

Thespian Musical To Open Tomorrow

The production of Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate" will begin the Thespians' second decade of presenting Broadway musicals for their spring show. The show opens at 7:30 tomorrow night in Schwab Auditorium.

For the first time in the past ten years, they will do a show by the same composer. In 1951, they presented Cole Porter's "Anything Goes."

Ed Rolf, who has the lead role of Fred Graham in "Kiss Me Kate," also had the lead role in "Anything Goes."

Rolf said he liked to do Porter shows because he feels the songs fit so well into the show. They have a place and really mean something, he said.

Rolf entered the University in 1949, and did four Thespian shows during his three and a half years here playing the lead roles in "Anything Goes" and Rogers and Hart's "Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" in 1952.

Rolf left the University in the fall of 1953 to work for Capital Airlines in Cleveland, and in 1957 he moved to Homer, Alaska, where he worked for the Pacific Northern Airlines for three years. He also worked on commercial fishing boats there.

Returning to the campus this fall to study journalism, Rolf made it back just in time to get a part in the chorus of the Thespians' fall show "It's in the Book."

Rolf has five solo songs in "Kiss Me Kate" and helps with three others.

The musical will also run at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets are on sale at the Hetzel Union desk. Tickets for tomorrow night's performance are $1.25 and for all of the other performances, $1.50.

Leadership Course Deadline Extended

The registration deadline for the spring semester leadership program has been extended until 8 p.m. tomorrow to allow more students to learn the techniques of leadership.

Students may sign up for the 8-week course at the Hetzel Union desk.

Dr. Paul D. Holtzman, associate professor of speech, will speak at the first meeting, 7 p.m. Monday in 214 Boucke.

Topics to be covered during the 8-week period are the psychology of leadership, the importance of speech, parliamentary procedure, the qualities of a leader and public relations.

WRA Plans IM Changes

The WRA Executive Board met last night to discuss a new system of point awards for intramurals to be held next year.

A plan was put before the board whereby two entirely separate leagues would be created, giving each living unit an opportunity to enter a first and a second team in a single event.

The board discussed the points of this plan and decided that more information was needed before any definite motion could be presented. It was felt that there should be some distinction between the two leagues to insure against first teams being entered in the second league.

The board also passed a motion permitting the independent women in Cross and Hibbs to join together to form a team for the softball intramurals. This was necessary since neither of the two units has enough women to make up a complete team.

A revived statement of the WRA Intramural Rules was submitted to the board and approved.

North Halls Plan First Field Day

Plans for the first annual North Halls Field Day were formulated at a North Halls council meeting.

April 23 was selected as the date in which all the North Halls living units will participate as teams in each of the sporting events. Prizes will be given for the best team and not to individuals, the council agreed.

Council also heard the social committee report that tennis instructions will be given to interested North Halls residents beginning April 6.
