

Chorus to Hold Spring Concert

Every musical taste will be satisfied on Sunday when the Penn State Women's Chorus, conducted by Dr. W. Paul Campbell, presents its annual Spring concert.

This year's program will include the classical melodies of Brahms and Bach favorite folk tunes such as "Bonnie Doon," the traditional Penn State songs and a musical salute to spring.

The concert will be held at 3 p.m. in Schwab Auditorium and will be open to the public.

The 150 girls who make up the Women's Chorus will be joined by guest soloist, John Slamp, senior in musical education from State College, who will sing "Poor Wayfaring Stranger."

Ditmar Wins for Yanks

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The New York Yankees received a steady seven-inning pitching effort from Art Ditmar and whipped Kansas City Athletics 4-1 yesterday to end a 3-game losing streak.

Ditmar checked his ex-mates with three hits.

Students Fined $25--

The Borough's two Justices of Peace, Guy G. Mills and William Bell presided.

Bell and Mills fined all the students $25 plus costs. This is the minimum fine prescribed by the ordinance.

Those fined for drinking are Richard Waite, Philip Kreitner, Theresa Mione, John Ott, Margery Dye, Francis L. Beeman and Gail Biemuller.

The students fined for being in an establishment that serves alcoholic beverages after 7 p.m. were Jane Egan, Diane Still, Timothy

Suskind to Speak

Dr. Sigmund R. Suskind, of the McCollum-Pratt Institute, the Johns Hopkins University, will speak at 4:15 p.m. tomorrow in 112 Buckhout Laboratory.

His talk, which is titled, "Current Research on the Nature of Gene Action in Neurospora," is sponsored by the Lecture Series in the Biological Sciences.

Nina at 7 months

How do the Kappas get the beautiful pledges they invariably do? It almost seems unfair. We couldn't help but notice this last night when we photographed the new sisters (in color, too) in Cooper Hall.

In a few days we will announce the 5 finalists of our selection of which the winner will vacation in Puerto Rico this Easter. Its going to be a short notice to the winning victim, but that's life.

One of our sittings this morning mentioned that he was doing experimental work with a talking Minah bird. He's attempting to prove that a parallel can be drawn between the brain of a bird and that of a 2nd semester sophomore. Of course some of these birds are brighter than others and this makes the assumptions more difficult to come by. Incidentally, we hope to have one of these birds in the studio shortly—if it doesn't give the sophomores an inferiority complex.

If your present fraternity composite pleases you and you didn't mind waiting five months for it, then read no further. If not, we admire your good taste and suggest you come on down and talk to Bunny or Polly who will tell you why our composites are so expensive, etc. We can only do nine at this time so bundle up your lazy president and wheel him down for some enlightenment.
