

Paris Awaits Arrival of 'K'

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, his attitude of truculent indignation well advertised in advance, arrives today for a summit meeting which could become a world-shaking wrangle in its first day.

In diplomatic quarters, the atmosphere was one of tense expectancy. One diplomat said: "We should know very quickly whether we're going to have a one-day meeting."

Westerners here for the four-power heads of government meeting opening Monday seemed agreed that the length and prospects of the fateful conference depended upon the Soviet Premier's attitude.

Still breathing angry indignation about the American spy plane flight into the Soviet Union May 1, Khrushchev may be in a mood to come out fighting. If he does, diplomats say President Eisenhower is ready for a toe-to-toe contest.

The American president is ready to inform Khrushchev that the United States considers Soviet secrecy a major source of war fears, and that the United States, therefore, has no choice but to engage in spying.

There was lively speculation on Khrushchev's decision to arrive in Paris 48 hours before the opening of the conference. President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan are not due until Sunday morning.

Some expressed belief Khrushchev was seeking a propaganda head start at the scene of the summit meeting. Others suggested he was anxious to test the atmosphere. If the latter is the case, it seemed likely Khrushchev would be advised, in preliminary talks with President Charles de Gaulle of France, that unless he takes it easy in his approach, the summit meeting is not likely to last long.

Ike Vetoes Depressed Area Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower vetoed a bill yesterday calling for $251 million in federal aid to depressed areas around the country.

Eisenhower said the Democratic-backed bill was too broad and would "squander the federal taxpayers' money where there is only temporary economic difficulty."

He said there is still time to pass a new bill more in line with the $53 million administration measure. If he and Congress could get together on this, he said, it would set a tone for "sound and rewarding legislation in other vital areas," such as mutual security, medical care for the aged, and aid to education, to mention a few.

The President's veto came one week after the Senate passed the depressed areas bill by a vote of 45-32. Like the 201-184 House vote of May 4, this was substantially less than the two-thirds majority needed to override a veto.

The bill would have provided $150 million for loans in depressed industrial and rural areas to try to attract new industries.

'Frisco Rioters Storm City Hall

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — More than 200 jeering demonstrators were doused by fire hoses, scores were arrested and 12 persons were injured yesterday during an attempt to storm a hearing of the House subcommittee on Un-American Activities.

A policeman who closed the hearing room door and announced no more could be accommodated was knocked to the floor and beaten with his own club.

Then the crowd—mostly young people—surged toward the door, to be met by a powerful spray from fire hoses.

Inside the committee room, little progress was made toward pinning down Communist activities in the San Francisco Bay area. Some half-dozen witnesses balked at answering questions and six persons had to be forcibly ejected.

It was the second day of the hearings and the second day of disturbances. Thursday, shouting demonstrators outside made so much noise the hearing was delayed more than 30 minutes.

Space Rocket Flunks Mission

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Thor-Delta, newest of the nation's workhorse space rockets, flunked its initial mission yesterday when it failed to boost a huge balloon communication satellite into orbit.

The 100-foot, aluminum-coated plastic sphere, which would have been the largest satellite ever sent aloft, vanished in space.

Tracking stations lost contact with the rocket after a dramatic launching.

Best guess, said a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, was that the satellite plunged into the Atlantic, perhaps still attached to one or two of the rocket stages.

Folded into a 26½-inch magnesium ball, the balloon was scheduled to pop out of its container and inflate to the size of a 10-story building after orbit.

Apartheid Talks Begin

LONDON (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld and South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw began talks yesterday on the United Nations resolution calling for modifications of the white supremacy policy.

Symington Given Trumans' Support

CHICAGO (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman yesterday endorsed his Missouri political protégé Sen Stuart Symington, as "without doubt the best qualified man" for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I am as sure as I can be that if the Democrats nominate him, he will have no difficulty in carrying a tremendous majority of the electoral votes in November."

As president, Truman gave Symington several important assignments, among them Secretary of the Air Force in the reorganized Defense Department where, Truman said, his performance was outstanding.

Attorney-General Opens Corruption Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department yesterday indicated it is opening a grand jury investigation of alleged bribery, conflict of interest and influence peddling in government affairs.

It filed in District Court papers authorizing three attorneys of the department staff to prepare and present cases to the grand jury.

YOU WON'T REST ON YOUR LAURELS AT IBM

OUTSTANDING CAREER TRAINING KEEPS YOU LEARNING AND GROWING: at IBM, qualified college graduates rapidly develop a broad understanding of the many worlds of business. IBM Sales Representatives, for example, learn to work with the top executives of different firms, helping them introduce modern data processing techniques.

Whether you're majoring in engineering, science, math, business administration, or liberal arts, you should know about us and about the varied careers we have to offer. See your Placement Officer for more information. If we have already interviewed on this campus, and you did not get to see us, please write or call:
