

8 Penn State Grapplers Move Into Final Day of Regionals

By JOHN MORRIS

Eight Penn Staters survived the first and second rounds of Olympic District II wrestling trials and move into the semi-finals, slated to start at 2 this afternoon in Rec Hall.

Ron Pifer and Paul Stegner go into the semis with no penalty points on their records. Pifer drew a bye in last night's action while Stegner pinned Bob Clithero in 25 seconds in their middleweight match.

Ray Nunamaker, Al Feingold, Ev Barber and John Trojan all advance to the final two rounds with four penalty points charged against them. Tony Scordo was pinned last night by Dick Scorese and enters today's action with five penalty points.

Pifer, Barber and Scordo all captured victories in yesterday afternoon's matches. Lanky Pifer used a cross-body knee-lock to pin Dan Woodcock in 8:43.

Scordo decisioned Tom Canty in a close match and Ev Barber decisioned Hal Byers before losing by decision to Bill Bailey in the night action.

Another varsity wrestler, Artie Ravitz, dropped his afternoon match to Pat Reilly and was eliminated last night when he was pinned by Mark Murray in 6:37.

Ray Nunamaker was charged with four penalty points by getting pinned by State College's Dave Thiel in 5:25. Little Al Feingold put up a good fight in his flyweight match before Tom Balent caught him coming in and scored a pin in 3:22.

Bill Oberly and Allison Henson dropped out of the heavyweight competition, leaving only Johnston Oberly and Don Learman in the division.

meet for the championship tonight, but both men are assured of a spot in the final trials in Ames, Iowa, next week.

The trials are set up in a round-robin tourney with 12 minute matches divided into four periods, 6-2-2-2.

Final places in the meet are determined by the number of penalty points a wrestler receives. In a pin match, the winner isn't charged with any penalty points but the loser gets four.

A decision winner is charged with one point and the loser gets three, while in a draw both wrestlers get two points. Six penalty points eliminate a wrestler.

The semi-finals are scheduled to get under way at 2 and the finals start at 8 tonight. Plenty of tickets remain for both the afternoon and evening sessions.

Besselink, Finsterwald Lead in Golf Tourney

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Big Al Besselink, changing his golf swing after a long victory drought, and Dow Finsterwald, a big money winner who rarely changes anything, jumped into the lead yesterday at the halfway point of the $27,000 Greater New Orleans Open.

The 6-4, 210-pound Besselink rode home with five birdies on the back nine for a five-under-par 67 and a 36-hole total of 135.

3-Year-Olds to Race In Pre-Derby Tune-ups

A flock of Kentucky Derby hopefuls will lay their credentials on the line today in races for 3-year-old horses at Aqueduct, Bay Meadows and Gulfstream Park.

Fourteen sophomores were entered for the $75,000-added Wood Memorial at Aqueduct. Nine are eligible for the $125,000-added derby at Louisville on May 7.

At Bay Meadows, San Mateo, Calif., eight were entered for the $40,000-added California Derby, and half of them are eligible for the Kentucky classic.

"NO PARKING"

As everyone knows, the most serious problem facing American colleges today is the shortage of parking space for students' cars.

Many remedies have been offered to solve this vexing dilemma. For instance, it has been suggested that all students be required to drive small foreign sports cars which can be carried in the purse or pocket. This would, of course, solve the parking problem but it would make double dating impossible—unless, that is, the boys make the girls run along behind the car. But that is no solution either because by the time they get to the prom the girls will be panting so hard that they will wilt their corsages.

Another suggested cure for our parking woes is that all students smoke Marlboro cigarettes. At first glance this seems an excellent solution because we all know Marlboro is the cigarette which proved that flavor did not go out when filters came in—and when we sit around and smoke good Marlboros we are so possessed by sweet contentment that none of us wishes ever to leave, which means no gadding about which means no driving, which means no parking problem.

But the argument in favor of Marlboros overlooks one important fact: when you run out of Marlboros you must go get some more, which means driving, which means parking, which means you're right back where you started.

Probably the most practical suggestion to alleviate the campus parking situation is to tear down every school of dentistry in the country and turn it into a parking lot. This is not to say that dentistry is unimportant. Gracious, no! Dentistry is important and vital and a shining part of our American heritage. But the fact is there is no real need for separate schools of dentistry. Dentistry could easily be moved to the school of mining engineering. Surely anyone who can drill a thousand feet for oil can fill a simple little cavity.

This experiment—combining dentistry with mining engineering—has already been tried at several colleges—and with some very interesting results. Take, for instance, the case of a dental student named Fred C. Sigafos. One day recently Fred was out practicing with his drilling rig in a vacant lot just off campus. He sank a shaft two hundred feet deep and, to his surprise and delight, he struck a detergent mine. For a while Fred thought his fortune was made but he soon learned that he had drilled into the storage tank of the Eagle Laundry. Walter P. Eagle, president of the laundry, was mad as all get-out and things looked mighty black for Fred. But it all ended well. When Mr. Eagle called Fred into his office to chew him out, it so happened that Mr. Eagle's beautiful daughter, Patient Griselda, was present. For years Patient Griselda had been patiently waiting for the right man. "That's him!" she cried upon spying Fred—and today Fred is a full partner in the Eagle Laundry in charge of plents and ruffles.

Speaking of laundries reminds us of cleanliness which in turn reminds us of filtered Marlboros and unfiltered Philip Morris—both clean and fresh to the taste—both available in soft pack and flip-top box.

Netmen Meet Cornell Today

With a 1-3 record Penn State's tennis team has a right for better things to come, but the outlook is never too bright when you have to play Cornell.

The Lions, fresh from their first win of the year, face the always tough Big Red in Ithaca, N.Y., this afternoon and Coach Sherm Fogg will probably use the same lineup that downed Pitt, 9-0, Wednesday.

Captain Jerry Carp, 2-2 for the campaign, holds down the number one singles spot for the Lions. Carp is a master of the soft shot and sports a strong overhand slam.

Sophomore Jim Baker is the second man in the Lion lineup. Baker also has a 2-2 record and all of the fiery netter's matches have been close.

Ever-improving Johnny Blanck will fill the third slot against the Big Red. Blanck has the top individual record on the team, 3-1.

Junior lettermen Dick Ludwig and Don McCartney hold down the fourth and fifth spots in the Lion lineup. McCartney has been steady all year but Ludwig has been off his game and his poor showing has hurt the Nittany cause.

Vance Rea, in the sixth slot, was moved back into the singles lineup against Pitt and responded with a convincing win.

Lanky Gary Moore and Carp will be the number one doubles team with Baker and Blanck and Ludwig and McCartney rounding out the starting alignment.

Cornell's team is made up largely of juniors and sophomores although their number one man, Kay Champion, is a senior. Champion was the eastern intercollegiate champion last year.

Don Rubella will play in the number two slot for Cornell, and lefty Sam Dugan is slated to see some action against the Lions.
