman women who have a semester average of 3.5 or better may take an unlimited number of 10 o'clock permissions after they have shown a copy of their transcript to their residence hostess.

The Board also said that a standing policy of a lenient weekend campus has been set as a penalty for all women who return to their residence halls before the halls have opened following vacations. Several cases such as this were reported to the Board this week.

Many lenient weekends were also given to women who failed to sign out for vacation after their finals and blackmarks were given to those who signed out incorrectly.

Method Outlined For Room Changes

Students who wish to change rooms or roommates in the residence halls must apply through their housemother or counselor or the dean of men and women's offices, Otto E. Mueller, director of housing, said yesterday.

The reasons for moving during the semester or between the fall and spring semester should be cleared through these channels before application is made to the housing department, he said.

This applies mainly to men and independent women, Mueller said. Moves within sorority suites are usually taken care of by a housing officer and the Department of Housing.

Assembly Chair--

that it would be more expedient if the president remained as an ex-officio member of Assembly.

On the matter of seating in the new stadium, Walter Darran, (C.-Jr.), will present to Assembly the plan which will be given to the Athletic Advisory Board on Friday by Edward M. Czekaj, business manager of athletics.

The plan would seat about 7800 upper-class students on both tiers of the stadium from the 43-yard line to about the 20-yard line.

Darran explained last night that the 43-yard line had been chosen because there is a railing there to serve as a natural boundary between the student and reserved sections.

International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union

David Dubinsky, President

MEMO TO: Editor,

FROM: Gus Tyler, Director, ILGWU Training Institute

Subject: A CAREER WITH A CHALLENGE.

Your readers, especially those under the age of 35, have been a source of talent, inspiration and raw material for us during the last few years. Each year, we have heard from your readers in response to our appeal for dedicated young men and women to work in the labor movement.

We are convinced that in every generation there is a segment of young people who would like to play a courageous and active role in changing the shape of things, and we are therefore renewing our invitation to a career that others—in this decade—have found a rewarding way of life.

The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union conducts its own "West Point," to prepare young men and women for careers in labor leadership. The one-year course combines classroom and field work. Those who complete the course are assigned to a full-time job with the union.

With the job comes the challenge—to provide the kind of dedicated and ethical leadership that will make the American labor movement the creative social force it seeks to be.

The Training Institute is now in its tenth year. 140 of its graduates now hold union office in the ILGWU. Virtually all started as organizers—to learn the labor movement at the grass roots. While some continue at this mission as their first and enduring love, others branch out to take on responsibilities as business agents, local union managers, educational and political directors, area supervisors, time study experts, etc.

There is nothing soft or cushy about any of these jobs. But then we are not looking for young people who want the easy plush life. We want those who will enjoy the sting of challenge.

To these, we open the doors of the Institute. Write before April 15: ILGWU Training Institute, 1710 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y.
