

Religious Conflicts Evident in U.S.

By ELLIE HUMMER

Whether we are Catholic, Jewish or Protestant, we all love our country equally, Dr. John J. Kane, head of the Department of Sociology at Notre Dame University, said.

Speaking at the annual Brotherhood Banquet last night, Kane said that "deeply imbedded in all Americans is the desire for equality of men and freedom of worship." However, America has never been free from interreligious conflict, he said.

From colonial times there has been a definite anti-Catholic feeling which predominated after the Irish immigrations of 1830. Only the threat of Civil War was able to turn men from their religious strife and unite their differences to fight for a common purpose.

However, the anti-Catholic feeling returned after World War II and is still a very disturbing problem today.

This feeling of Protestants stems from the fear that the Catholics may become the majority group in power and that America would become less democratic as a result.

Basically, Protestants object to the Catholic belief that they are the only true church and to the Catholic stand on the state-church relationship, Kane said.

To find a remedy to the problem, it is necessary for "both Catholics and Protestants to review the past with humility," he said. He added that a frank look at the differences and faults of both parties will help dispel the prejudices and hostilities present on both sides.

He warned the Catholic faction to guard against a feeling of smug complacency towards their religion.

Today, the question is asked whether or not a Catholic can be elected to the Presidency in 1960. Kane compared this coming issue with the campaign of 1928 in which Al Smith, a Catholic presidential candidate, was defeated.

Although Catholicism was a major topic in that election, Kane believes that other issues, such as the political party and the platform, would be the dominate factors in the campaign.

However, if the candidate's religion would be the cause of his defeat, this could tell to the free world that the United States isn't as democratic as it pretends to be, he said.

Prof Writes for Book

Dr. Woldemar A. Weyl, research professor of mineral industries, has contributed two chapters to the book on "Rheology — Theory and Applications, Volume 3" edited by F. E. Eirich. The book has just been published by Academic Press.

Faculty, Staff Seek Election In Primaries

Nine members of the University faculty and staff are among the 84 who filed petitions for the April primary in Centre County. H. Becher Charmbury, head of the Department of Mineral Preparations, is the only candidate for the County Republican chairmanship.

Democrats who have filed for precinct positions in the State College Borough are Lawrence L. Werhoff, assistant professor of economics; Arthur H. Reede, professor of economics; Robert H. McCormick, associate research professor of chemical engineering; Eugene A. Myers, associate professor of economics, and Lawrence E. Dennis, vice president for academic affairs.

Edgar B. Hale, associate professor of animal behavior, has petitioned for a precinct position in College Township. Frederick A. Fry, acquisitions librarian, has petitioned in Ferguson Township. C. Bruce Smith, associate professor of plant nutrition, has filed in Potter Township.

Photo Staff to Meet Tonight

The photography staff of the Daily Collegian will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Collegian office. All candidates and sophomore boarders are required to attend.

Abrams Elected Council President

Lawrence Abrams, a junior from Chester, was last night elected president of the Business Administration Student Council.

The council chose Bernard R. Quire, a junior from Reading, vice president for the coming year. Ruth L. Schlieder, a freshman from Oil City, secretary, and Howard Needleman, a sophomore from Bala Cynwyd, treasurer.

Outgoing president, Walter Lloyd, said that March 29 and 30 have been chosen as the dates for the general election of new council members.

Williams to Evaluate School

Dr. C. O. Williams, assistant to the President, will serve as chairman of an Evaluation Committee then will spend three days next week examining the Mount Lebanon High School, Pittsburgh.

Repairs	Television
Car Radios	Radios
Phonographs

television service center at State College TV 232 S. Allen St.

FFA to Hold Banquet In Honor of Seniors

The Collegiate Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will hold a banquet in honor of its senior members on March 11.

Murry McJunkin, agronomist from the Pittsburgh Division of the United States Steel Corp., will be the guest speaker.

Tickets, which cost $2.25, are on sale in the agricultural education office.

Panhel Rushing Chatter Dates To Start Again

The second round of chatter dates for Panhellenic Council rushing begins today.

Rushes will visit sorority suites from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8:15 p.m. today and tomorrow. Invitations can be picked up before noon today in the Panhellenic post office in Atherton lounge for this round.

Rushes may accept invitations from six sororities.

Counseling will be available to rushees and representatives of sorority chapters from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. today in Miss Mary Meluskey's suite.

According to Mrs. Norma Mountain, assistant to the dean of women, 50 women have dropped out of formal spring rushing since it began. These women are still eligible for open bids after formal rushing is over, she said.

Ag Council to Hold March Elections

The Agriculture Student Council voted Tuesday to hold election of officers March 22. In order to do this they suspended a constitutional rule that elections be held at the second meeting in April.

In other business David Graham, William Talbott, Elizabeth Thomas, James Klancher and Judy Welch were appointed to coordinate activities of the Agriculture Student Council and the Chemistry-Physics Student Council during the Science Fair.

David Graham, Robert Forney, Paul Semel, Gerald Lyter and Ray Levan were appointed to nominate candidates for new officers.

Ray Levan, Murl Hockenberry and John Yocum were appointed to investigate reasons why the University does not have a student bookstore.

—More lives were lost in the Civil War than in any other war in which the United States has been engaged.

LOBSTER HOUSE
Lobster Newburg en casserole
TAXI RETURN GRATIS

Feb. 25 7 P.M.
HUB Assembly Room
OUTING CLUB
Main Meeting
Dr. Grove will speak on the future of Pennsylvania waters.

DOG PATCH COSTUME DANCE
Sponsored by A.I.M. - Leonides
HUB Ball Room
Friday, Feb. 26th
9-12
Dress - - Dog Patch Casual
Sadie Hawkins Option
Music by the IVY ROCKS
Admission FREE

CATHAUM
NOW: 2:20, 4:42, 7:06, 9:30
Rod Steiger - Joan Collins
SEVEN THIEVES
Soon: 'THE BRAMBLE BUSH'

NITTANY
Now: Doors Open 6:45 P.M.
MONTGOMERY CLIFT
ELIZABETH TAYLOR
"A PLACE IN THE SUN"
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
BATTLE STATIONS!
Starring JOHN LUND
WILLIAM BENDIX - REEFE BRASSELLE
RICHARD BOONE - WILLIAM LESLIE
COLUMBIA PICTURE

Players Present
An Italian Straw Hat
A French Farce
Feb. 26 and 27
Center Stage
40th Anniversary Production

STATE NOW
'SOLOMON and SHEBA'
—STARTS FRIDAY—
GREGORY PECK
AVA GARDNER
FRED ASTAIRE
ANTHONY PERKINS
THE BIGGEST STORY OF OUR TIME!
ON THE BEACH
Feat. 1:56, 4:25, 6:54, 9:23

3RD ANNUAL
"Going on Pro"
Party
Kappa Sigma
Sigma Alpha Mu
Saturday Night

TOM & JERRY'S SUB SHOPPES
... NOTED FOR ...
GIANT 15" SUBMARINES
AND THE
PHILADELPHIA STEAK SANDWICH
Corner S. Atherton and W. Beaver
OVEN HOT DELIVERY AD 8-0596