

Editorial Opinion

Big Possibilities

The revolutionary trend in the regimentation of the lives of coeds reached a new high point this weekend and may eventually effect the entire student body's self-governing system

The weekend conferences of WSGA and Leonides supposedly were set up to reorganize their own internal structures but the coeds went a little beyond a WSGA-Leonides reorganization and came up with suggestions which could affect every major governing organization on campus

The originating force for these ideas was the community living plan which will be installed in five residence halls areas

The suggestions and tentative plans which were made this weekend brought in an entirely new concept of student government here--government centered on the living units

These suggestions affect AIM, SGA, all the residence hall councils and all judicial organizations.

The conferences were tinged with the flavor of big changes that may appeal to an organizational structure which just recently awoke from a long dormant period.

The results and possible ramifications of these conferences should have not only the coeds but all students interested and concerned enough to do much investigation and serious consideration to make sure that any changes they decide upon are feasible and in the best interests of the entire student body.

Assembly Challenged

The recently elected SGA last night took the initial step in what may be its first piece of action. The assemblymen were given papers listing the possible alternatives in the Thanksgiving vacation changes now under investigation by a University Senate committee.

The challenge now falls directly to the assemblymen who were elected after professing a true desire to represent the students' viewpoints.

They have until Thursday to not just talk to their roommate, but discuss with as many students as possible the best alternative. For, if Assembly is going to take any action it must be taken Thursday so that the students' recommendations may be presented for consideration before the next University Senate meeting next week.

A Student-Operated Newspaper 55 Years of Editorial Freedom

The Daily Collegian

Successor to The Free Lance, est 1887

Published Tuesday through Saturday morning during the University year. The Daily Collegian is a student-operated newspaper. Entered as second-class matter July 5, 1934 at the State College, Pa. Post Office under the act of March 3, 1879.

Mail Subscription Price: $3.00 per semester - $5.00 per year.

Member of The Associated Press and The Intercollegiate Press

JOHN BLACK Editor

CHESTER LUCIDO Business Manager

City Editor, Carol Blakeslee; Assistant Editor, Gloria Wolford; Sports Editor, Sandy Padwe; Assistant City Editor and Personnel Director, Susan Linkroom; Feature Editor and Assistant Copy Editor, Elaine Mele; Copy Editor, Annabelle Rosenthal; Photography Editor, Frederic Bower; Make-up Editor, Joel Myers.

Local Ad Mgr., Brad Davis; Assistant Local Ad Mgr., Hal Deisher; Credit Mgr., Mary Ann Crans; Ass't Credit Mgr., Neal Keitz; Classified Ad Mgr., Constance Kiesel; Co-Circulation Mgrs., Rosalind Abes, Richard Kringer; Promotion Mgr., Elaine Michal; Personnel Mgr., Becky Kohudie; Office Secretary, Joanne Huyett.

STAFF THIS ISSUE: Headline Editor, Kay Mills; Wire Editor, Ann Palmer; Night Copy Editor, Jerrie Markos; Assistants, Marie Thomas, Emily Nissley, Phyllis Mandelbaum, Joan Mehan, Joanne Swoboda, John Moris.

Letters

Senior Defines Discrimination; Hits Picketers

TO THE EDITOR: I would suggest a few more groups which practice discrimination for the anti-segregationists to picket. First, they might picket the University administration for discriminating against the students incapable of earning a degree.

They might picket the churches for discriminating against those who are not "saved," and denying them admittance to heaven. The track coaches might be picketed for discriminating against those who cannot run fast. The grade schools might be picketed for discriminating against the slow learner and not promoting him.

Likewise, the country club for discriminating against those in a lower income bracket, plus the Federal Government for discriminating against those in a higher income bracket.

Let us rid ourselves of the horror of group discrimination. Let us give everyone the same name, the same face, the same income, the same job, the same color skin, the same personality, and then, and only then, will we find ourselves in a Utopia, free from the curse of discrimination. For what is the origin of discrimination against groups or individuals but differences among those groups or individuals?

-William Hildreth, '60

Administrative Opinion Sought

TO THE EDITOR: To Bill Baker this segregation row is a joking matter, a "dream world" To other people, however, it is hard, bitter reality.

To be roped off, to be accepted or rejected only because of the color of your skin, is a massive insult. No wonder some students will accept it no longer. The wonder is that they have submitted to it for as long as they have!

During this entire affair, one voice has been conspicuous by its silence. What is the University's administration doing to help? Isn't the University concerned with this sort of treatment to its students?

The townspeople won't pay any attention to student protests. They never have and they never will. But from President Walker a word in the right places might make a difference.

-Ed Hirschmann Grad Student

Gazette

TODAY Ag Council, 7 p.m., 212 HUB Belles Lettres Club, 7 p.m., Swannons lounge

Central Pennsylvania section, American Society of Mechanical Engineers meeting, 7:30 p.m., Mineral Industries auditorium Christian Fellowship, 12:45 p.m., 218 HUB Delta Sigma Pi business meeting, 7 p.m., professional meeting, Albert Diem, speaker, Phi Delta Theta

Economics faculty seminar, 12 noon, Dr. David Felix, Wayne State University, "The Shift from Stable to Runaway Inflation: Some Critical Questions," HUB dining room "A"

Five O'clock Theatre, 5 p.m., "Milne Marlowe's Dilemma," by June Miller, senior in arts and letters, Little Theatre, Old Main

Float parade, 6:15 p.m., 218 HUB ICG, 7 p.m., 203 HUB

LA Council, 6:30 p.m., 214 HUB MI Council, 7 p.m., 218 HUB

Mixed Choir, 7 p.m., HUB assembly room Mixed Chorus, no meeting tonight Navy recruiting, HUB ground floor

Nittany Grotto, 7 p.m., 121 Mineral Industries

Panhel Council, 6 p.m., 214 HUB Schuhplattler Dance Club, 7:30 p.m., 3 White

Sigma Alpha Eta, 7 p.m., 216 HUB WSGA Judicial, 4 p.m., 214 HUB

UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL Wayne Armuth, Sheila Cohen, Barton Friedman, Suzanne Gunney, Max Halpern, Joyce Hutter, Maxine King, Lois Klutz, Roger Klein, Janice Levy, Ronna Margolis, Joseph Mastlak, Victor Miller, George Mitchell, Thomas Potte, Margaret Powell, Russell Scheiden, Mary Seltz, Donald Stewart, Mary Francis Strippy, Carole Sweeney, Charles Wilson.

Women Fire Trailers To Hold Safety Meeting

A meeting will be held at 7:30 tonight in 10 Electrical Engineering for all women fire trailers in residence halls.

Lois McCulloch, assistant to the dean of women, said that the procedures involved in fire drills and other safety precautions will be discussed.

Interpreting:

Khrushchev Talks Tougher on Berlin

By J. M. ROBERTS Associated Press News Analyst

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, agreeing with the West that disarmament is the prime issue for the summit conference, talks tougher and tougher as time goes on over the matter of West Berlin.

Now he says that if the Soviet Union gets no concessions on Berlin she will sign a peace treaty with East Germany which will take away the Western right of access to the city by land, sea or air.

That's what he says. Maybe it is even what he thinks. His ability to make it stick in the face of Allied determination to stay is another matter.

Since the time for any such attempt will not come before the summit conference and President Eisenhower's visit to the USSR, a good bet is that the Soviet Premier is merely maneuvering for position at this point.

By keeping disarmament at the head of the list, Khrushchev is, after a fashion, going along with the Allied desire, highlighted by French President Charles de Gaulle's speech to the U.S. Congress yesterday, to talk all around the Berlin issue while maintaining the status quo.

At the same time he keeps the board set for a deal under which he could trade off some of the synthetic urgency with which he has surrounded the Berlin issue in favor of an agreement in principle on disarmament which he may hope will eventually weaken the Allied defense structure.

One point, however, is worth noting. It is generally expected that the Paris meeting will be only the first of a series. If that is agreed, the atmosphere after the Eisenhower-Khrushchev conference will still mitigate against unilateral action by the Soviet Union on any points still pending.

If Khrushchev were then to act against Berlin, with the inevitable increase in tensions such an act would produce, the facade of his peace offensive would collapse around his ears.

WRA to Hold Clothing Drive

The WRA Executive Board has decided to repeat its annual clothing drive sometime in the spring.

It was decided that all teams participating in the softball intramurals will be required to attend only one practice prior to the tournament. Previously the teams were instructed to attend two practices for eligibility, but due to the indefinite weather, this had to be changed.

The Board also decided to donate $5 to the drive to raise money for the lion suit

The Board will use some of its funds to buy an emergency torch, kitchen utensils and covers for couches for the WRA cabin.

Little Man on Campus

by Dick Bibler

