

Bedenk Juggles Lineup For Game With Bucknell

Penn State will have to use a patched up infield today when the Lions try to break a three-game losing streak against Bucknell at Beaver Field at 3:30.

Injuries to Don Robinson and Bob Hrobak coupled with Larry Fegley's measles left Joe Bedenk short-handed and as a result the Lion mentor will have to go with two untried sophs at short and second.

Bedenk said that Bill Riden would start at second in place of Fegley, State's top hitter, and Bill Burkhardt will play in Hrobak's shortstop position.

Fegley came up with the measles following State's weekend road trip to Rutgers and Lafayette and Hrobak has been hobbling around on an infected toe since Sunday.

Bedenk said that Hrobak would be available, though in case of an emergency.

More bad news was received yesterday when the Lion coach learned that Robinson would be sidelined three weeks with a fractured cheekbone.

The little soph, who had done a good job subbing for Dick Landis at third, was hit by a wicked ground ball in practice Monday and x-rays revealed the fracture yesterday.

Landis, who missed the Georgetown trip 10 days ago after being hit in the mouth by a grounder, will start at third today and Bill Benton will be the first baseman.

Benton is one of State's most consistent hitters and has a .280 batting average. He's leading the team in homers with two and has been playing good defensive ball.

Harry Beans, a .360 hitter, will catch big righthander Marlin Biesecker who has a 2-1 record after losing to Lafayette Friday.

Bucknell has been having troubles this year due to poor fielding and inexperience. Twenty sophomores are listed on the Bison roster and they've been making plenty of mistakes.

Tommy Thompson, Bucknell

basketball captain and the Bison's top pitcher, will probably get the starting assignment against the Lions.

Thompson didn't have luck against State last year, losing 2-1 at Lewisburg after being knocked from the box in an earlier game here.

Against common opponents, the Bisons have lost to Georgetown, Lafayette, and Colgate while beating Gettysburg, State beat Georgetown and Gettysburg, but lost to Colgate and Lafayette.

The Lions will close out their short homestand Saturday when Maryland comes to Beaver for a single game.

Phillies, New York Win on Home Runs

CHICAGO (AP) — Rookie outfielder Ken Walters' first major league home run, a drive over the left field screen with one out in the ninth, carried the Philadelphia Phillies to a 10-9 victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday.

The victory enabled the Phillies to smash a six game losing streak and gave them a split in the bobtailed series.

It was an up-hill triumph for the Phillies, who had to overcome a 5-0 deficit to gain their sixth victory in the season's first 17 games. Seth Morehead, formerly a pitcher for the Phillies, served the "gopher" to Walters.

Jack Meyer, second of three Philadelphia pitchers, held the Cubs to three hits over a five-inning span to earn his first victory of the season.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Skowron, Roger Maris and pinch hitter Kent Hadley hammered home runs and Art Ditmar and Ryne Duren turned in fine relief performances as the New York Yankees inflicted the seventh straight defeat upon the Detroit Tigers yesterday, 10-3.

Four Tiger pitchers were victims of the Yankees' 14-hit attack, which included three doubles and a triple besides the three home runs. Skowron, hottest New York hitter with a .458 batting average, had a double besides his fifth four-bagger of the season which tied him for the league lead with Cleveland's Woodie Held.

Don Mossi, veteran left-hander who whipped the Yankees six times in eight decisions last year, bore the brunt of the Yankee attack.

BOSTON (AP) — Norm Siebern's throwing error on a 10th inning lent by Pete Runnels let in the winning run yesterday as Boston edged Kansas City, 4-3.

Shortstop Don Buddin scored from second base.

Runnels dragged a bunt down the first base line and Siebern moved in to field it. The bespectacled A's infielder set for his lob throw with plenty of time but overshot Jerry Lumpe who was covering the bag.

Buddin had doubled off loser Bud Daley to open the Red Sox 10th.

Dodgers Lose Pitcher Craig For 2 Months

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lanky Roger Craig, a key man in pitching the Dodgers into the World Series last year, is out of action for two months.

Dr. Robert Kerland, club physician, said Craig suffered a fractured collarbone when he collided with Vada Pinson of the Cincinnati Reds Monday night.

Vice President E. J. Buzzie Bavasi, wired National League President Warren Giles, asking that Craig be placed on the disabled list. If granted, this would reduce the Dodger roster to 27, just two over the limit for the regular season.

Bavasi made no move to replace Craig on the roster.

Craig was knocked head over heels by Pinson in the eighth inning. Pinson was trying to score from third.

Craig tagged out Pinson and managed to hold onto the ball but after three pitches, Craig had to leave the game.

Faulty fielding which led to five unearned Cincinnati runs and a 6-5 Redleg triumph cost Craig the game and gave him a 1-1 record for the season.

Ed Moran, currently aiming for a spot on the U.S. Olympic team, holds two Penn State track records.

Atlanta, Chicago Granted New AFL Franchises

NEW YORK (AP) — Atlanta and Chicago have been granted the ninth and tenth franchises in the American Football League, Harry Wismer said yesterday. He is president of the New York Titans of the league and also is chairman of the AFL's Expansion Committee.

Wismer said that the Chicago team definitely would play in 1961 and that the Atlanta franchise might get into action at that time if Georgia Tech's Grant Field could be obtained for the season.

Atlanta's new stadium is expected to be completed in time for 1962.

Cage Schedule Is Plenty Tough

By Sandy Padwe
Collegian Sports Editor

Room 235 Rec Hall looks the same as any other coach's office except for a big poster on the door:

Opportunity for travel; see the best basketball teams in the country; entertainment and laughs provided at post-game wakes; inquire within, signed John Egli, booking agent, basketball coach, entertainer, embalmer, etc.

Alongside the poster is Penn State's 1960-61 basketball schedule which is going to be about as enjoyable as a stroll up Mt. Suribachi without a rifle.

The Lions will play 24 games, 16 on the road and 8 at home, and some of the toughest teams in the country will provide the opposition on the road where State has trouble beating even mediocre teams.

As if that's not bad enough, Egli certainly doesn't have the manpower to cope with the likes of Maryland, Duke, Wake Forest, West Virginia, Army, Navy, Denver and Evansville on foreign soil. All he's got are Mark DuMars and Gene Harris, the only two ballplayers who really belong on the same floor with those teams.

In addition, Egli must play arch-rival Syracuse twice at the Onandoga War Memorial, a graveyard for Lion basketball teams. The reason, "it's just a favor with no strings attached," said one State athletic official yesterday.

After a long look at the monstrosity conjured up by the Rec Hall rulers who think of nothing but the dollar sign because they have to atone for past bloopers, one begins to wonder when basketball is going to get a decent break and a chance to get on its feet again here.

1960-61 isn't going to be the year, that's for sure, but two years from now things could start changing if Egli gets some of the boys he's been after since the end of the season.

Fellows like 6-10 Scott Ferguson, one of the hottest prep school players in the country from St. Francis prep near York, Ulo Kart, a 6-8 rebounder from Bridgeton, N.J., and 6-7 Bob Watson from Bethel, Pa. will give Egli a solid nucleus but he's not sure they'll be coming here.

In the meantime, Egli needs something to bridge the gap—if there's going to be one at all—but the schedule makers forgot that.

The answer isn't to make the schedule a pushover so the Lions could coast home with a winning season over mediocre teams, but at least they could have been given a fighting chance.

The way things look now, Penn State's going to find itself licked before it starts. The same thing happened this year when the

American Cage Loop Schedules First Meeting

CHICAGO (AP) — The newly organized American Basketball League will meet here Saturday to discuss final plans for opening play in the 1960-61 season.

The meeting was called by acting president, Abe Saperstein, owner-coach of the independent Harlem Globetrotters.

Lions opened and lost to North Carolina State, Purdue and West Virginia in their first three games.

Egli's boys never recovered from those losses and as a result their confidence was shattered for the rest of the season.

Just how Egli can prevent a recurrence is going to be one of the toughest problems he's run into since he started coaching.

Barring a major miracle, the Lions probably will be 1-5 after their first six games.

They open on the road with Maryland, return home to play Purdue with Terry Dischinger, and then take to the road again for a game at Lehigh, the only one they really have a good chance to win.

After that it's the Charlotte Tournament with Duke, Wake Forest and West Virginia, followed by one of the games at Syracuse. Then comes the Evansville tournament.

No, winning isn't everything. There's a lot more a person and a team can get out of sports and the athlete should be the one to benefit despite any University's gaping pocketbook.

Sports should teach the competitor the will to win and how to be a gracious winner.

Being a good loser is a valuable lesson too, but as one Air Force Academy Athletic Official said in Sports Illustrated, "Our objective is development of guts, aggressiveness and the desire to win. In a national emergency we can't afford good losers."

There's a very good point to be taken from that statement. Around here, the sad fact is that the Penn State basketball team has a defeatist attitude because of the ridiculous schedules it has been subjected to in past years.

The players give everything they have 100 per cent of the time, and they manage to beat the Gettysburgs, Lehighs and Eucknells but when it comes to West Virginia, Navy or Temple it's a different story.

The answer is simple. If the administration wants a schedule like next year's, it should give Egli enough financial help to cope with it. If not, then fill the schedule up with teams of State's caliber and give the players a chance to develop some pride in themselves.

The schedule: Dec. 1, at Maryland; 3, Purdue; 6, at Lehigh; 9-10 Charlotte Tournament (Duke, W. Va., Wake Forest); 20, at Syracuse; 27-28, Evansville Tournament (Evansville, Denver, L.A. State); Jan. 5, Colgate; 7, Carnegie Tech; 10, at Bucknell; 12, at Gettysburg; 14, at Army; Feb. 4, at Navy; 7, Bucknell; 11, Pittsburgh; 14, at West Virginia; 17, at Colgate; 18, at Syracuse; 21, West Virginia; 25, at Pittsburgh; 28, Temple. March 1, at Carnegie Tech; 4, Rutgers.
