IFC Removes Delt's Privileges

By JOEL MYERS

Delta Tau Delta had its social privileges removed for two weeks, effective today, by the IFC Board of Control last night.

The board took the action because a brother and his date violated the IFC's rule which states that "all entertainment areas will be properly lighted and open at all times."

The couple was found in an improperly lighted room which was locked from the inside, according to Robert Parsky, chairman.

The removal of social privileges, which will last from Feb. 17 until March 2, must be approved by the Senate Subcommittee on Group Discipline before it becomes official. The subcommittee is expected to meet in the next few days.

During this two-week period the fraternity may not entertain any women guests except for parents and it may not sponsor any social functions, nor may more than one half of its members attend a social function at another fraternity.

In other business, the Board of Control decided that all freshmen who were in a fraternity that served alcoholic beverages must be identified by means of an ink marking on the back of his hand. The board didn't signify what type of mark should be used as long as it was in ink.

The board also clarified a rule that will allow fraternity men in the men's residence halls between the hours of 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. during the spring semester. Previously, fraternity men were not allowed in men's residence halls at any time.

GSA Gives 3 Contracts For Building

Contracts for construction of the new building and facilities for special education at the University have been awarded by the General State Authority.

The one-story building, to be constructed on Park Ave. at the edge of Hort Woods, is part of a plan designed by the State Department of Public Information to provide facilities for instructing students who are interested in teaching exceptional children.

The project will involve both students interested in teaching the exceptionally intelligent children and those who are interested in teaching physically and mentally defective youngsters.

Special buildings and facilities are also being built at six state teachers colleges as a part of the state plan.

The new buildings at the University will make it possible to do clinical work for handicapped children in the area and train graduate and undergraduate students in methods. It will also be available for summer workshops and facilitate research work.

The building will have three classrooms, office and conference space and observation rooms.

The contract for general construction was awarded to Paul E. Hickey, Alexandria, whose bid was $67,600. Other contracts for the project were awarded to: G. M. McCrossin, Bellefonte, heating and ventilating, $14,477; McCrossin, plumbing, $9,747; Keystone Engineering Corp., Reading, electrical, $8,750.

Panhel Raises Sorority Quotas to 56

By SUSIE LINKROUM

Panhellenic Council voted last night to raise the sorority quota from 55 to 56 members.

The decision came in view of the number of women registered to participate in formal spring rush and the increasing enrollment of women in the University. This will become effective with the rushing period which begins Sunday.

Mrs. Norma Mountain, assistant to the dean of women, said that 567 women registered for rushing and that prior to the increase in the quota, the sororities had about 475 openings for new members.

A meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday in 213 Hetzel Union Building for sorority representatives that are guiding rushees through open houses Saturday and Sunday.

Nancy Gilliland, rushing chairman for Panhellenic Council, announced that checkers would go to the Bermuda junctions during rushing to see that sororities are abiding by the rules set up for the rush parties.

The following sororities will not be rushing junior women: Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Kappa Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Pi Beta Phi.

Alpha Xi Delta and Gamma Phi Beta will not be rushing sophomore women.

Miss Gilliland said that from now until the time preferential bids are signed sorority women and rushees must observe a semi-strict silence. They may not discuss sororities and they may not have coke dates, visit in each other's rooms, or phone one another.

The strict silence period ex-

Theme, Changes Set For Spring Week

SNOW REMOVAL WAS CARRIED TO THE ROOFTOPS yesterday as crews worked to clean up the heaviest snowfall of the season. While this man shoveled snow from the roof of Grange Hall, other maintenance men cleared snow from more conventional places like roads, sidewalks, and parking lots.

Threat of New Snow Storm Continues to Exist in Area

The possibility of another snow storm within the next two days continues to exist for Central Pennsylvania.

Sunny skies and somewhat warmer temperatures helped melt most of the snow and ice that covered about half of Centre County's roads yesterday morning. However, many side roads were still snow covered at sundown yesterday.

A strong outbreak of arctic air will cause considerably colder weather to return to this area tonight and tomorrow. This will prevent further melting of snow during the next few days.

A storm system, located in the Gulf of Mexico, poses a threat of more snow for this area late tonight and tomorrow.

The forecast is for mostly cloudy, windy and rather cold air today with occasional snow flurries likely. The high temperature should be about 37 degrees.

Tonight will be cloudy and colder with a few snow flurries possibly changing to steady snow late tonight. Tonight's low temperature will be in the middle 20's.

the same category for the float parade and the carnival.

The three themes will be used as the bases for the skits which will be presented at the carnival. An additional category of games has been added to the carnival. These will be games of skill with no gambling devices permitted. Robert Wayne, carnival chairman, said that small prizes will be permitted, but there will be no return of money, or monetary prizes.

The $25 cleanup fee will be replaced this year by a non-refundable $25 entrance fee. A plan has been made, subject to Senate subcommittee approval, proposing that a 3-cent refund be made on each 10 cent ticket collected.

This would mean that groups could recover their $25 if they collected at least 833 tickets. Any money received from tickets over this number could be used to defray some of the cost of the carnival booth and the float.

Eight hundred fifty tickets will be required to earn the maximum 250 points for tickets. The number required last year was 1250.

As in the past, no money will be refunded for tickets until the grounds are cleaned. If the grounds are not cleaned satisfactorily, the individual group will lose any money that it may have recovered.

The floats and the carnival skits will be judged on the basis of good taste, adherence to theme, originality and tickets. The games will be judged for good taste, tickets and originality in adherence to theme. This means the way in which the game is put into effect, rather than actual dependence on the three themes.

A maximum of 250 points can be awarded to a float for good taste; with a minimum of 100 points. It will be possible to get between 250 and 150 points for adherence to theme and between 250 and 100 points for the originality of the float.

Points for carnival booths will range between the maximum of 250 and the minimum 100 points (continued on page three)

$4 Billion Requested For Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's $4.175 billion new foreign aid request went to an election year Congress yesterday. As expected, it ran immediately into a cry of "too much money, too little change in administration."

The total is almost $1 billion more than Congress voted after a hot debate last year.

In his 5,000-word special message, Eisenhower said the mutual security program is essential to peace and to world progress in freedom in the face of the "enormous power bloc of Communist imperialism."

"Collective security is not only sensible—it is essential," he said. The request for new funds was divided into $2 billion for arms aid to America's allies and $2.175 billion for economic and technical assistance for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The first volley in perhaps even a stiffer fight this year than last, was fired by Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Senate Democratic leader. He made the remark about too much money and too little change in administration.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made it clear in a statement that he is not satisfied with what he regards as Eisenhower's failure to come up with a long-range program.

But Republicans came to Eisenhower's defense. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (Mass.) said the President's proposals are "indispensable measures for our own security and for the cause of peace."
