

Haines Wins Top Honors At TIM Dinner

Philip Haines received the Presidential Award of the Town Independent Men at the council banquet Saturday night at the State College Elks Club.

Selected for the Outstanding Town Independent Man Award was Frank Jankosky, outgoing TIM vice president Ralph Levy, former TIM secretary, received the award as Outstanding Non-Senior Town Independent Man.

William H. Hassler, assistant to the dean of men, presented the awards.

Newly elected TIM officers were also installed. They are: Philip Haines, president; Fred Phanco, vice president; Richard Ashe, secretary; and Frank Burkett, treasurer.

Program to Aid Cardiac Cases

A conference to help cardiac homemakers learn methods for conserving energy in the performance of their household tasks will be held on May 31 at the University.

Dr. Eugene H. Mateer, president of the Centre County Heart Association, will speak at the opening session on "Your Heart and Your Homemaking Job."

While this conference will only enroll 30 cardiac homemakers, it is hoped that it will be the beginning of a larger program that will eventually benefit cardiac homemakers from all parts of Pennsylvania.

L. Jeanne Riebel, associate professor of home management and home equipment, and Janice N. Chennault, instructor in home management, will conduct the program. Edna E. Sommerfeld, assistant dean for continuing education in the College of Home Economics, will serve as program chairman.

all set to roll...

The Daily Collegian BICYCLE DERBY

Oh, those women drivers! Think they're bad on the road? Wait 'til you see the battle of the bicycles at The Collegian Bicycle Derby Day. Strictly coed, strictly fun, strictly free. Spend a swinging Saturday at Derby Day. Where? In the campus parking lot between Old Beaver Field and the Chapel.

See you there!
