

Filibuster Smashes Endurance Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — A partial power failure hit the Capitol yesterday as the Southern filibuster against a civil rights bill toppled Senate endurance records.

One senator, A. S. Mike Monroney (D.-Okla.), professed to see a connection between the electrical failure and the round-the-clock grind by which Senate leaders have been trying to wear down Southern orators.

On the floor, Sen. John L. McClellan (D.-Ark.) showed no signs of wearing down as he took his turn in the Southern lineup. McClellan declaimed that even if the Senate passed every proposal offered, civil rights advocates would be back next year "demanding more legislation."

"You can't satisfy them," he said. "How are you going to end it? The only way to deal with it is to stop considering this eternal hollering about civil rights."

Monroney told the Senate during one interval that the continuous sessions which began at noon Monday have completely exhausted Senate equipment, while leaving the Southerners fresh as daisies.

The temporary shutdown knocked out the lights and electric ovens in the Senate and House restaurants, stalled some elevators, and silenced the quorum call bells. The Senate chamber itself, fed by a different power line, was not affected.

While weary senators lunched by candlelight on salads, sandwiches and lukewarm soup, the clocks that were still working ticked off a new record for an unbroken Senate session.

At 1:39 p.m. the Senate had been sitting without a break for 54 hours and 11 minutes, surpassing a record of 45 years standing.

The previous record of 54 hours and 10 minutes was set in 1915 during a successful filibuster against a ship purchase bill proposed by President Woodrow Wilson.

The present marathon, which was broken by one 15-minute recess Wednesday morning, passed the 96th hour of a virtually continuous session at noon Friday.

Astronaut Rides In Space Capsule

CLEVELAND (AP) — An astronaut, Scott Carpenter, took a rock-abye ride in a space cradle yesterday and came out of the spin with a grin.

Then he quipped about the bum nickel that put him aboard.

This was a demonstration ride in a huge cage that whirls a man in three directions at once, while a screaming hiss fills the wind tunnel in which it is built. It is like the craziest ride on the circus midway.

Six of the nation's seven space men have taken this stage of their training, one or two at a time, at the Lewis Research Center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Eaton Prepares For Geneva Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top U.S. disarmament negotiator plans to fly to Paris tonight for a final round of Western talks in preparations for the 10-nation East-West conference opening at Geneva March 15.

Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton and other Western negotiators are scheduled to report to a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council Thursday.

Duren Signs Contract

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Relief pitcher Ryne Duren signed his 1960 contract yesterday after General Manager George Weiss blasted the New York Yankee holdouts as "ungrateful and unreasonable."

Democrats Blast Administration

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — he changed his mind yesterday. He said in Superior, Wis., he did so for a chance to debate the issues with Kennedy—something Humphrey said he had been unable to get Kennedy to do in their Wisconsin primary battle.

In their addresses, there was little of debate but much agreement that the Republicans have made a mess of things under President Eisenhower.

They promised action would be substituted for drift under a Democratic president in a many-sided contest with the Soviet Union.

The two senators interrupted their battling for Wisconsin's delegate votes to appear on the same platform, the Kansas Democratic State Convention.

Humphrey earlier had declined an invitation to speak here, but

Lucky Strike's Dr. Frood is asked

Why Are Today's Students More Serious, Dedicated, Industrious?

Dear Dr. Frood: In your day, college students were all rah-rah and raccoon coats. Today's student is more responsible, more dedicated, more industrious. What accounts for this big change?
Studios

Dear Stu: Today's world is more complex, more challenging. Ideologies clash. Our planet grows smaller. The cold war strikes fear into our hearts. There is a shortage of raccoons.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am disgusted with my classmates. All they think about is women and parties. How can I get them to talk about important things?
Serious

Dear Serious: Throw a large party. Invite plenty of women. Then, around midnight, say something important, like "We're out of beer."

Dear Dr. Frood: Modern girls go to college for four years. Then they get married and don't even know how to change diapers. What is this leading to?
Old-Fashioned

Dear Old-Fashioned: Self-sufficient babies.

Dear Dr. Frood: Why doesn't everybody smoke Lucky Strike?
Lucky Smoker

Dear Lucky: Why doesn't everybody get straight "A's"?

Dear Dr. Frood: Grandfather's will provided a rather handsome allowance on the stipulation that I showed "the courage and strength of character" to stay in college. Frankly, however, I am tired of college. I have been here 40 years. Is there any way I can quit and still collect?
Senior

Dear Senior: Your question brings up a considerable number of legal problems, with interesting technical ramifications. Having given the matter much thought, I have this suggestion: enter Law School.

Dear Dr. Frood: Here are two portraits of Beethoven. One was done by an old master. The other by a student. Which is the masterpiece?
Art Lover

Dear Art: The one on the left is the master's work. The stroke is deft, clean, authoritative. Every detail is authentic Beethoven, even the gesture of keeping his composing hand warm.

Dear Dr. Frood: Has college ever really helped anyone in business?
Practical

Dear Practical: Of course. Think how college has helped the people who make pennants, footballs, fraternity pins.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.
