

HUB Show Features Student Art

About 500 original works of art by students in art, art education and home arts courses are now on display in the gallery of the Hetzel Union building and in the Temporary building.

The exhibition includes hooked rugs in abstract designs, metallic jewelry and furniture made with an eye to the future as well as paintings, drawings and sculpture.

George Pappas, assistant professor of art education, who is in charge of the exhibition said that the general purpose of the display is to show what students do in the various art courses.

All styles of art from realism to the abstract are represented in the exhibit, and Pappas said this is indicative of what is happening in painting today. The pieces exhibited represent an individual search for a creative statement.

Pappas also said that works in the design area are not to be viewed as finished creations. Designs are basically exercises and experiments which students do to become sensitive to certain materials before they move into other areas, he said.

The variety of art works in the exhibit show the wide range of materials with which art students may work. The majority of paintings are oils and water colors and collages which make use of nearly any material are also included.

Students have sculptured works from plaster, stone, wood and metal, and the drawings exhibited are done in pencil, charcoal and ink.

ROTC Units Continue Meet

The seventh annual Inter-Service Drill Competition for the Milton S. Eisenhower Trophy will be completed at 5:45 p.m. today on the lawn in front of Old Main. Scheduled for last Sunday afternoon on Beaver Field, the competition was changed to the ice skating rink when heavy rains made it impossible to hold the event on Beaver Field.

The standard routine was completed, but because of the wet floor surface the trick routine was not attempted.

Teams entered in the meet are the Army, Navy and Air Force ROTC units and the drill team of Company B-5, Pershing Rifles.

Chem-Phys Council To Establish Grant

The Chemistry-Physics Student Council has set aside $300 to be used for a scholarship program.

Robert Harrison, sophomore from Shamokin, as chairman of the council's scholarship committee, will discuss the possibilities of a Chemistry-Physics Council Scholarship with the administration scholarship office.

In other action, the council empowered an executive committee to investigate the most convenient method of gathering and evaluating data for a course evaluation program within the Chemistry-Physics College.

The Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio Rivers meet at Pittsburgh.

Math Society Exam

Pi Mu Epsilon, mathematics honorary society, will give its annual competitive spring mathematics exam at 7 p.m. on Monday in 121 Sparks.

This contest, which is open to anyone who wants to participate, has no entrance fee. About $50 in prizes will be awarded.

Haverford Prof to Talk

The Russian Area Committee will sponsor a lecture at 8 tonight in the Mineral Industries auditorium by Dr. Holland Hunter, Haverford College, on "Lessons of Soviet Transportation for Underdeveloped Areas."

"Who owns the electric company?"

A lot of our own customers can't answer that one. But there's certainly no secret about it.

The electric company is owned by people. Thousands of people, like you, who invest their money and help the company to grow.

Your electric company is not owned or run by the city. Not by the state either. Not by any kind of government. It is an independent business.

That's an important reason why you get the best possible electric service at such a low price.
