

Netters Top Bisons, Win 2nd Meet, 6-3

By JOHN MORRIS

The Penn State tennis team, anxious to avenge last year's loss, upped their season record to 2-4 by downing Bucknell, 6-3, on the Nittany courts yesterday.

The visiting Bisons dropped the Lions, 7-2, last year and Bucknell coach Hank Peters brought nearly the same squad back to face the fired-up Nittanians this year.

Erratic sophomore Jim Baker led off for the Lions against returning letterman Bill Sweet. Sweet was strong throughout and his consistency paid off with a 8-6, 4-6, 7-5 win.

Dick Ludwig was elevated to the second slot in the Lion lineup to face steady vet Tom Cowen. Fogg's surprise move paid off when the Lion junior came through, 6-4, 6-0.

Jerry Carp met Henry Livas in the third match. Livas made some spectacular saves but couldn't cope with Carp's superior ground game and lost to the Lion captain, 6-3, 6-4.

Fogg gave the fourth spot to steady Johnny Blanck and the junior letterman responded with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Bison captain Bob Goecker. The win boosts Blanck's season record to 4-2.

State's Don McCartney lost to Bison sophomore Mike Knickwalter in the fifth match. Big Knickwalter used effective lobs and an assortment of soft shots to defeat the Lion letterman, 6-4, 6-3.

Vance Rea and Denny Sweet-man were matched in the sixth slot. Sweetman started strong and won the first set but Rea came back with lobs and slice shots to take the match, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2.

Carp and lanky Garry Moore teamed up to win their doubles match, 6-3, 6-3, over Sweet and Cowen. Rea and Ludwig also won their match, but with the pressure off Baker and Blanck "let up" and lost, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3, to Livas and Goecker.

Thinclads Attempt Comeback At Relays This Weekend

The Penn State track team will try to shake off its early season slump in Philadelphia this weekend when the thinclads take part in one of the biggest track meets in the country, the Penn Relays.

The Relays, featuring a host of Olympic hopefuls and most of the top track powerhouses in the East, will give Penn State an opportunity to dispel rumors that it is headed for a sub-par year.

The rumors started immediately after the Lions lost their opener to Navy, 68½ - 62½, Saturday.

One of the biggest and most interesting events of the two-day carnival should be the 100-yard dash, with five world record holders and Lion sprinter Bobby Brown competing. Brown will probably be facing the stiffest competition of his career when he enters the blocks with the likes of Dave Sime, Bobby Morrow, Ray Norton, Ira Murchinson and Bill Woodhouse.

If the Lion dashman has any hopes of winning he will have to improve over last week's performance when teammate George Metzgar edged him in both the 100 and 220.

Another feature of the meet will be the high jump with Boston U's John Thomas holding the spotlight.

Although Penn State high jumper Dick Campbell has no aspirations of challenging Thomas, who has cleared seven feet or better over a dozen times, he has a good chance for second place. Campbell set a new Penn State record when he cleared 6-6 at Navy last week.

In this same meet last year the Lion thinclads literally tore up the track, capturing three gold medals and setting a record in the 4-mile relay.

In another top event, Penn State grad student Ed Moran will hook up with Tom Murphy in an 800-meter dual that could help the former Lion star decide which event he'll enter in the Olympic trials.

Right now Moran is pointing toward the 1500, but a win this weekend could change his mind.

Only Illinois leads Penn State in National Collegiate gymnastics championships.

Baseball is the oldest intercollegiate sport at Penn State.

NCAA, AAU Dispute Arises

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Olympic team has been placed squarely in the middle — but in no immediate jeopardy — by the flaring feud of the country's two ruling amateur bodies, the AAU and the NCAA.

The AAU is the Amateur Athletic Union, governing body of amateur sports in the United States. The NCAA is the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which cracks the whip for college athletics.

Tuesday, in Atlanta, the NCAA Council announced it no longer would recognize suspensions made by the AAU. The college group expressed dissatisfaction with what it called "the capricious and inconsistent manner" of AAU suspensions.

The Council cited two cases — the cancellation of a scheduled tour of a Swedish basketball team and the calling off of a benefit basketball game in Iowa by the AAU because one of the teams allegedly had two professional players.

The AAU came back Wednesday with a formal statement in which it said the NCAA had concurred at the time in both actions. The AAU said if its suspensions are not upheld by the NCAA "a chaotic condition would prevail in amateur sports in the United States."
