Apartment Rule Causes Conflict

By PAT DYER

Contradictions in the men's and women's rules regulating apartment visiting led to a decision Tuesday by the Senate Subcommittee on Student Affairs to review all the present women's regulations, Margaret McPherson, Women's Student Government Association president, said last night.

The present women's rules have never been submitted to the subcommittee, she reported.

Senate Regulation W-6 states that the "President of the University may dismiss at any time any student whose influence is found too injurious to the standard of morals of the student body, or whose conduct is prejudicial to the good name of the University."

The Dean of Men's office has interpreted this to mean that no male student may entertain a woman guest in his apartment. The new women's rules passed in February states that a woman may visit a man's apartment by special permission of a residence hall staff member and with parental approval.

WSGA Senate voted last night to recommend that University Senate clarify its interpretation of its regulation.

The subcommittee will review the whole system of women's rules at its next meeting, Miss McPherson said.

In other business, WSGA Senate voted to give freshmen upper-class women's hours after customs next fall due to the new integration of freshmen with upper-class women. Freshman hours during customs will be determined by the Freshman Customs Board.

Questionnaires will be distributed next week to determine coed views on signing out, Sen also decided. The questionnaires will give women a chance to indicate their preference for a sign-out system as is now in operation; for signing out only after 10 p.m.; for signing out for specials, weekends and by voluntary action; or for some other system.

The results of this poll will be discussed next Thursday at the

Saving Holiday Rests On Students, Bernreuter Says

By KAREN HYNCKEAL

Unless students can propose a feasible solution to the problem of irregular class meetings during the fall semester, the Thanksgiving vacation will probably be eliminated, Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, special assistant to the president for student affairs, said yesterday afternoon.

Tonight SGA Assemblymen will report on a student opinion poll which they have

WSGA to Support Cut in Xmas Holiday

By ANN PALMER

The Women's Student Government Association last night suggested a proposal to revise the calendar for next fall by eliminating 2½ days from the Christmas vacation. Part of the dropped period would fall at the beginning of vacation and part at the end.

This fifth proposal will be added to the list of four standing proposals which are as follows:

- To start the fall semester the days later than usual and make up the time by removing the four free days after examinations and beginning the spring semester right away.

- To start the fall semester the Wednesday preceding the usual time, include the fall semester break, and lengthen the spring semester a day or two.

- To consider the last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday as Thursday, Friday and Saturday and eliminate the one free day before examinations begin.

- To eliminate the Thanksgiving vacation altogether except for the one day holiday itself.

In reviewing these four proposals, WSGA found that none of them were exactly suitable to their demands. Thus ideas were formed to fulfill their desires for what they considered the ideal solution.

Katherine Hughes, senior senator on WSGA, stated last night that in an unofficial discussion with a member of the housing staff, an adversity was expressed against the elimination of the Thanksgiving vacation, included in the fourth proposal, for the Department of Housing needs this time in which to attend to matters not possible when the dormitories are occupied.

Conflict Schedule

Space limitations prevented The Daily Collegian from publishing the final conflict examination schedule today for the spring semester, 1960. The schedule will definitely appear in tomorrow's paper.

Srs. to Begin Voting on Gift, Class Awards

Seniors will select 18 outstanding members of their class at elections to be held from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow in the HUB and Boucke.

At this time seniors will also vote on the proposals for the class gift.

Nominees for Outstanding Seniors are the following:

Larry Byers, Lanny Dey, Gary Gentzler, Theodore Haller, William Jaffe, Leonard Julius, Martin Leshner, Peter Luckie, Richard Lucas, Kenneth Florence, Vincent Marino, George McTurk, Steven Ott, Samuel Minor, Patrick Botula.

Nancy Clark, Ellen Butterworth, Ellen Burke, Mary Ann Ganter, Judith Heckert, Jessie Janjigian, Carol Frank, Carmella LaSpada, Jody Miller, Dorothy Newman, Jean Nigh, Sherry Parkin, Janet Moore, Rita Saltzer, Helen Skade.

Seniors are asked to vote for nine men and nine women. The Elections Commission is handling the voting. The 18 seniors selected will be notified by letter, but the results will not be disclosed until the Class Day procession at 2 p.m. on May 7 in Schwab.

The gift will also be presented at the Class Day program.

been conducting and the Assembly will decide which of four proposals it will recommend to the University Senate next Thursday.

Bernreuter indicated that the recommendation from SGA will only be successful if it coincides with the Senate's opinion which is to eliminate the vacation because the other proposals involve too many problems.

"If students present an emotional attitude, it won't carry much weight. However, if they can suggest a new solution which would not add additional problems, their suggestion may change the Senate's opinion," Bernreuter said.

The Senate has already considered all the pros and cons of the situation. It feels that the elimination of Thanksgiving vacation would be the best solution and would not involve additional difficulties," he said.

Bernreuter added that he felt SGA President Richard Haber has a difficult task facing him if he hopes to get the Senate to approve any of the other three proposals which were introduced to the Senate at their last meeting, April 7.

Haber represents SGA at Senate. "He will have to change the opinion of at least one-sixth of the Senators," Bernreuter said.

Haber said yesterday he is "very disappointed, to say the least, in the administration's attitude." Haber attended a meeting of the Senate committee on Student Affairs Tuesday and said that judging from the meeting, the possibilities of the Senate passing a proposal other than the elimination of Thanksgiving vacation are "very slim."

The calendar change was first introduced to the Senate by Benjamin Whisler, chairman of the Senate committee on class and calendar schedule. Whisler said there had been many complaints on the irregularity of class meetings during the fall semester.

Of the four proposals, the Senate approved the elimination of the Thanksgiving vacation by a straw vote. However, many of the Senators did not vote.

This week, SGA Assemblymen have been seeking student opinion on the issue and will report the results tonight.

Tomorrow Haber will talk to President Eric A. Walker concerning the proposals and the proposal which the SGA approves tonight.
