

Cagers Meet Colgate Today

Lions Look for Revenge After Losing to Red Raiders, 69-67

Both Penn State and Mark DuMars will be out to settle some old scores tonight when the Nittany Lions begin an important New York State road trip against Colgate at Hamilton.

The Lions, who have a 9-7 record, will be looking for revenge after losing to Colgate, 69-67, a Rec Hall thriller earlier this season.

DuMars, on the other hand, hasn't forgotten his performance at Colgate last year, where he had one of the worst nights of his career, scoring only two points.

Tonight's game can be classified as "a must" for John Egli's crew who face arch-rival Syracuse tomorrow.

With five of their last six games scheduled for enemy courts, a win over Colgate or Syracuse would just about insure State of an even break on the season.

They have one home game left with Lehigh Thursday and the Engineers aren't having a very good season. After that they still must get by Pitt, Temple and Rutgers.

Colgate brings a 10-8 record and one of the nation's best sophomores into tonight's game.

He's Bob Duffy and it's mainly because of him that the Red Raiders have done so well this year.

Duffy, a 6-3 forward from Katonah, N.Y., is averaging 20.5 points per game and is one of the leading scorers in the country.

Together with captain Art Buandon, Ken Norum and Larry Ludd, Duffy gives Colgate a potent scoring attack which has caught the fancy of the fans and has aroused plenty of interest at the upstate New York school.

Egli will go with his usual starting five of Paul Sweetland, John Phillips, Gene Harris, Wally Colender and DuMars tonight.

DuMars has dropped to the 16th slot in the national scoring race, but is still averaging 22.4 points a game.

Tomorrow he meets head-on with old nemesis Eddie Goldberg when the Lions play Syracuse

THESE THREE SOPHOMORE stars (l-r) Jake Trueblood, Frank Shea and John Phillips, are expected to see plenty of action this weekend as the Lion cagers invade New York State for games with Colgate tonight and Syracuse tomorrow.

(9-6) in the Onandoga War Memorial.

The Lions stopped Syracuse 80-75 in December, but since then Marc Guley's boys have come a long way. They pulled one of the biggest upsets of the season a few weeks ago, beating previously undefeated LaSalle in Philadelphia.

Goldberg, at 5-9, is Syracuse's top scorer, but he gets plenty of help from jump shot artist Pete Chudy.

SET SHOTS—Tonight's game with Colgate is the 49th between the two teams. . . . State leads the series 27-21. . . . Last year the Lions took both games from the Raiders, 78-54 and 71-51. . . . Lehigh, State's opponent in the Rec Hall finale Thursday, features high scoring Norm Brandl. . . . Brandl is the 12th leading scorer in the country with a 24.8 average in 16 games. . . . Pesky Penn kept up its uncanny play, beating LaSalle Wednesday night. . . . The Quakers (10-9), the "hustlingest" team in collegiate basketball, continue to knock off the front runners, but when they play Ivy League competition they don't fare so well. . . . Jerry West of West Virginia hit 40 points in the Mounties' loss to George Washington the other night. . . . He's averaging 29 points a game. . . . Oscar Robertson still leads with a 36.6 average. . . . Syracuse is 11th in field goal shooting percentage. . . . They're hitting at a 44.7 clip. . . . Gettysburg is right behind them with 44.5. . . .

Nixon Opens Olympic Games Despite Storm

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — The problem-plagued VIII winter Olympics opened yesterday in a lull in a 10-inch snowstorm.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon drove the last 46 miles of his 3000-mile journey from Washington over treacherous mountain roads to pronounce these 15 words:

"I now declare open the Olympic Games of Squaw Valley celebrating the Eighth Winter Olympics."

Moments earlier the storm ended and the sun broke out.

Some 6500 spectators, gay in brilliant-hued ski suits, huddled in $3,500,000 Blyth Arena to watch the parade of 740 athletes from 30 nations, here were several thousand other spectators outside.

The storm that snarled traffic also forced postponement of the men's downhill race from Friday until Monday to give time to pack the course. Thus competition will start Friday with the figure skating pairs championship, the 30 kilometer (18 miles, 100 yards) cross country ski race, and the first round of ice hockey games.

The highlight of the ceremony came when Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence of Amada, Ariz., skied down Little Papoose Mountain with the Olympic torch.

Thinclads Will Duel Undefeated Cadets

The Nittany thinclads will engage the Cadets of Army at West Point tomorrow in their last regular indoor meet of the season.

In their only other indoor appearance this season the Lions looked impressive in placing second to Navy in a triangular meet at Annapolis. The Lion boardmen swamped the Middies and Pitt in the running events, taking six out of a possible eight firsts. But they didn't fare so well in the field contests, garnering only two of 20 possible places.

The same type of situation holds true for the upcoming contest with Army.

The Cadets are undefeated, with wins over Manhattan, a perennial track powerhouse, Harvard, St. Johns and Princeton. But the Black Knights from the Hudson have a few glaring dents in their shiny armor.

The most evident is the pole vault. The Cadets have not appeared to be potent in this event. In fact, the highest the Army has got off the ground this year (no reference to Cape Canaveral) was 12 feet even.

And that occurrence was somewhat of a phenomenon, for Army's next highest height in indoor meets this season was 11'6".

Penn State has two men, Dale Peters and Dick Gross, who are consistently over 13 feet. So with an average day, State should take a first and a second in the pole vault.

The Cadet's other weakness, the sprints, is not a glaring one, but it is the same department in which the Lions have one of their more lethal weapons, Bobby Brown.

Brown shoots from the starting block like a bullet from a gun. A glance at his record shows him running ahead of such "name" stars as the diminutive Ira Hutchinson, Dave Sime, Ira Davis, Ed Collymore and Paul Winder. He has finished ahead of all these men on various occasions.

Backing up Brown, the Lions will have veteran Blaine O'Connor and sophomore speed merchant Tony Wayne.

Army does have one capable sprinter, Ed Sprague, who ran a 6.2 against Princeton this year. But the Black Knights lack depth, whereas State is three deep in this department.

The Cadets are also tough in the 1000-yard-run and have an above average miler in John Jones. Jack Hoas is the best of a trio of capable broad jumpers.

But Penn State has depth and ability in every running event. If the fieldmen can chalk up some points in the broad jump and high jump, the Lions may be able to hand the Cadets their first loss of the year.

Be perspicacious!

Not this: a student who studies drowsily no matter how much sleep he gets.

This! Perspicacious... sharp! NoDoz keeps you awake and alert—safely!

If you find studying sometimes soporific (and who doesn't?) the word to remember is NoDoz. NoDoz alerts you with a safe and accurate amount of caffeine—the same refreshing stimulant in coffee and tea. Yet non-habit-forming NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable. So to keep perspicacious during study and exams—and while driving, too—always keep NoDoz in proximity.

The safe stay awake tablet—available everywhere. Another fine product of Grove Laboratories.
