

Ed Rehabilitation Program To Expand Under New Grant

The rehabilitation counseling program of the College of Education will be expanded under a new grant from the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The grant of $14,720 brings the amount of traineeship support the program is receiving to $60,320, and makes it possible for 17 graduate students to continue their work during the coming summer sessions. Three new trainees will also be added under the new grant.

The increased support was given in response to the need, expressed by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Rehabilitation, for 70 new counselors in the current biennium, more than twice the number now being qualified by the University program.

Pennsylvania has led the nation for the last three years in the number of vocationally handicapped individuals who have been rehabilitated, but a greater expansion of services is needed if the state is to meet the needs of the handicapped.

The Bureau of Rehabilitation can place all graduates of the program for years to come, and has need for many more professionally trained persons than can be supplied.

Nine trained persons, whose programs are being accelerated under the new grant to get them into the field of rehabilitation more quickly, will graduate in the program by August. A total of 34 persons will have studied under the program during the current year by September.

Local Youth Given Probation by Court

The 17-year-old State College youth who fractured a Campus patrolman's nose was placed on probation by Judge R Paul Campbell following a juvenile hearing Friday.

He was also required to surrender his operator's license and is responsible for medical expenses accrued as a result of the injury.

The incident occurred in the Campus Patrol office the night of April 2. According to testimony, the youth struck the patrolman during an argument in which the youth said he was falsely accused of squealing his tires in a campus parking lot.
