Bernreuter Asks Students to Revise Picket Fund Drive

Robert G. Bernreuter, special assistant to the president for student affairs, yesterday requested that the group picketing Bunn's Barber Shop revise its fund raising program, set for April 24 through 27.

In a meeting with Mrs. Peter Day, co-chairman of the fund raising committee, Bernreuter emphasized that all funds must be used to aid students, rather than non-students, involved in anti-segregation demonstrations.

As originally planned, the funds would be used to "aid people in the South with non-violent, anti-segregation efforts."

Bernreuter also recommended that the drive take place only on campus, eliminating the downtown area. Permission from the Chamber of Commerce or borough officials would have to be obtained if the drive were to be conducted downtown, he said.

It was suggested at the meeting that the Associated Student Activities handle bookkeeping for the drive.

The anti-segregationist group had originally planned to seek a single group to sponsor the drive, with other groups to endorse it. However, if the ASA manages the funds, more than one group will be able to sponsor the drive.

When the movement for a fund drive was first planned, the group had decided to which specific groups money would be donated.

Bernreuter suggested several such organizations now involved in anti-segregation movements. Among those suggested was the National Student Christian Federation, which has a legal aid and scholarship fund. All major denominations belong to this organization.

Mrs. Day yesterday said that the dates for the drive may have to be moved up, due to the revisions now being investigated.

There has been continual picketing of Bunn's, at 110 S. Allen St., from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. since Tuesday.

Aaron Konstam, a leader of the group, emphasized yesterday that "the purpose of the pickets is to demonstrate the central moral issue involved in this demonstration, that of bringing into the open the fact of segregation's existence in State College."

The group will hold an open meeting tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. in the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel, for any persons interested in joining the movement or getting background on its plan of action.

Civil Rights Bill Passed by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed a civil rights bill last night after eight weeks of battling.

The roll call vote was 71-18. The 18 were the Southern senators who fought the bill every step of the way.

The measure, aimed primarily at enforcing Negro voting rights, goes back to the BRIDGE WAS THE GAME and Waring lounge was the place, for the annual sorority and fraternity bridge tournament sponsored as a part of the IFC-Panhel Greek Week program.

Actors, Dealers Needed for TIM's Las Vegas Night

Most gambling casinos face the problems of going broke or lacking enough equipment but planners for TIM's Las Vegas Night say their mock casino lacks entertainers and dealers.

TIM-Leonides Las Vegas Night will be held from 8 to 12 tonight when the Hetzel Union ballroom will be turned into a mock gambling casino.

Frank Jankosky, TIM Las Vegas Night chairman, said that the committee is looking for amateur and professional talent for the 20-minute stage shows. Interested students may contact Ronald Shibban, he said.

The casino also lacks male and female poker dealers and all men and women who would be interested in dealing can sign up at the TIM office.

Greek Week Car Wash

The Greek Week car wash will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. today at Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Sigma and Bathurst's Gulf Station, route 322 and College Avenue.

Winter to Return To Area Today

Winter will return today as brisk and gusty winds transport cold air into the area from Central Canada.

Snow flurries will accompany the cold and blustery weather, bringing back memories of mid-winter.

Today will be mostly cloudy, windy and unseasonably cold with occasional flurries and a high temperature of 39 degrees.

Partly cloudy, breezy and quite cold weather is due tonight with the mercury dipping into the mighty cold middle 20's.

The cold and windy weather will continue tomorrow, although afternoon readings may be a few degrees higher than today's.

Lowenfeld Is Recovering

Dr. Viktor Lowenfeld, head of the Department of Art Education, who suffered a cerebral spasm Thursday afternoon, was reported improved last night by officials at the Centre County Hospital.

Lowenfeld's doctor also reported that his patient's power of speech was slightly improved.

House for action on Senate amendments.

Congressional leaders were hopeful the House, which passed substantially the same bill by a 311-109 vote on March 24, would accept the Senate changes.

This would make it unnecessary to set up a Senate-House conference to compromise the differences, most of which are relatively minor.

Senate passage of the bill came over bitter opposition of Southern members, who lost 70-18 a last-ditch effort to send it back to the Judiciary Committee for more hearings. The final vote capped a struggle that began Feb. 15 and was featured by more than a week of record-smashing around-the-clock sessions.

Southern senators denounced the bill to the end as an unconstitutional invasion of states' rights. Some of their Northern Democratic colleagues called it a weak, watered down bill—a sham.

But Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who worked in tandem to steer the bill through the Senate, said it marked a forward step.

Dirksen said last Tuesday that President Eisenhower was "quite happy" with it, even though the bill does not carry out some of the administration's major civil rights proposals.

The heart of the measure is designed to assure Negroes and other minority groups the right to register and vote without discrimination because of race or color.

In any area where a Federal District Court found a pattern or practice of racial discrimination, the judge, or referees appointed by him, could register qualified Negroes. Their right to vote would then be enforced through the court's contempt powers.

SGA Alters Regulations For Flight

Leonard Julius, outgoing SGA president, announced yesterday that a student may now apply for the SGA flight to Europe for his parents or wife or dependent children even if he does not wish to go himself.

Originally, a student could not apply for his parents if he was not going to apply for himself also.

However, Julius explained, a student may only make applications for his parents, wife (or husband), or children who have the same permanent address as the student.

Julius also said that 61 applications have been received to date. This puts the cost of the flight at $341.50 per person.

However, as more people register, the cost will decrease and those who have already paid will receive a refund.

All those who have made a deposit on the flight must have the remainder of the cost paid by April 15.

However, applications will be accepted until immediately before the flight, which will leave from New York on June 13 and will return July 23.

Sr. Class Day Committee

The Senior Class Day Committee will meet at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in 214 Hetzel Union Building.

Students to Decide On 'Sing' Eligibility

The eligibility of all participants in the Greek Week Sing will be reviewed in a special joint meeting of the Interfraternity Council Board of Control and the Panhellenic Council Judicial Board tomorrow afternoon.

Pi Beta Phi, which won first place in the sorority quartet competition, was disqualified Thursday by the dean of men's and dean of women's office when it was learned that one of the members in the quartet was on academic probation.

However, a spot check by The Daily Collegian Thursday night showed that 8 of the 13 participating sororities and fraternities also permitted members on academic probation to participate in the sing contest.

Robert Parsky, chairman of the IFC Board of Control, said last night that at the meeting tomorrow his group and its Panhel counterpart would review all the participants in the sing, including Pi Beta Phi.

Parsky said that to his knowledge there had been no official disqualification previously. The final decision would come from the meeting tomorrow, he said, at which representatives from both the dean of men's and the dean of women's office will be present.

However, Emily Bradley,

Greek Week co-chairman, explained that Pi Beta Phi's disqualification had been official as of Thursday. She said the decision had come from a meeting attended by Wilmer J. Wise, assistant to the dean of men in charge of fraternity affairs, Mrs. Norma Mountain, assistant to the dean of women and herself.

At that time, Miss Bradley said, the only known group which permitted a member on academic probation to participate in the sing was Pi Beta Phi.

She added, however, that with the additional information a re-consideration of all the participants was probable in the meeting tomorrow.

The fraternities and sororities involved could be disqualified according to a Senate regulation which states that no student on academic or social probation may participate in extra-curricular, sorority or fraternity activities.

Clagett Cites Attendance as Important

Donald Clagett, newly installed SGA vice president, said Thursday night that he hopes the motto of the new Assembly will be, "Every Assemblyman at every Assembly meeting."

Clagett and Richard Haber, new SGA president, made policy statements before the opening of the Assembly meeting.

Haber explained a new plan which calls for each Assembly member to be assigned to attend the meetings of another organization. By this method, Haber said, closer contact with other organizations will be established. This contact, he said, will lead to better representation through a common understanding of problems.

The Assembly will be aware of the problems that exist, he said, before it is too late and special representatives of the organizations have to appear before Assembly to protest action which is already completed.

Haber said that the executive committee will begin to visit dormitory meetings and individual rooms after Easter to learn student opinion.

He said, in the past, students have been assigned to participate in various committees and report to the Assembly. This, he added, has never been effective. Haber said he felt that giving each Assemblyman a definite assignment would eliminate confusion and make the plan more workable and of more value.

Outgoing President Leonard Julius said he thought one of the biggest problems of SGA was its loss of prestige in the eyes of the administration. This new Assembly, he said, will be the one to resolve the question of the survival of this form of government.

The loss of prestige, Julius said, was caused by the fact that Assemblymen did not conduct their own research on issues. "They just came, listened and voted," he said.

Julius also mentioned the disinterest and inexperience of alternates as weakening factors.

Former Vice President Larry Byers said the new Assembly will have to show more initiative. This year we've acted like people in a locomotive repair house, he said. "We've got the locomotive now," he said, "now it's time to put it on the track and do something with it."
