

Arms Plan Would Shut All Military Academies

GENEVA (AP) — The last stage of the West's disarmament plan would abolish all bases, general staffs and military schools such as West Point and the U. S. Naval Academy, the West disclosed yesterday.

But, the Soviet bloc was told at the 10-nation disarmament conference, this stage would be reached only after rigidly controlled worldwide arms reductions made such installations unnecessary.

The United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada defined their position in answer to questions of the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Bulgaria of the Eastern bloc.

Speaking for the Western five, ex-Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino of Italy thus served notice the Western world's defenses in Western Europe and elsewhere will be scaled down in conjunction with a corresponding reduction in the military might of the Communist world.

Elimination of Western overseas bases—in particular a withdrawal of U.S. forces from Europe—is a major aim of Soviet policy.

After hearing Martino's statement, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin at once took up the question of military bases. He asked the Western powers if they would write a provision for liquidation of bases in a general disarmament treaty. The West is expected to answer at a later session.

British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore said any worldwide disarmament treaty should authorize inspection flights and aerial photography over all signatory nations. This idea was first advanced by President Eisenhower in his "open skies" plan presented in the 1955 summit conference here.

South Fails To Weaken 'Rights' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern congressmen lost again in the House yesterday, this time by 20 votes, in an effort to limit the authority proposed in civil rights legislation for voting referees.

A count of 157-137 rejected an amendment to confine the scope of these court-appointed officials to elections of federal officials. It would have exempted state and local elections.

The margin compared to the 137-134 vote by which the House turned down a similar proposal Friday. Both tallies were teller counts, in which individuals' votes are not recorded.

The referees are proposed as a means for making sure that qualified Southern Negroes are allowed to vote. The referees would be appointed by federal judges.

Rep. August E. Johansen (R-Mich.), offered yesterday's amendment, which was solidly backed by Southerners. The Friday amendment was also presented by a non-Southerner, Rep. Homer H. Budge (R Idaho).

Johansen called his a "stop-and-look amendment" against too much encroachment of federal authority in local affairs.

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), retorted, "We cannot tolerate Jim Crow at the ballot box."

Celler tried to prevent a vote on the Johansen amendment, on the grounds the House had already voted on the issue.

However, Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), presiding, ruled there was enough difference from Budge's proposal to let the new one go to a vote.

Cubans Will Hear U.S. Air Spanish Broadcasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States moved yesterday to tell its story to the Cuban people through Spanish-language broadcasts while it persisted in diplomatic efforts to salvage relations with Fidel Castro's government.

The one-hour, daily broadcasts in Spanish between 8 and 9 p.m. EST will be limited in effectiveness because they will be transmitted via short wave and thus can be received by only about 3 per cent of the Cuban people who own that type of set.

3 Killed As Jet Crashes Into House

DENTON, Md. (AP)—A disabled, unmanned military B57 jet plane plummeted from the sky over this Eastern Shore town yesterday and crashed into a small house, killing a woman and her two young grandchildren.

Parts of the plane soared upon impact, shattering windows in a nearby school.

But the Venetian blinds were drawn to keep out the afternoon sun. This formed a shield and protected several hundred students from injury.

A few of the youngsters at the Lockerman Consolidated School for Negroes were cut by the flying glass, but none had to be hospitalized.

There was no panic. The children filed out of the building in orderly fashion.

50 Die, Scores Hurt In S. African Riots

VEREENING, South Africa (AP)—At least 50 Negroes were killed and scores wounded yesterday during demonstrations against the South African government's strict segregation policies.

Police opened fire with submarine guns and rifles. Jet planes and armored cars also were brought into use.

The main demonstrations were at Sharpeville, 30 miles from Johannesburg, and in the Langa nonwhite township outside Cape Town.

Official reports said 56 Negroes were killed and 162 injured in the Sharpeville riots. Six Negroes were killed and 30 wounded later in the day when police fired on demonstrators in Langa.

Negro leaders called the demonstrations in protest against laws which require all non-whites to carry passes. Passes marked "native" bar Negroes from many jobs and subject them to special regulations.

In the Langa area several buildings, including two schools, were destroyed by fire.

Prime Minister Henrik Verwoerd told Parliament the crowd at Sharpeville numbered 50,000, but officials on the scene set it at 20,000.

The Sharpeville riots occurred in two stages. In the morning police opened fire on a crowd of about 2,000, and killed one man and wounded two others.

The crowd moved away after the shooting but began to gather again about lunchtime.

Cuba Accuses Americans Of Aiding War Criminals

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban officials said they captured a private plane yesterday piloted by two Americans trying to whisk a Cuban war criminal to refuge in the United States.

Relations between Washington and Havana are expected to become even more troubled as a result.

The Americans, one wounded in the leg by gunfire that forced down the light aircraft, and the man they intended to take out of Cuba were detained. Also held were three other persons, including a woman.

The wounded man was identified by authorities as Howard Louis Rundquist. The other was not identified.

Authorities gave this account: The plane landed at dawn on the highway about 56 miles east of Havana for a rendezvous with three Cubans. Suddenly soldiers in Prime Minister Fidel Castro's army appeared. The Americans attempted to take off, but their plane was brought down by machine-gun fire.

The Americans and the Cubans denied Cuban charges that they were involved in an escape plot.

The capture of the plane came a few hours before U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal paid a courtesy call on Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa. Bonsal arrived Sunday after several months in the United States and is planning a new effort to shore up sagging Cuban-American relations.

The plane incident is expected to make Bonsal's mission more difficult. It stoked the fires of anti-American propaganda growing higher here daily.

The Castro government has complained bitterly in the past that the United States is sheltering Cuban war criminals, a term used by the Cuban government to describe civilians and former military men associated with the regime of deposed President Fulgencio Batista.
