AIM to Ask Extension Of HUB Hours

By JANET DURSTINE

David Frick, secretary of the Association of Independent Men, told the AIM Board of Governors last night that he would request a trial extension of Lion's Den hours.

Frick said Miss Jane E. Griswold, supervisor of feeding operations, had told him Food Service was considering the extensions, but was undecided as to what would be done. He said the employees would have to be paid overtime for the time they worked after 10 p.m., the regular Lion's Den closing hour.

At a previous meeting the board had requested Frick to look into the extension, which was recommended because of the later women's hours.

In other business, the board decided to hold final nominations and elections for officers on April 6. Preliminary nominations were opened last night, but none were made.

Any member of the Board of Governors may be nominated. An independent man who is not a member of the board may be nominated by a petition signed by 100 independent men. Candidates for president must have at least a 2.4 All-University average and must be a junior or senior; candidates for vice president, secretary and treasurer must have at least a 2.0 All-University average.

Harald Sandstrom, AIM president, announced that the AIM-Leonides banquet will be held May 5.

University Criticized For 'Leftist' Talks

A patriotic organization criticized the University for the appearance of "left-wing speakers," the Associated Press reported yesterday.

An editorial in the newsletter of the Pennsylvania Society of the Sons of the American Revolution's "Pennsylvania Minutemen" said there had been a pattern of speeches at the University "which many informed anti-Communists would regard as helpful to the Communist cause."

According to the AP, Andrew W. Green, an unsuccessful candidate for the U.S. Senate in 1956, signed the editorial. Green, an attorney in Harrisburg, ran on the For America ticket.

Green, the editor of the newsletter, said the speeches were helpful to Communists, even if they were not directly sponsored by the University.

No specific speeches or speakers were named in the AP account of the editorial.

The AP quoted the editorial as saying: A University supported by the public can properly maintain a forum of discussion for those critics who are loyal to our basic form of government, but it may not properly provide a forum for those whose loyalties are subject to reasonable suspicion.

But according to the AP, a University spokesman said that academic freedom "traditionally permits discussion by a wide range of speakers on a wide range of topics"

Sigma Tau Banquet

Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary society, will hold its semi-annual initiation banquet at 7 tonight at the Eutaw House.

Gaston Elected President of Eng Council

Charles Gaston, junior from Lancaster, was elected president of the Engineering-Architecture student council last night.

He was opposed by Alexander Cimochowski, junior from Forest City; Gary Robinson, junior from Detroit, Mich.; and Charles Barb, eighth semester student in architecture from Rosemont.

The position of vice president was won by Gerald Logue, sophomore from Parker City. He was opposed by Cimochowski.

Elected to the treasurer's post was Cimochowski who was opposed by Jerome Gartman, freshman from Reading.

Linda Leuthold, freshman from Wood Ridge, N.J., was elected recording secretary. She was opposed by Gartman who was then unanimously elected corresponding secretary.

In other business, the council voted to offer its aid and services to an open house which will be held for all freshman engineering students April 25 in the HUB ballroom. The open house is being sponsored by Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary.
